THE CALENDAR.

Into the Calendar for this year, the exact time of sunset at Colombo has been introduced, that persons by merely noting the moment at which the lower limb of the sun dips into the sea, may set their watches correctly. It was expected from the well known irregularity of refractions at the horizon, that the calculated would not come nearer the observed time, than five or six seconds: this expectation has fortunately not been realized—a careful comparison with a well regulated chronometer shewing, that the times set down in the Calendar may be depended on to a single second. It was merely with the intention of supplying to Colombo a ready means of setting time-keepers that these tables were introduced, but to enable persons on the whole western coast, wherever the sun can be seen setting in the sea, to keep their watches regulated to mean time—to effect this a supplementary table has been added, as yet only extended to four outstations, (it can easily be to others if desired,) which gives a small number of minutes and seconds, to be added to, or subtracted from, the time in the Calendar. This correction varies with the time of year being greatest at the solstices, and is only given to every five seconds, which is near enough for all practical purposes; and is taken from the table and applied as follows:

Suppose a person on the bank behind Calpentyne overlooking the sea, observes the lower limb of the sun just dipping into the sea at 6 o'clock by his watch on the 15th January—In the Calendar he finds that the lower limb sets at Colombo at 6h. 0m. 19s. and in the supplementary table opposite January 15th he perceives in the 1st column 2m. 5s. which at the top of the column is directed to be subtracted; therefore 5h. 58m. 14s. is the exact time of setting at Calpentyne, and as his watch shewed 6h. 0m. it is 1m. 46s. fast.—At Galle on the same day, the minutes and seconds to be added are 1m. 26s. which, as directed, must be added, not subtracted, on account of Galle being south of Colombo.

Aphorisms are not strictly necessary in an Almanac which has especial relation to the courses of the seasons, and to other matters of temporary interest; but in a book which every body consults, an expressive sentence, accidentally striking the attention, may suggest a virtuous resolve, or divert from a meditated error.—These useful remarks are texts for each man to enlarge upon in his own thoughts.

The virtue of prosperity is temperance; the virtue of adversity is fortitude.—Lord Bacon.

Let not the blessings we receive daily from God, make us not to value, or not to praise him, because they be common.—Walton.

He who spends all he gets, is on the road to beggary.

Spare with both hands, spend only with one.

If you save not when you are single, how can you do so when you are wed?

It is twice as good to save early as to save late.

We observe a contrariety in some maxims to one another.—Pope, the poet, has a line—"A little learning is a dangerous thing"—which is often repeated, as a maxim, by those who have but a very little themselves. We have also this other maxim,—"half a loaf is better than no bread," and this is certainly true of bread. Is it not likely to be true of knowledge also? Try it in a few practical cases. A little knowledge of navigation is better to the sailor than no knowledge. A little knowledge of soils, and seasons, and cropping, and stock, is better for the farmer farmer. than no knowledge. A little knowledge of tailoring is better to the tailor than no knowledge. A little knowledge of anatomy is better to the surgeon than no knowledge. The truth is, that much knowledge is the best thing; a little knowledge the next best; no knowledge the worst of all. The line of the poet is good in the sense, bad in the sense.

The laboring man, in the present age, if he does but read, has more helps to wisdom than Solomon had.

A grain of prudence is worth a pound of craft.

Hear much and speak little, for the tongue is the instrument of the greatest good and the greatest evil that is done in the world.—Sir W. Raleigh.
 Corrupt company is more infectious than corrupt air.—Lord Burleigh.
 He that knoweth useful things, not he that knoweth many things, is the wise man.
 The most common things are the most useful; which shews both the wisdom and goodness of the great Lord of the family of the world.

Order in affairs is one of the things on which a man's success in life especially depends; the rules of order are mostly summed up in these two precepts:—

1. A place for every thing, and every thing in its place.

2. A time for every thing, and every thing in its time.

He that will have the kernel, must crack the shell.

Poverty wants some, luxury many, avarice, all, things.—Cowley.

The great mass of mankind are destined inevitably to live by labor; some undoubtedly exempted from the necessity of working; they are few in comparison the number who must submit to live by industry;—but the wealth of the rich has from labor;—capital, money and property, are no more than savings made from the produce of labor, beyond the portion which was required for the preservation of individuals who have worked to raise it. Upon these grounds, the rich are as justly entitled to their large possessions as the cottager to his cottage.

Concealment is a species of lie, and always betokens cowardice at the heart.

All false appearances are lies; all shuffling and prevarications are lies.

One of the greatest objects of education is, that children, as is expressed in the church catechism, should learn and labor truly to get their own living, and to do their duty in that state of life unto which it shall please God to call them.

Our physical well-being, our moral worth, our social happiness, our tranquility,—all depend on that control of our appetites and passions, the ancients designated by the cardinal virtue of temperance.—Burke.

Of all poverty, that of the mind is the most deplorable.

Remember that it makes a fault worse to endeavor to conceal it.

Fine sense and exalted sense are not half so useful as common sense.—Swift.

An uncultivated mind, like unmanured ground, will soon be overrun with weeds.

Education and Instruction are the means,—the one by use; the other by precept,—to make our natural faculty of reason both the better and the sooner to judge rightly between truth and error, good and evil.

Ardent Spirits, of every description, are in their natures and ordinary effects, extremely unfriendly to the human constitution; and the art of distillation is, beyond all ingenuity of man ever devised.—Dr. Graham.

Forget not in thy youth to be mindful of thy end, for though the old man cannot live long, yet the young man may die quickly.—Lord Burleigh.

Be master of thy anger.

If you would form a solid friendship, consult not only the heart but the head, not only the temper but the understanding.

"L'homme propose, et Dieu dispose," is never truer than in the great matter of matrimony.

Bishop Heber's Golden Rule.—Blessed are they that expect nothing, for they shall not be disappointed.

CHRONOLOGICAL CYCLES.

Dominical Letter.....	GF	Julian Period.....	6557
Epaet	11	Roman Indiction	2
Golden Number	2	Solar Cycle	5

The Solar Cycle, or Cycle of the Sun, is a period of 28 years, in which all the varieties of the Dominical Letters will have happened, and they will return in the same order as they did 28 years before. This Cycle commenced 9 years before the Birth of Christ.

The Lunar Cycle, or Cycle of the Moon, commonly called the Golden Number, (and sometimes the Metonic Cycle, from Meton, an Athenian, who invented it about 432 years before the Birth of Christ), is a revolution of 19 years; in which time, the conjunctions, oppositions, and other aspects of the Moon, are within an hour and a half of being the same as they were on the same days of the months 19 years before. The prime, or Golden Number, is the number of years elapsed in this Cycle. At the Birth, the Golden Number was 2.

The Roman Indiction is a period of 15 years, used by the Romans for the time of taxing their provinces. Three years of this Cycle had elapsed at the Birth of Christ.

The Julian Period contains 7980 years, and arises by multiplying together 28, 19, and 15, being the Cycles of the Sun, Moon, and Indiction. This was also contrived as a period for chronological matters, and is assumed as a correct and fixed rule in calculations, by all the astronomers and chronologers throughout the Christian world. Its beginning is supposed to have commenced 710 years before the usual date of the creation of the world, or 4714 before the commencement of the Christian Era.

The letters for the first, second, and third years after every bissextile, are the three single letters placed under the double letters, in the same column with the bissextile they immediately follow. For example, as the Dominical letters for 1600 were B A, so the Dominical letter for 1601 was C, for 1602 F, and for 1603 E. So for 1796 the Dominical will be C B; consequently, 1797, 1798, and 1799 must have A, G, and F: and the letter for 1800, (which is to be accounted a common year,) will be E; therefore 1801, 1802, and 1803, must have the subsequent letters D, C; and B; and then 1804, being bissextile, will come under the letters A G: and from thence every fourth year will be Leap-year.

Under the word years, find the year; above which is the Dominical letter for that year: then against the months find the same letter, over which are placed the days of the month, for every Sunday in the month. In Leap-year, for January and February, use the letter above the blank space before the year; for all the rest of the months, use the letter for the year.

To find out when it is Leap-year, divide the year by 4; if there is no remainder, it is Leap-year; and if any remainder, it is 1, 2, or 3 years after Leap-year.

EXPLANATIONS OF FEASTS AND FESTIVALS.

THE DAY OF CIRCUMCISION, OR NEW YEAR'S DAY.—This day was kept as a festival by the Greeks, in which they celebrated the completion of the sun's annual course, and rejoiced that it had again begun its enlivening progress; and in honor of Janus, by the Romans, who were in the habit of sending presents of dried figs, dates covered with leaf-gold, also honey and other sweetmeats, to their friends; expressing a wish that they might enjoy the sweets of the year into which they had just entered; they also visited and congratulated each other, and offered up vows for mutual preservation. The Day of Circumcision was instituted in the Christian Church, by Pope Felix III., A.D. 487, under the denomination of the Octave of Christmas; and introduced into the English Liturgy in 1550 in commemoration of the Circumcision of Jesus Christ, according to the Jewish ritual, on the 8th day after his nativity.

The First of January having been observed by Pagan nations as a day of rejoicing, and for offering up sacrifices to the idol Janus, the primitive Christians celebrated it as a Fast, in order to avoid even the semblance of joining in their customs and worship. According to the catholic legends, it was held in such high esteem by the Romans, that they would not sully it even by martyring the Christians at such a joyful period. It is still kept as a holiday throughout the several nations of Europe and America; the bells of most of the churches being rung at midnight to welcome the New Year.

EPIPHANY, TWELFTH DAY, OR OLD CHRISTMAS DAY.—This day is kept as a festival throughout Christendom, in commemoration of the manifestation, or appearance, of Christ upon earth. The early Christians celebrated the feast of the Nativity of Jesus, during twelve days; namely, from Christmas, the day of his birth, until the twelfth day onwards: the first and last of these days were denominated Epiphany; namely, the greater and the lesser Epiphany; and they were observed with the greatest solemnity. The first, or greater one, was celebrated on account of Christ having, on that day, become incarnate, or assumed the human form; or, as the scriptural writers have it, "made his appearance in the flesh." The second, or lesser Epiphany, was observed on account of three manifestations, or appearances, which were all thought to have taken place on this day, although not in the same year; the first was the star which conducted the Magi, or wise men, from the east towards Bethlehem; the second, the descent of the Holy Ghost, in the form of a dove, at the baptism of Christ in the river Jordan; and the third, the turning of the water into wine, at the marriage at Cana, which was the first miracle that Jesus performed.

The EPIPHANY, or Twelfth Day, appears to have been observed as a separate Feast in the year 813; but Pope Julius I. is said to have distinguished the Feast of the Nativity and Epiphany, so early as the middle of the fourth century.

In order to commemorate the offerings of the ancient Magi, the King of Great Britain, either personally, or through his Grand Chamberlain, annually offers a quantity of gold, frankincense and myrrh, on this day, at the altar of the Chapel Royal, St. James's. In Spain, where Epiphany is called the Feast of the Three Kings, the Sovereign is accustomed to make similar offerings.

From the circumstances of this festival being held twelve days after Christmas, it has derived the common name of TWELFTH DAY; by which appellation it is most generally known. Throughout Christendom, it is the custom to provide a fruit cake for each family, thence denominated Twelfth Cake.

England is not singular in the festive observance of Twelfth Day: for nearly the whole of Europe practises the like customs; which differ only in a few particular points arising from national, political, or religious prejudices. In Roman Catholic countries, the carnival commences on TWELFTH DAY, and usually lasts till Lent. Lighting fires in the wheat-fields on this day, is still common in some parts of Hereford and Gloucestershire; and in the evening concludes with feasting and dancing:—a similar custom in Scotland and Ireland, is denominated Belleign; that is, "The fire of the god Baal."

CANDLEMAS DAY. PURIFICATION OF THE VIRGIN MARY.—The feast of the Purification of the Blessed Virgin was formerly celebrated in this country, (and is still in Roman Catholic ones,) by torch-light processions and by the performance of Mass with a multitude of Candles in the several churches. These customs are said to have been derived from the Romans, who went about their city with lighted torches on this day, in honor of Februa, the mother of Mars, and to have been introduced into the church of Rome, by Pope Sergius. Such practices were continued in England, until the second year of the reign of Edward the Sixth, when Archbishop Cranmer suppressed them, by order of the King's Privy Council.

Anciently, this day was called that of Christ's Presentation; and in the Reformed Church it is still kept as a solemn festival in memory of the humiliation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, who, whilst submitting to the law which enjoined personal purification after child-birth, presented the infant Jesus in the Temple; for, to render the first-born son holy unto the Lord, it was enjoined by the Mosaic ordinances, (see Leviticus, ch. xii.) that attendance should be given in the Temple, and that an offering should at the same time be made of money, or sacrifice. The Virgin Mary accordingly attended with her first-born on the Fortieth day, and presented a pair of doves,—that being the offering suitable to her circumstances. From this pious obedience to the law, on the part of the Mother of our Lord, rose the rite of Churching women after child-birth; but, as the ancient Mosaic institution has been abrogated by the new and more perfect law, no other sacrifice than that of the heart is now enjoined; nor is any precise day fixed for the public performance of this act of piety.

SEPTUAGESIMA SUNDAY.—The three Sundays and weeks that precede LENT, have long been distinguished by the names of Septuagesima, Sexagesima, and Quinquagesima; which terms signify the Seventieth, Sixtieth, and Fiftieth. Many fanciful and absurd reasons have been assigned for these titles; but the most satisfactory one is as follows. When the words were first applied to denote the Sundays in question, the season of Lent had generally been extended to a fast of six weeks, or thirty-six days, exclusive of Sundays, which were always celebrated as festivals. At this time, likewise, the Sunday which we call the First Sunday in Lent, was styled, simply, QUADRAGESIMA, or the Fortieth day before Easter; and Lent itself was denoted the Quadragesimal, or Forty days' Fast. Now, when the three weeks before Quadragesima ceased to be considered as weeks after the Epiphany, and were appointed to be observed as a time of preparation for LENT, it was perfectly conformable to the ordinary mode of computation, to reckon backwards, and, for the sake of even and round numbers, to count by decates or tens; therefore the compilers of the new ritual and of the proper offices, naturally styled the first Sunday before Quadragesima, Quinquagesima; the second, Sexagesima; and the third, Septuagesima.—See SHEPHERD'S Elucidation of the Book of Common Prayer.

SHROVE TUESDAY.—This, which is the day preceding the first day of Lent, is so called from the Saxon word shrive, to confess; hence Shrove Tuesday signifies Confession Tuesday, because, in Popish times, the people in every parish, throughout England, were obliged, one by one, to confess to their own parish priest, and in their own parish church. And that this might be done the more regularly, the great bell in every parish was rung at 10 o'clock, or perhaps sooner, so that all might attend. This custom of ringing the great bell in our ancient parish churches still continues; but, among the country people it has the name of pancake bell, because, after confession, it was anciently the custom to dine on pancakes and fritters. A most barbarous practice once prevailed of throwing at cocks with sticks, called swingels, on Shrove Tuesday; the poor birds were staked to the ground, and their owners, for a certain sum, permitted the bystanders to throw at them;—this cruelty has, however, been discontinued.

ASH WEDNESDAY. THE FIRST DAY OF LENT.—Ash Wednesday was originally so called from a custom among the Christians of the ancient church, of penitents expressing humiliation for their sins, by appearing in the church in sack-cloth and ashes, having ashes sprinkled on their heads, when admitted to do penance. For such discipline is now substituted the public reading of the curses denounced against impenitent sinners, the people saying "Amen" after each malediction. The word LENT in the ancient language signifies spring; therefore, this was denominated the Spring Fast, or Lenten Fast; that is, the time of humiliation and prayer observed by Christians before EASTER. At what period forty days were appointed for this solemn fast is unknown; but it seems probable that those who fixed that space of time, had respect to the forty days' fast of our Saviour in the wilderness.

LADY DAY.—This day is honored, and celebrated throughout the Christian world, under the title of The Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, or the day on which Almighty God sent his Angel Gabriel to announce to her the fulfilment, in her person, of the prophecy of Isaiah,—Behold a virgin shall conceive and bear a son, &c.; to proclaim the glad tidings of great joy, on which rest the very basis of the Christian's faith, and his consequent hope of redemption. This festival is of great antiquity: the latest date assigned to its establishment is the seventh century, while some authorities, of no light consideration, refer it to the year 350. In civil calculations, Lady Day is the first of the four quarter-days, as they are called, of the year; that is, days on which rents, annuities, interest of money, and any other sums of money payable quarterly, become due; and on which tenancy of lands, houses, &c. commence and terminate.

PALM SUNDAY.—The Sunday before Easter, commonly called PALM SUNDAY, has, from the earliest period, been held in high respect; “as the anniversary of our Saviour’s last entry into Jerusalem, when the people took branches of palm, and went forth to meet him, and cried Hosanna: blessed is the King of Israel, who cometh in the name of the Lord.” Although Roman Catholic ceremonies were generally abrogated by King Henry VIII., yet he made an exception in favor of the custom of bearing palm on this day, which was accordingly continued until the second year of King Edward VI.; and though no longer a religious ceremony, it is still customary in the neighbourhood of London, and in other parts of England, for men and boys to go “palming,” as it is called, early in the morning of this day; that is, to collect branches of the willow or willow tree, just then in full bud, with which they decorate their persons and houses. This day is also called by our Church, Passion Sunday, as the first day of Passion Week.

GOOD FRIDAY; a day which, from the earliest records of Christianity, has ever been held as a day of solemn fast, in awful remembrance of the Crucifixion of our blessed Saviour. Our Saxon ancestors called it LONG FRIDAY, from the length of the offices and fasting on that day; but its ancient and appropriate title was HOLY FRIDAY, by which it is still sometimes distinguished, as the whole of the week in which it occurs is by the name of Holy or Passion Week. The custom of eating on this day buns marked with a cross, is a remaining fragment of some of the superstitious observances of our ancestors connected with this day.

EASTER SUNDAY, OR EASTER DAY.—If Good Friday is kept as a day of solemn fast and humiliation, this is no less one of joy and thanksgiving throughout all Christendom, as being set apart for the commemoration of our blessed Saviour’s resurrection from the dead. It was anciently called the Great Day, the Feast of Feasts, and the Sunday of Joy. It is the most important, in secular transactions, of the moveable feasts, inasmuch as the day on which Easter falls, regulates all the rest. The first Sunday after the full moon immediately following the 21st of March, is ordained to be kept as Easter Sunday. Easter Day cannot fall earlier than the 22d of March, nor later than the 25th of April, in any year, and hence these two days have obtained the appellation of Easter Limits.

ROGATION SUNDAY received, and retains its title from the Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, which follow it, and which are called rogation days, from the latin word rogare, to beseech,—the earliest Christians having appropriated extraordinary prayers and supplications for these three days, as a preparation for the devout observance of our Saviour's Ascension on the day next succeeding them, namely Holy Thursday, or Ascension Day. In the reformed ritual, however, this day is simply called the "Fifth Sunday after Easter."

HOLY THURSDAY, OR ASCENSION DAY.---On this day the church celebrates the glorious Ascension of the Messiah into heaven, the fortieth day after his resurrection from the dead. The Apostles frequently during that period conversed with our Lord, in proof of his life after death, and were, with others, to the number of 500, afforded a positive testimony of the resurrection of the Redeemer, who, the more fully to confirm their faith, and to comfort and uphold them in their future trials, ascended to the realm of bliss in their presence. This important festival has been constantly held on the Thursday next but one before Whit Sunday, even so early, according to some authors, as the year 68.

WHIT SUNDAY, OR PENTECOST.---The Christian Church, at a very early period, set apart this day as a solemn festival, in perpetual commemoration of the miraculous descent of the Holy Ghost on the Apostles then assembled together in one place, when "suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled the house where they were sitting; and there appeared to them cloven tongues as of fire, which sat upon each of them; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance." The origin of the appellation of Whit Sunday has given rise to much learned and minute discussion, but the common derivation of White Sunday, from the candidates for baptism being clothed in white, seems the most probable.

TRINITY SUNDAY.---This is always the Sunday next following the day of Pentecost, or Whit Sunday, and from this Sunday all the rest take their denomination until Advent Sunday.

ADVENT SUNDAY.---The season of Advent has been observed in all ages of the Church with peculiar reverence, as a solemn preparation for the festival of Christmas, and to impress our minds with a due sense of the inestimable blessings conferred on us by the coming of our blessed Saviour in the flesh, as well as to warn us most emphatically of his second Advent, when he will come with his holy angels to judge both the quick and the dead. To this end all the services which our Church has appointed for the four Advent Sundays, tend, and their due observance must have the effect of cherishing the growth of grateful piety in our hearts.

CHRISTMAS DAY, OR THE FEAST OF THE NATIVITY.---At what precise period, or why this particular day was set apart for the commemoration of our blessed Saviour's birth, is no where precisely accounted for; yet we may be assured that its observance is of the highest antiquity, since, so early as the fourth century, it was the custom of pious persons to date any remarkable event from the Festival of the Incarnation, which then, as now, was celebrated on this day.

USEFUL HINTS FOR HOME, &c.

HEALTH.—Sir Astley Cooper states, that the methods he employed for preserving his own health were:—temperance, early rising, and sponging the body with cold water every morning, immediately after getting out of bed. This practice, he says, he adopted for thirty years; and, though he went from the hot lecture-rooms of the hospital into the squares, in the severest winter nights, with merely silk stockings on his legs, yet he scarcely ever had a cold.

THE EYES.—Curtis, in his Treatise on the Eye, in regard to foreign bodies being forced into the eye by various causes, such as a gust of wind, mending a pen, &c., observes, that the method taken to remove them is generally unsuited to the end. The eyelids are first rubbed with the hand, which always produces unpleasant sensations, and not unfrequently inflammation, there being danger of forcing the offending substance into the eye, whence it cannot, without considerable difficulty, be removed. The proper mode of proceeding in such cases is as follows:—

“Let the head be leaned forward, and the upper eyelid raised by the person suffering, who will be more gentle than another can be; by this means he will commonly succeed in expelling it. The natural consequence of raising the eyelid, and retaining it in that position, is a flow of tears, which bring with them the intruding body, or carry it towards the canthus of the eye next to the nose, whence it may easily be removed. Should this, however, prove ineffectual, the finger may be gently passed over the eyelid, towards the nose, a few times, which seldom fails to cause the substance to descend to the lacrymal glands, and thus be dislodged.

“But should he still be unsuccessful, then it will be advisable to let another person introduce, between the eyelid and the ball, a small hair-pencil dipped in cream, beginning at the outer corner, and proceeding towards the nose, which usually effects the desired object. Further from this I would warn unprofessional individuals from going; as a serious lasting injury may be done to so delicate an organ before they are aware of it.

“When the eye has been stung by insects, such as wasps, bees, gnats, &c., the first thing to be done is to ascertain if the sting is left behind, and if so, to extract it by means of a small pair of forceps. Beyond that, all friction is dangerous, and will produce inflammation. The following is a simple mode of dissipating any incipient swell caused by such accidents. Mix a small quantity of vinegar with water, and apply it to the part affected.”

SIMPLE CURE FOR THE RHEUMATISM.—Boil a small pot full of potatoes, and bathe the parts affected with the liquor in which they were boiled as hot as you can bear it, just before going to bed. The pains will be removed or greatly alleviated by the next morning. Some of the most obstinate rheumatic pains have been cured by one application of this simple remedy.—Magazine of Domestic Economy.

TOOTH-ACHE.—At a meeting of the London Medical Society, Dr. Blake stated, “that he was able to cure the most desperate cases of tooth-ache (unless the disease was connected with rheumatism) by the application of the following remedy to the decayed tooth:—Alum, reduced to an impalpable powder, two drachms; nitrous spirit of ether, seven drachms. Mix and apply them to the tooth.”

Kreosote, which may be obtained at any chemist's, has also been found very useful.

TO PREVENT DROWNING.—Sinking in the water is occasioned by holding the arms above water, the unbuoyed weight of which depresses the head. When a man falls into deep water he will rise to the surface, and continue there, if he does not elevate his hands. If he moves his hands under water, in any manner, his head will rise high enough to allow him liberty to breathe; and if he moves his legs as if in the act of walking upstairs, his shoulders will rise above water, so that he may use less exertion with his hands.

SUSPENDED ANIMATION IF APPARENTLY DROWNED.—CAUTIONS. I. Lose no time.—2. Avoid all rough usage.—3. Never hold the body up by the feet.—4. Nor roll the body on casks.—5. Nor rub the body with salts or spirits.—6. Nor inject tobacco-smoke or infusion of tobacco.

RESTORATIVE MEANS.—Send quickly for medical assistance, but do not delay the following means:—I. Convey the body carefully, with the head and shoulders supported in a raised position, to the nearest house.—II. Strip the body and rub it dry; then wrap it in hot blankets, and place it in a warm bed in a warm chamber.—III. Wipe and cleanse the mouth and nostrils.—IV. In order to restore the natural warmth of the body: 1. Move a heated covered warming pan over the back and spine.—2. Put bladders or bottles of hot water or heated bricks to the pit of the stomach, the arm-pits, between the thighs, and to the soles of the feet.—3. Foment the body with hot flannels; but, if possible,—4. Immerse the body in a warm bath as hot as the hand can bear without pain, as this is preferable to the other means for restoring warmth.—5. Rub the body briskly with the hand; do not, however, suspend the use of the other means at the same time.—V. In order to restore breathing, introduce the pipe of a common bellows into one nostril, carefully closing the other and the mouth; at the same time drawing downwards, and pushing gently backward, the upper part of the windpipe, to allow a more free admission of air; blow the bellows gently, in order to inflate the lungs, till the breast be a little raised; the mouth and nostrils should then be set free, and a moderate pressure made with the hand upon the chest. Repeat this process till life appears.—VI. Electricity to be employed early by a medical assistant.—VII. Inject into the stomach, by means of an elastic tube and syringe, half a pint of warm brandy and water, or wine and water.—VIII. Apply sal volatile or hartshorn to the nostrils.

On restoration to life, a tea-spoonful of warm water should be given; and then, if the power of swallowing be returned, small quantities of warm wine, or weak brandy and water, warm; the patient should be kept in bed, and a disposition to sleep encouraged. Great care is requisite to maintain the restored vital actions, and at the same time to prevent undue excitement.

This treatment, recommended by the Royal Humane Society, is to be persevered in for three or four hours.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST LIGHTNING.—When overtaken by lightning, instead of getting under a tree, or standing by a wall, hedge, &c., rather seek those places which are most open; as the middle of a field where there are no high objects very near. It is particularly dangerous to stand near leaden spouts, iron gates, or palisadoes; for metals of all kinds have a powerful attraction for the electric fluid. Lakes and large collections of water, and even streams, particularly those which are the result of recent rains, should be avoided. When at home during a thunder-storm, the best situation is the middle of the room, where one may seat himself on a hair mattress or thick woollen rug. Avoid the fire-place, the wire-ropes, and indeed every description of metallic article.

CLOTHES ON FIRE.—Flame ascends upwards; therefore when the clothes of a female catch fire, she should directly throw herself on the floor, and roll round; if there be at hand a carpet, rug, blanket &c., or any thing which she can wrap round herself, she should immediately press it round her, and roll on the floor. Avoid rushing out of the door, for the current of air imparts energy and power to the devouring element.

TO EXTINGUISH A CHIMNEY ON FIRE.—Shut the doors and windows, throw water on the fire in the grate, and then stop up the bottom of the chimney.

COOKERY FOR THE SICK.

For the successful treatment of many complaints, we often depend more upon the cook than upon the doctor, and it is, therefore, of consequence that in every family there should be some one acquainted with the manner of preparing aliments most suited to a weak digestion, or to the season of returning health. Subjoined are a few receipts for this purpose, recommended for their simplicity and economy.

BEEF TEA.—To one pound of lean beef, cut in slices, add a quart of water; let it gently simmer for twenty minutes, and skim it clean. If wanted in haste, it will now be ready, but it would be better if simmered half an hour longer.

MUTTON BROTH.—One pound and a half of neck of mutton; three pints of water. Pare the skin and the fat off the mutton, and let it stew in the water very gently. Take off the scum, and let it continue to simmer for an hour; then strain it off. It should be left to become cold, when all the greasy particles coming to and hardening on the surface can be readily removed, and the broth can be drawn off quite clear from the settlings to be re warmed.

BARLEY WATER.—To two quarts of water put two ounces of pearl or Scotch barley; when it boils, strain it very clear, then put fresh water to it with a bit of lemon peel, and let it boil gently till reduced to nearly one half. Strain it off, and add sugar and lemon-juice to the taste. If lemon cannot be readily procured, about half an ounce of cream of tartar will give to the drink a pleasant flavor.

If required in haste, barley-water may be made with prepared barley, in little more than ten minutes.

BARLEY MILK.—Half a pound of pearl barley, one quart of milk, and half a pint of water. Boil for three hours and a half, strain the drink and sweeten with sugar.

RICE GRUEL.—Wash a quarter of a pound of rice in water, then put to it a pint and a quarter of new milk, and six or seven grains of all-spice; stew the whole gently until the rice is sufficiently tender to pulp through a sieve; return the pulp and the milk into the pan; simmer for ten minutes. If too thick, add very gradually a small quantity more of milk or water; add sugar to the taste.

Another cheaper and very nice gruel may be obtained with less trouble. Boil gently a quarter of a pound of rice in two pints and a half of water during four hours, the rice will then be quite dissolved, forming, with the water, a thick gruel; add nutmeg and sugar. This simple nourishment may be found extremely serviceable in some disorders.

WATER GRUEL.—Stir two table-spoonsful of oatmeal by degrees in a pint of water, and, when smooth, boil it for five minutes, stirring it all the time. Butter and salt are sometimes taken with this, or sugar and nutmeg. To convert it into caudle, add a little ale, wine, or brandy.

WATER GRUEL MADE WITH GROATS.—Boil a table-spoonful of groats for two hours in a pint of water, occasionally stirring it.

SAGO.—Soak a tea-cupful of sago in cold water for an hour; pour this off and wash it well, then set it with a quart of water to simmer by the fire; lemon-peel and all-spice may be added; when it looks clear, then it is sufficiently boiled; add wine and sugar. It may likewise be made with milk instead of water, omitting the wine.

ARROW-ROOT.—Take a tea-spoonful of arrow-root, and mix it with double its quantity of cold water; pour this gradually into a quarter of a pint of boiling water while yet on the fire, stirring it all the time; this will immediately thicken the water to the consistence of gruel; add a dessert-spoonful of wine, some grated nutmeg, and a little sugar: for infants, the wine and nutmeg must be omitted. Arrow-root, like sago, is also extremely nice made with milk instead of water, the quantity to be used of course varying with the thickness required.

VINEGAR WHEY.—Pour into boiling milk as much vinegar as will separate the curds from the whey; strain this off, and dilute with hot water to an agreeable acid, and sweeten with sugar.

TREACLE POSSET is made in a manner nearly similar to whey, treacle being used instead of vinegar. When the curd has subsided, strain off the posset, to which it is not necessary to make any additions.

BREAD JELLY.—Toast a slice of bread very dry and brown, pour water over this sufficient to cover it, and let it boil very gently; as the water evaporates, more is added during four hours, it will then be a complete jelly, strain it, and as it is used add some sugar and a little new milk. This is a very light, nourishing food for an invalid.

On superscription to be written "Immediate" when it will forthwith be attended to.

TREASURER TO GOVERNMENT
 REGISTRAR OF THE SUPREME COURT } Commissioners.
 J. STEUART, ESQ. £200

RULES

1st—Respecting Loans.

Original rules framed in accordance with the order of the Supreme Court, dated 15th July 1834.

1. THE Titles must be produced, where real property is offered as security.

2. The Articles themselves, where gold, silver &c. is offered.

3. The property hypothecated must appear to be equal in value, if real property, to one-third more than the sum required to be borrowed; or, if it consists of gold, silver, &c., one-fourth more. But if the property offered for hypothecation by the borrower, fall short of that amount, the property of another person may be received to make up the deficiency. In such case, the person so contributing must be a party to the bond, which will state the circumstance of the case.

4. Every applicant must, besides the property hypothecated, enter into a bond with two securities for the repayment of the principal sum borrowed, whenever the same shall be demanded, and of the interest as it becomes due.

Order of the Supreme Court dated 21st November 1833.

5. Each of the sureties will be required to give such an account of his property as may satisfy the Board that he is worth the amount of half the sum borrowed, after payment of all his debts; and should the Board deem it necessary, he shall be required to make affidavit to the truth of his statement.

Original rules as above.

6. If the borrower should be unable to procure persons to become securities for him, the Board will, at its discretion, waive this condition, on the borrower pledging property to double the value of the sum required.

If either of the securities should not have property to the value of the sum borrowed, others may be added, not exceeding four in all, to make up the deficiency.

Where the securities intend to rely on landed property in proving themselves worth the sum required, they should bring with them the title by which they hold such landed property, (provided it be not mortgaged,) when they attend for the purpose of justifying.

Original rules as above.

7. A Certificate, a copy of which will be given by the Clerk of the Board, must be obtained from the Collector of the District, (Agent of the Province,) in which the applicant resides, that neither himself nor either of his securities is a Government Renter or Security for a Government Renter.

Order of Court—
21st November 1833.

In all cases in which the Board may deem it necessary, the oath of the parties (principal or security) will be required, in addition to the Collector's certificate, to the effect that he is not a Government Debtor or Renter, or Security for any such persons.

Original rules as above.

8. The property offered for hypothecation must in all cases be valued at the expense of the applicant by appraisers to be appointed by the Board; and the applicant must, if required, deposit with the Clerk of the Board the per-centage, to which the appraisers will be entitled, and which will be settled by the Board.

N. B. The rate allowed in ordinary circumstances is $\frac{1}{2}$ per Cent on the amount of the Loan.

Order of Supreme Court dated 15th December 1850.

Government Regulation No. 9 of 1834.

9. The Interest to be paid on all Loans is 7 per Cent, which is to be paid monthly; in default of which parate execution may be taken out for the recovery of the same.

2d—Respecting Dividends of Interest.

Order of Supreme Court dated 21st November 1835.

1. The Loan Board will have one head of account with each Court; such account shall include all sums in deposit from that Court, whether the same be Suitors' monies, Estate monies, or otherwise; but the Loan Office will only take account of the aggregate sum.

2. The accounts of the Office will be made up, and the interest divided quarterly, commencing from 1st January 1834.

3. Every pound sterling of principal, which has been for one complete quarter available for the purpose of making Loans, shall be entitled to a dividend of the Interest; such quarter is to be calculated from one Dividend day to the subsequent dividend day, i. e., 1st January, 1st April, 1st July and 1st October.

4. Dividends shall not be calculated of lower fractions than one farthing on a pound sterling of principal, and any sum, the retaining of which would render such calculations necessary, shall be set over till the next dividend day.

5. The funds of the Weeskamer and Boedelkamer shall be kept separate from the accounts of the different Courts,—the interest derived therefrom being wholly paid over to Government.

6. At the end of each quarter the Board will audit the accounts of the interest received, and declare the dividend to be allowed; in the first place setting over two-sixths thereof to the use of Government, towards the expenses of the establishment, as heretofore.

Government Regulation No. 6 of 1827
Clause 4.

7. The surplus fund which has been accumulated by deductions from interest received in former years, now amounts to £720 or thereabouts, or about 8 per Cent on the capital lent out; and as it is equitable that the Cash in the District Courts, now about to receive the protection of that fund, should contribute towards it, a deduction of one-sixth of the interest received on monies from District Courts shall be made quarterly, until such deduction shall have accumulated to a similar amount per cent on the principal sums lent out on account of those Courts; after which such deduction shall cease, and the whole shall be formed into one general fund to provide for unforeseen losses of principal lent out.

8. After the deductions have been made, the residue of interest received shall be divided as declared in the 4th and 5th Rules; and the amount set over to the credit of each Court according to the total sums, which they may have in deposit, and entitled to interest under article 3.

N.B. The average rate of Dividends (Eighteen in number) paid over to the use of the Intestate Estates and Suitors since the establishment of the Loan Office in 1824, amounts to six pounds two shillings per cent per annum, but as the rate of interest charged on Loans has been reduced from 9 to 7 per cent it is not expected that future dividends will average more than 5 per cent per annum.

Medical Adviser, R. TEMPLETON, Esq. R. A.

1.—The EAGLE LIFE ASSURANCE Company is empowered by Act of Parliament, and its establishment is of older date than that of most of the Societies now in existence; certainly older than any offering terms equally advantageous.

2.—The Public is secured by an ample subscribed capital, now exceeding a Million Sterling, on which ten per cent has been paid since 1807.

3.—All payments are set apart to accumulate in a distinct and inviolable fund; the payments which have been calculated expressly for the Institution from the data published by order of the House of Commons, though lower than most of the other established offices, have yet been kept sufficiently high to protect them from the fluctuation of the laws of mortality and of interest, and by all these precautions, security, the first great object of the assured, is effectually provided for, and the possibility of mischance for ever removed.

4.—The rank and character of the Directors, no person being placed in that situation who is not himself assured to a large and specified amount; and the same law applying to the Auditors, the government of the Company and the inspection of its affairs, are placed in the hands of the assured, who are the most deeply interested in its welfare.

5.—At the end of every seven years a strict investigation is made into the funds, the full value of each existing claim determined, its amount retained, and the surplus apportioned. Four fifths of the profits of these periodical divisions are then allotted to the Assured, and they have a right to apply it either to the reduction of the premium, or the increase of the future claim.

6.—All claims are paid within three months after death, and no fine whatever is imposed for entrance or non-appearance.

7.—Persons whose lives have been assured in this company in England have a right to go to whatever part of the world they please, at a pre-established and published rate of Foreign assurance, and are not, as in many other similar Institutions, obliged to ask permission, and to submit to pay an arbitrary and often extravagant rate.

8.—When persons assured in any Colony or Foreign settlement return to Europe, they pay only the British premium of their age at the commencement of the Assurance. A general annual premium is laid down, calculated upon the dangers incidental to the profession of the person insured, and permitting him to fill all the duties of his vocation in any part of the world to which he may be destined; or a special premium, to meet a particular risk, is determined, to commence at the departure of the person assured from England, and to terminate at his return.

The following is the Form of a Proposal to the Eagle Life Assurance Company.

1—The name, residence, and profession of the Person in whose behalf the Policy is to be—or whose Life is proposed for Insurance.

2—The place and date of Birth.

3—Amount of the proposed Insurance, and whether for Life or for seven years.

4—The name and address of the ordinary Medical Attendant of the Person whose life is to be insured.

5—The name and address of a private Friend able to certify as to the health of the Party.

Letters containing these particulars should be addressed to "the Agent of the Eagle Life Insurance Company", who will afford whatever further information may be required.

Arrangements have been made by which parties desirous to pay the total amount of their premiums in five or ten years, so as to have no further payments to make after those terms, may have an opportunity of doing so.

Endowments for children, on their arrival at the age of 21, may be guaranteed either by payments made in one sum, or by annual payments at certain rates until the child attains that age.

The leading features of this Company are, PARTICIPATION IN PROFITS, and LOWER RATES OF PREMIUM THAN THOSE OF MOST SOCIETIES WHICH DO NOT GIVE PROFITS TO THE ASSURED.

To accomplish the union of these desirable objects, the Directors will invest such portion of the Funds of this Company as they may think fit in deposits or otherwise, in the Joint Stock Banks of the Australasian Colonies, the Incorporated Australasian Bank, and in mortgage.

Mortgages of the first class in Australasia are as secure as those upon English lands, with this great advantage, that the latter have probably attained their maximum of value, and may be much depreciated by alterations in the Corn or other laws, whilst in these Colonies the money so borrowed is usually laid out in extended and improved cultivation, whereby the security is increased year by year; to which may be added, that a public registry of all mortgages affords both facility and security to this mode of employing Capital.

The subscribed Capital of the Company, whilst it affords ample security to the assured, will, by yielding a higher rate of interest than is paid to the shareholders, contribute to the general profits; whereas in the case of some of the English Companies, with Capitals unnecessarily large, the premiums paid by the Assured are materially drawn upon to supply the difference between the interest paid to Shareholders, and interest yielded by investments; thus diminishing instead of increasing, the security of the policy holder.

In addition to the advantage of the low rate of premium required by this society, one half of the profits will be divided among the ASSURED and ANNUITANTS; but in the first instance one-fifth of the whole will be retained to form an extra precautionary fund.

Two Directors and one Auditor may be chosen from the ASSURED.

For the Profits to which the ASSURED may become entitled, at each quinquennial rest and division, a separate policy will be issued, which being unincumbered by the payment of premium, will be an absolute reversion, payable at the death of the assured, and increasing without cost, in value every year, and therefore readily available for private sale or deposit; and which the Society will always purchase on equitable terms, or receive in commutation of future premiums on the original policy.

To the purchasers of ANNUITIES this Society holds out advantages never before offered—a much higher rate than can with safety be granted from English Investments, and participation to the extent of one half in the profits as above stated, including those of life Assurance, for which an equivalent additional annuity will be granted at each quinquennial rest.

Participation in Profits to ANNUITANTS has not been offered, with one recent exception, but to it they are as much entitled, if they have paid a proper price for their Annuity, including a fair allowance for the selection of life, as their converse associates, the contributors of annual payments to secure sums payable at their decease.

Two Directors and one Auditor may be chosen from the ANNUITANTS, thereby giving them cognizance of, and control over, the disposal of the fund.

The benefited members of the Company will consist of the first 1,000 POLICY HOLDERS for the time being, for the whole of life for £500 or upwards, in one or more policies, and of the first 1,000 ANNUITANTS for the time being, who have paid £500 or upwards for their Annuities:—every vacancy in the 1,000 benefited Policy holders to be filled up by the next oldest policy of Assurance, on the plan of the Equitable Society of London; and, in like manner, every vacancy in the 1,000 benefited Annuitants, by the next oldest Deed of Annuity. The ASSURED and ANNUITANTS however, will only succeed to the vacancies in their respective Class.

Such reduction of premium will be made to persons whose lives are assured for residence in India upon their arrival in England or in the Australasian Colonies for the purposes of permanent residence, as shall appear safe and equitable to the Board of Directors; on the appearance of such persons before the Board, or its Agents and Medical advisers.

Premiums on policies WHEREVER EFFECTED, may be paid at any settlement in Australasia where there is a Bank authorized to receive the same, but always at the same Bank, unless permission to change shall have been given.

Policies, whether effected in India, in England, or the Australasian Colonies, may be made payable in either by endorsement, provided the party do not quit the country in which the policy is made payable, without notice to the Directors.

TABLES.

NOTE.—The age of the Individual is always in ASSURANCE cases, taken at his age NEXT birth day, and in ANNUITY cases at his age LAST birth day.

This Society is supported by voluntary monthly contributions and occasional donations. Its object is to relieve by pensions or otherwise cases of such of the applicants for relief as upon the personal investigation of Visitors, are considered to be really necessitous. By these means not only has mendicancy been greatly suppressed in the Town of Trincomalee, but the pretences of unworthy objects have been, from time to time, detected and discouraged.

Since the institution of the Society 128 cases have shared its bounty, the monthly average No. of paupers on the receipt of fixed pensions and donations was 48½. The maximum at any one month was 63 and the minimum 23 (on the first month after the institution.)

Several sick paupers have been admitted and treated in the Society's Hospital, to which a medical attendant is attached, and towards which Government has allowed a supply of medicine. The patients are provided with every desirable comfort, and separate wards are allotted for the accommodation of paupers of different sexes according to the nature of the disease.

A special Sub-Committee were appointed at the last Annual Meeting for the purpose of superintending the working of the Hospital.

The Committee meet for the despatch of business at the "Trincomalie Reading Room" on the first Monday of every month, at ½ past 6 o'clock p. m.

The above Society was instituted in March 1841; and is supported by voluntary subscription.

Its design is to suppress mendicity as far as possible in Jaffna and its immediate suburbs, by relieving either by donations or monthly pensions cases of real distress, which cases are to be personally investigated and reported upon by visiting members of the committee, who meet once in a month at the Queen's House for the despatch of business. The Society has about sixty persons on its list; but its funds it is to be regretted have of late fallen off considerably.

This Society is supported by monthly subscriptions and donations. All deserving objects, in Kandy and its vicinity are relieved by the Visitors. Medical relief and food are afforded gratuitously in a Hospital connected with the Society, into which sick labourers from Estates are also admitted.

The receipts of the Society during the year 1842 was £207 7 and the expenditure £205 13 4. Increased subscriptions are greatly required on account of the increasing malabar population and the consequent increase in the number of sick.

The Committee meet for the despatch of business at the Kandy Library once a month.

CENTRAL SCHOOL COMMISSION.

Extract from a Minute dated 19th May 1834.

It will be the duty of the principal Commission at Colombo to superintend the School Establishments generally throughout the Island, and to submit to the Government the measures they consider it expedient to adopt for the establishment of efficient Schools and for the extension of Education.

The Committees at outstations will inspect the Schools in the several divisions and report to the Central Commission upon their efficiency and management.

To the Commission will be entrusted also the duty of fixing the proportion in which the funds, which Government may be enabled to appropriate for purposes of education, should be distributed in the several Provinces.

The Schoolmasters will be appointed on the recommendation of the Commission, and will in all cases be required to possess a competent knowledge of English.

M I N U T E

By the Right Hon'ble the Governor.

UNDER instructions from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for the Colonies, the Governor is pleased to declare that the School Commission constituted by the Minute of the 19th May 1834 is dissolved, and a new Commission substituted under the following Regulations:

The new Commission shall be denominated "The Central School Commission for the instruction of the population of Ceylon," and shall consist of, not exceeding, nine Members, three of whom when practicable shall be, a Clergyman of the Church of England, a Presbyterian Minister and a Roman Catholic Priest or Layman; to this Commission will be attached a paid Officer who shall act as Secretary to the Commission and Inspector of Schools under their orders.

A diary shall be kept of the proceedings of the Commission which shall be submitted to the Governor monthly for his information.

A half yearly report shall be printed and published in the months of January and July of each year, and laid on the table of the Legislative Council at the first meeting of that body after the report becoming due, and shall be brought under their consideration before the annual grant for the support of Schools is voted.

In execution of the above instructions, the Governor has the sanction of the Secretary of State to declare that the Commission shall be composed as follows:

1. The Hon'ble P. ANSTRUTHER, Esq., to be President of the Commission.
2. A Colonial Chaplain.
3. The Revd. Mr. MACVICAR.
4. A Roman Catholic Member.
5. P. E. WODEHOUSE, Esq., Government Agent for the Western Province.
6. A Non-official Member of the Legislative Council.
7. A Member of one of the Missions in Ceylon.

Two additional members may be nominated by the Governor and submitted to the other Members for their approval. If by a majority they reject the members named by the Governor, they must lay before him for the appointment the names of two other members who shall have been selected by not less than 5-7ths of the members.

Mr. LEE, Esq., to be Secretary and Inspector of Schools, on a salary of £200 per annum and his travelling expenses.

The Secretary to the School Commission hereby dissolved will be pleased to hand over all the documents in his charge to Mr. LEE, and the Central Commission will enter upon its duties forthwith.

By His Excellency's Command,

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Colombo, 27th March 1841.

P. ANSTRUTHER,
Col. Secretary.

MINUTE

BY THE GOVERNOR.

One dependent general Commission of Education having now been established under direction of the Right Hon'ble The Secretary of State, the Governor proceeds to offer some observations for their guidance. The Commission has been generally composed of Gentlemen selected not with reference to their official position, but to their disposition to exert themselves in promoting the highly important object of enfeud to them. The Government Agent for the Western Province is a Member, and through his Agency it is desired that their pecuniary transactions should be conducted. It will be necessary to constitute Sub-Committees at outstations on the same principles. The Government Agent in each Province will conduct the pecuniary transactions of the Commission there; he should therefore be a Member of the Sub-Committee; the other Members are to be selected by the Central Commission on the same principles upon which they have themselves been appointed.

Members have been selected for the Central Commission, the Clergy and some of the Missions in Ceylon, in addition to the lay Members.—The Committee will understand that it is their duty, by every means in their power, to promote the education in the English language of their fellow-subjects of all religious opinions in the Colony. They will therefore be particularly careful to introduce into their Schools no books or system of instruction which might have the effect of excluding Scholars from any religious belief whatever.

Whatever may have been the defects of the late Commission will be found that in their Schools the Scriptures are read without objection by all; it will be the especial care of the Central Commission to exercise such caution as to raise no religious scruples on the part of any.

But though the general education of the whole population is the duty of the Commission—it will also be a most important portion of their duty to promote the religious education of the community as belong to the Christian faith, and the Commission under their management will therefore be equally applicable to this purpose. It is highly desirable that Sunday Schools should be established, and perhaps that an hour daily should be set apart for religious instruction, and such instruction may be conducted by the Schoolmasters of the Establishment, provided it is made clearly and distinctly known that it is not obligatory upon those Scholars (who bring forward conscientious objections) to attend the Sunday Schools, or at the hour set apart for religious instruction, which should be arranged so as not to interfere with secular Education. The Commission will do well to consider whether an attempt might not be made to establish Infant Schools.

Subject to these observations the Commission will have to manage the administration of the funds voted by the Legislature for purposes of Education; the appointment of all Schoolmasters, the fixing of their Salaries—the purchase of school-books and furniture &c. will be vested in them, but they are not to incur any charge for erecting or repairing buildings without the sanction of Government. Besides the establishment of Government Schools, the Commission will be at liberty to grant aid in aid of any Private Schools which they may consider deserving of encouragement, but always on condition that they shall have full right of inspection and examination without interfering in any way with the management.

Referring to the circular letter of the 1st March, 1838, which a copy is annexed, the Commission should endeavour, as far as possible, to maintain a friendly communication with Educational Institutions throughout the Colony, and obtain permission to inspect their Schools, as well as any Private Schools.

hich may be established from time to time, in the manner herein proposed, but without exercising the smallest right of interference.

For the execution of this duty the Secretary of the School Commission has also been appointed Inspector of Schools, and the Commissioners will be good enough to frame rules for his guidance in the execution of his duty.

By His Excellency's Command,

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Colombo, 26th May 1841.

P. ANSTRUTHER,
Col. Secretary.

Circular.

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Colombo, 1st March 1838.

GENTLEMEN,

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR having it in contemplation to remodel the Education Commission established some time ago in Ceylon, and being desirous that it should be the medium of obtaining more extensive information as to the progress of Education in this Island, as well as to secure for it the advice which the experience of the Members of the different Educational Societies enables them to afford, directs me to address you on the subject.

One of the objects His Excellency would have in view, independent altogether of the spread and diffusion of instruction generally throughout the population, would be to constantly obtain from the different Members of the several Educational Institutions in the Island correct information as to the exact state of instruction and the extent of their efforts in instructing that portion of the Inhabitants, with whom they are each more immediately conversant and connected.

To invite the heads of the Educational Institutions to become corresponding Members of the School Commission, with the view of enabling the Commission to obtain the assistance and suggestions of the Members of these Institutions as to furthering the general object of Education.

To fix an annual examination at which the Archdeacon and certain of those who constitute the Education Commission, in conjunction with the persons belonging to the other Educational Institutions above alluded to, should ascertain the relative qualifications of the Scholars from the several places of instruction, who had attained such a proficiency, and were of such age, as would fit them either to be sent to Bishop's College, Calcutta (and to the number of three, His Excellency would be desirous to send thither annually) or to commence attendance at a Normal Institution, to be established at Colombo as shall be hereafter arranged for the purpose of instructing Teachers, having in view, in the case of those who go to Calcutta, that eventually some of them might enter the Ministry and become Colonial Chaplains, and in the other case, that after a period, not exceeding eighteen months, of instruction at the Normal Institution; such as have attended so long, should be sent as Schoolmasters to the different outstations in the Island, according to the selection made, and to the order fixed upon by the Examiners at the annual examination.

With a view to the efficiency of these arrangements, in addition to the Secretary to the Education Commission, through whom its correspondence is conducted, it is proposed that a Visitor should be appointed, whose special business and duty will be, to visit every School and Station of whatever character, where youths are instructed, and regularly to report to the Secretary of the Commission, the state of such School, by whatever funds or from whatever society supported.

His Excellency requests therefore that he may be informed by you in reference to the object above explained, whether you consider that the Rules and Regulations of the Society which sent you to this Island would allow of your giving the assistance above prescribed, and whether your other avocations would admit of your doing so. The Governor would wish you, not to consider this enquiry as confined to yourself only, who are the head of but also to extend to the several Members, your coadjutors in the work of Education, who have been sent out by your Society to Ceylon.

His Excellency would further be glad to know, if the Rules and Regulations of your Society would admit of the above-proposed periodical inspections of your Schools, it being distinctly understood that no interference or controul whatever is contemplated on the part of Government, either through the medium of the Visitor, or in any other way—the object being simply to place Government and the Public in possession of complete information, as to the progress of Education generally in the Island.

When you reply to these several enquiries, His Excellency would be glad to receive at the same time an Abstract from you, of the Names and Stations of your Teachers, of the number of Scholars at each station, and the nature of the education afforded, the amount of Expenditure from the Funds of the Society of in each year, and the date of your Society's labour in this Colony.

I have the honor to be,

Gentlemen,

Your most obedient Servant,

P. ANSTRUTHER,

Col. Secretary.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED BY THE CENTRAL SCHOOL COMMISSION, AT A MEETING HELD ON THE 1ST SEPTEMBER 1843.

1st. That when any Minister or Missionary is desirous of establishing, in his vicinity, a School or Schools for the education of boys or girls through the medium of the English language, and submits an application to the Central School Commission for that purpose, if upon examination such School or Schools shall appear to be desirable, they may be established according to the following Rules:

1. Each School shall contain at least 30 pupils.
2. The Minister upon whose request the School is established shall be the sole Superintendent.
3. The Teachers for such Schools shall be appointed and dismissed by the Superintendent, with the concurrence of the Central School Commission.
4. The salaries of the Teachers shall be regulated by the Central School Commission, as in the other Schools under their direction, and may be increased, if requisite, upon the recommendation of the Superintendent and the Inspector of Schools, or upon the joint recommendation of the Superintendent and the Sub-Committee of Education of the Province where the School is situated.
5. The usual returns shall be made to the Central School Commission through the Sub-Committee of the Province.
6. The Sub-Committee shall inspect and examine the School with respect to both secular and religious instruction: and receive the Reports from the Superintendents, and forward them to the Central School Commission with such remarks as they may deem necessary.
7. If the Sub-Committee perceive anything they regard as objectionable in the management of the School, they shall intimate the same to the Superintendent, and if he will not adopt their views, the matter shall be submitted by them to the Central School Commission.
8. If the School do not continue to give satisfaction to the Central School Commission the allowance for its support may be withdrawn, but the School shall not be removed from the care of the Minister superintending it, or placed under another Superintendent, without the consent of the Minister holding that appointment.
9. The Superintendent shall always be requested to be a member of the Sub-Committee of the province where the School is situated.

RESOLUTION PASSED AT A GENERAL MEETING OF THE CENTRAL SCHOOL
COMMISSION HELD ON THE 1ST SEPTEMBER 1843,

RESOLVED—That there be supplied to every elementary School, when necessary, the means of giving instruction in the native language, so as to afford the requisite preparation for English education.

The Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts was incorporated by Royal Charter, in the reign of KING WILLIAM III., A. D. 1701, for receiving, managing and disposing of such funds as might be contributed for the religious instruction of His Majesty's Christian Subjects beyond the seas, for maintaining Clergymen in the British Colonies, Plantations and Factories, and for the general propagation of the Gospel. It has been engaged in its appointed sphere of duty for upwards of 141 years; and during a whole century, it was the only Missionary Society in connexion with the Church of England. In regard to its constitution, it is under the immediate controul of the Bishops of the United Church, and is uniformly conducted on Church principles.

The Society has at present in its employment, Missionaries in the four grand divisions of the British Empire, viz., North America, West Indies, East India and Australia, and the whole number on its List amounts to 302, besides 230 Catechists and Schoolmasters; independently of all which its funds are made available for supporting Colleges and building Churches and Schools. It was in 1818 that the Society extended its operations to the East. Here it has more than 32 Missionaries in its service. It has moreover established a College at Calcutta, called BISHOP'S COLLEGE, for the education of an indigenous Clergy, and the diffusion of sound and useful knowledge; and Grammar Schools at Madras for the instruction of the middle and lower classes.

At COTTA there is a Christian Institution, where a number of Youths, of good promise both for piety and capacity, selected from the other schools, are boarded and educated, with a view to their becoming useful Schoolmasters, Catechists, and Assistant Missionaries. The Cotta Christian Institution contains Thirty Youths. The course of study pursued by them comprises SINGHALESE, ENGLISH, (including Grammar, Composition, History, and Geography) LATIN, GREEK, ARITHMETIC, ALGEBRA, GEOMETRY, and THEOLOGY: in all of which branches some of the Youths have made considerable progress, and shew as good a capacity for acquiring knowledge, and as great a thirst for it, as Youths of the same standing in England.

There is a Seminary at NELLORE containing Twenty Youths, and another at BADDAGAMA containing Fifteen Youths. From these Seminaries, and from the Cotta English School, Youths of good promise are selected for the Cotta Institution. Secretary.

The Youths in the Christian Institution at COTTA and 1 Seminaries at NELLORE and BADDAGAMA, amounting to Sixty-five, are boarded and educated at the expense of the Society, with the exception of a few who pay a monthly sum equal to about half their board.

At KANDY and at NELLORE there are Female Boarding Schools, the former containing Fourteen, and the latter Thirteen Girls. The expense of these two Schools is borne partly by the Society, and partly by Subscriptions and Donations.

pects of the Mission are encouraging in all its of labour. The Congregations, though in some places are very attentive. The School Children and Semina-are making creditable progress in the acquirement of both ous and general knowledge; and many new Schools might ablished, at the request of the Natives, if the Mission had eans of supporting and superintending them: fresh Sta-s might be occupied, and additional labourers would be omed by the Natives.

WESLEYAN MISSION.

THE Wesleyan Missions are established in various parts of Europe, Asia, Africa and America, including the West Indian, Polynesian and Australian Islands. They are under the general direction of the Wesleyan Methodist Conference which is composed of the Ministers of the Wesleyan Church in their Annual Session, but are immediately conducted by a Committee of fifty Ministers and Gentlemen, appointed by the Conference.

The Society occupies about 260 principal stations; its Missions are about 370; its Catechists, salaried Schoolmasters &c. are about 330. The exhorters, leaders and School teachers not salaried are 3,690. The members of the Society, or persons under the immediate spiritual care of the Missionaries are 84,234.
The total number attending their Ministry may be reckoned at e than 200,000, who receive instruction in upwards of 20 erent languages, and there are about 57,000 adults and ldren in their Schools.

The Wesleyan Mission in Ceylon was commenced in 1814 and s divided into two Districts, the Northern or Tamul District, embracing the Northern and Eastern Provinces of the Island, and the South or Singhalese District.

The Rev. D. J. GOGGERLY is the Chairman of the Singhalese istrict, and the Revd. W. BRIDGENELL is the Secretary. The lollowing stations are occupied in this District.

The Society has an Institution at Jaffna in which a select number of youths of both sexes are educated and agents trained for different departments of Missionary labour. The branches taught are those which are generally regarded as essential to a good education. A limited number of boys are instructed in the Tamil Classics and the rudiments of Latin.

BAPTIST MISSION.

Established in 1812.

It has had in the past year 38 Schools, containing about one thousand one hundred and ninety male and female children, who are gratuitously instructed in the Singhalese or English language. It occupies 16 Stations, supplied by 3 European, and 16 Native Missionaries and Catechists who preach the word of God in English, Tamul, Portuguese, and Singhalese, as the different cases of their auditors require. It has now a Printing Office in Kandy, in which Religious Tracts and elementary School Books are printed. An Academy for the instruction of Native Missionaries has lately been commenced in Colombo. Its annual expenditure is now at the rate of above £2,000 per annum.

The following locations may give a more correct view of the present state of its operations in the Colony. Each station forms a centre, around which many villages are regularly supplied with the preaching of the Gospel.

THE RIGHT HONBLE THE GOVERNOR is pleased to direct that the following Rules for establishing a Parcel Tappal be published for general information.

By His Excellency's Command,

P. ANSTRUTHER,
Colonial Secretary.

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Colombo, 24th November, 1837.

It having been found expedient to establish for the public convenience a Parcel Tappal between Colombo and the principal Outstations, Notice is hereby given that from the 1st of January next, such a Tappal shall be established under the following Rules and Conditions, with a proviso, however, that the conveyance of parcels through the Post Office will be given up as soon as any establishment of the same nature shall be set up by private persons—and with the exception of the road between Kandy and Colombo, on which a conveyance of that nature already exists.

The following Rules will be strictly abided by:

1. The Tappal will be despatched twice a week, namely, each Tuesday and Friday, from Colombo, and arrangements will be made with the Post Offices at Outstations for parcels being brought to Colombo also twice a week, on days to be fixed by the several Government Agents.

2. All private parcels, not exceeding 6lbs. in weight, and being made up in a form which can be conveniently carried, which may be brought to the Post Office before 5 on the days above-mentioned, will be duly forwarded.

3. In order that the Parcel Tappal may not interfere with the regular post, the Post Master General, or Government Agent or Assistant Government Agent at Outstations, will be authorized to call on any person sending or receiving a parcel in which he may suspect letters to be enclosed, to open it at the Post Office in his presence.

4. No parcel can be franked; all below one pound shall be charged as if they were of that weight, and the following rates will be levied:—

Double letter postage for every parcel of a pound weight, or less than a pound, and two pence for every extra pound for each distance of 72 miles, and an additional charge of ten shillings for every single letter found in any parcel.

5. The Post Office will be answerable for no parcels containing money or jewels, but for additional security any person sending such parcels should give notice at the time to the Post Office Clerk, and take a receipt in writing, specifying the weight of the parcel.

*General Post Office,
Colombo, May 14th, 1838.*

NOTICE is hereby given that in cases where private individuals may be desirous of sending EXPRESSSES from Colombo to outstations, or vice versâ, on sufficient notice being given at this Office, or at the Post Offices at the chief Outstations, arrangements will be made for despatching such expresses, unless something should at the time occur to render it inexpedient for the Public Service that they should be sent, in which case information will as speedily as possible be given to the applicants.

The charges will be as follows:

For an express from Colombo to Kandy, or vice

versâ.....	£0	12	0
Galle.....	0	13	6
Jaffna	3	4	6
Point Pedro	3	9	0
Trincomalie	2	10	0

But it is strictly to be understood that the weight of such despatches is to be limited to 8oz—and that, in order that they may not injure the revenue of the Post Office, which derives no advantage from this arrangement, a declaration will be required that the despatches convey no other letters but those of the party at whose instance the Express is sent.

GEORGE LEE,
Postmaster General.

NOTICE is hereby given, by order of HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL, that it is intended to make the following charges upon all Letters and Newspapers, &c. sent or received by any Steam Packet to or from Bombay, from this date and until further notice, viz.

By order of the Honorable the Governor in Council,

W. S. BORD,

Act. Secy. to Govt.

Bombay Castle, 13th September, 1839.

STEAM REGULATIONS, BOMBAY.

NOTIFICATION.

Marine Department.—Bombay Castle, 6th December 1841.

The Honorable the Governor in Council has been pleased to direct, that the following Rules for the regulation of Passages and Passengers in the Government Steam Packets, be published for general information, and that these Rules be brought into operation on the 1st January next, in supercession of those at present in force.

The names which have been already registered for the January and succeeding Steamers, will be placed on the list of applicants for Cabins, in the order in which they now stand.

Rules for the engagement of Passages and accommodation of Passengers in the Government Steam Packets between Bombay and Suez.

1. Application for Passage is to be made at the Office of the Master Attendant in Bombay, and at other Ports to the Commander.

2. The vessel which conveys the Mail intended to reach Suez on the 19th of any month, is to be designated the Steamer of that month; for instance the January Steamer is the one which is destined to reach Suez on the 19th January, although leaving Bombay possibly before the end of December.

3. Passengers are to be divided into two classes, viz:

First class, who sit at the Commander's Table, and are entitled to all the privileges of the Quarter Deck.

Second class, who are not entitled to walk aft of the paddle boxes, who berth forward, and either arrange for their own provision, or mess with the Warrant Officers or Engineers.

4. Every Passenger of the 1st class shall pay the following sum, as Table Money, for the voyage from Bombay to Suez, or from Suez to Bombay, viz:

A Lady or Gentleman.....	Rs. 200
A Child ten years of age and above five years	100
A Child five years and above one.....	80
A Child one year and under.....	50
A Child under one year, and with the Mother...	Free.

These rates apply to the Steamers of every month throughout the year, with the exception of those of July and August, in which the Table Money from Bombay to Suez will be as follows, viz:

A Lady or Gentleman	Rs. 300
A Child under 10	150
A Child under 5	120
A Child under 1	75
Do. with the Mother.....	Free.

But the rate from Suez to Bombay will be the same in all months, it is to be understood, that for the above sums, the Passengers are to be provided with a plain substantial Table; but no person is entitled to more than one pint of Wine and one bottle of Beer per diem. Cabin Passengers have the first choice of seats at the Table, and after them the Saloon Passengers in preference to those on the Deck, whose priority will be arranged according to their standing on the passage list. The seats will be arranged by the Commander, and once taken they cannot be changed, without his permission, during the voyage.

5. In addition to the Table Money the following sums will be charged for the accommodation engaged by first class Passengers, viz.

A treble Cabin.....	Rs. 1000
A double Cabin	800
A single Cabin.....	500
A Saloon berth.....	350
A Deck passage.....	300

6. Every second class Passenger shall Pay Rupees 150.

7. For each European Servant 50 Rs. must be paid as Subsistence Money and 50 Rs. as Passage Money; for Native Servants the charge will be one half the rate for an European; but none are to be considered and taken as Servants unless they actually accompany their Masters or Mistresses.

8. Three lists for each month's Steamer will be kept at the Master Attendant's Office, viz. one for Cabin, one for Saloon, and one for Deck Passengers. A statement of the number of each class, which each packet is calculated to accommodate, will be open at the same place, to the inspection of the public.

9. Every applicant may register his name in which ever of the lists he pleases, but the name of the packet will not be declared until 10 days prior to the appointed day of sailing, when choice of accommodation will be given, according to priority of standing on the lists. Ladies having the preference for the first three cabins.

10. In the event of a greater number of names having been registered than the Steamer, when declared, is calculated to accommodate, the supernumerary names on the Cabin lists may be transferred to that of the Saloon or the Deck, and those of Saloon lists to that of the Deck, or they may be withdrawn and the deposit repaid, at the option of the parties. In the case of a transfer under this rule, the name will be placed in the same position in which it would have stood by date of registry had the original application been for a Saloon or a Deck passage, instead of for a Cabin, or for a Cabin, or for a Deck instead of for a Saloon. Should any of the Cabin or Saloon berths remain open, after the vessel has left the harbour, the Saloon or Deck Passengers may be allowed to take them on paying into the hands of the Commander the regulated difference of price.

11. Ladies and Children can take passages in Cabins only, and female Servants cannot be accommodated otherwise than in the Cabins engaged for the family they accompany.

*12. A passenger who has engaged a Cabin may make what arrangement he likes for its occupation; he may either keep it entirely to himself, or admit to share it with any one that he pleases, provided only that the name of the person so admitted (if an adult) must have been previously on one of the lists, and subject to the following restrictions, viz.

A treble Cabin cannot be appropriated to the accommodation more than Four Ladies.

Three Gentlemen.
Six Children.
One Lady and four Children.
Two Ladies and three Children.
Three Ladies and two Children.
One Gentleman and three Children.
Two Gentlemen and two Children.
A Lady and her Husband with two Children.

A double Cabin cannot be appropriated to more than Three Ladies.

Two Gentlemen.
Four Children.
A Lady and three Children.
Two Ladies and two Children.
A Gentleman with two Children.
A Lady and her Husband with one Child.

A single Cabin cannot be appropriated to more than

Two Ladies.
One Gentleman.
Three Children.
One Lady and two Children.

Children under five years of age may be taken extra to the complement of a Cabin, on payment of 50 Rs. for each, additional.

13. Passages for intermediate places can be engaged only when there is accommodation not taken up for the entire voyage, unless the parties are willing to pay the price of the whole voyage, in which case they may register their names in the same manner as all other Passengers.—The vacant accommodation will be declared three days before the sailing of the vessel. The passage between Aden and Mocha, and Bombay and Suez, respectively, will be counted as one half of the whole passage between Bombay and Suez;—between Judda and Suez, will be counted as one third, and between Judda and Bombay as two-thirds—Cossier and Suez are considered to be alike.

14. The engagement of a passage will not be considered valid unless a deposit of the following sums be made at the time of application, viz.

For a Cabin passage.....	Rs. 300
For a Saloon.....	150
For a Deck.....	125

This deposit, should the party not proceed, will invariably be forfeited, except under the provisions of art. 10, and in cases where, by the production of a Medical Certificate, it is satisfactorily shewn that the person was compelled, by sickness, to abandon the passage. A deposit is not required on the registry of the names of Children, except when the Children are to occupy a Cabin by themselves, in which case the same deposit must be made as for the Cabin passage of a Lady or Gentleman, viz. 300 Rupees,

15. To prevent unnecessary trouble, the Master Attendant is authorized to receive and pass receipts for the deposit Money.

16. Ten days prior to the appointed day of sailing, each Passenger must pay to the Master Attendant the remaining portion of the passage Money, in default of which the deposit will be considered forfeited, and any claim to passage invalid. When the cabins are finally allotted, an adjustment will be made with the party or parties to whom they are appropriated, the difference between the value of the place occupied by each individual and the deposit made under article 14, being paid up or returned, as the case may be. When the passage Money has been paid up, no portion of it can, on any plea, be returned, except under the provisions specified in article 14.

17. Persons who, from non-arrival at Bombay, may have omitted to pay the balance of the passage Money, may be re-admitted as Passengers, if before the period of departure the balance is paid. They however will be placed at the bottom of the list of the class of Passengers in which they are registered.

18. No transfer of accommodation in the Steamers by an individual who has taken a passage to one who has not taken his passage, will be permitted, but after the list has been filled up, any person wishing to stand the chance of succeeding to a vacancy caused by a lapse of any kind may do so, by registering his name and paying the required sum, which will be refunded to him should no vacancy occur.

19. It is to be understood, that Government reserves to itself the right of appropriating a Cabin or Cabins for the use of public functionaries or others proceeding on duty or by special order of Government as Passengers in any of the Honorable Company's Steamers.

20. Passengers on a Steamer that may from accident or other cause be obliged to return to Port, will be entitled to the refund of the amount that has been paid, deducting therefrom a sum for the Table Allowance of the Commander according to the number of days that the vessel may have been at sea, calculating the average time occupied in a voyage to or from Suez to be 18 days, and Aden 10 days.

21. It is necessary for Passengers not belonging to the Honorable Company's Service, to make the requisite arrangements at Suez or other intermediate Port with the Commander before, or at least at the time of their embarkation, for the payment of the passage Money.

22. For the convenience of Passengers from the Red Sea to India, the Commanders of the Honorable Company's Packets are authorized to receive payment of passage Money at Suez or any Port between Suez and Bombay in Sovereigns, Spanish Dollars, or German Crowns, at the following rates of exchange viz: Sovereigns at 10 Rupees each, Spanish Dollars at Rupees two and three Annas each, German Crown at Rupees two and two Annas each.

23. The Baggage of each Passenger must not exceed four boxes of the following dimensions, viz:

Length.....	2 feet 5 inches
Breadth.....	1 do. 5 do.
Depth.....	1 do. 3 do.

and the total weight must not be more than four cwt. Second class Passengers are allowed half the above quantity.

24. Each Cabin Passenger may, if he pleases, put all his Baggage into his Cabin. The Saloon and Deck Passengers will be allowed to keep one Box or Bag above. The rest of the Baggage is to be in the Baggage room, and Passengers will be allowed access to it twice a week, on a day and hour fixed by the Commander, who will appoint a person to have charge of the Baggage.

25. Any applicant may be refused a passage, without any cause being assigned either by the authorities at Bombay or by the Commander of the Vessel when away from Bombay, but a report of the rejection is to be communicated to Government.

26. All persons who take passage either themselves or through their Agents, will be considered as thereby binding themselves to comply with these Rules, which will be shown by the Master Attendant or by the Commander of the Vessel to parties who engage passage.

By order of the Honorable the Governor in Council,

P. M. MELVILL, Lieut. Col.
Secy. to Government.

GOVERNMENT ADVERTISEMENT.

Notice is hereby given that it is the intention of Government to hold monthly Sales of the Government Cinnamon Gardens, commencing from the second Tuesday in July 1840, and to continue the same until the whole of the Gardens are disposed of, in the following order—Morottoo, Kaderani, Ekelle, Wellisere and Marendahn. The Government reserves to itself however the power to dispose of Building Lots from the Marendahn Garden at any time.

The Gardens will be subdivided into Lots of about ten Acres each, and each Lot will be surveyed at least three months prior to the Sale. The Morotloo Cinnamon Garden has been surveyed, and arrangements will be made for surveying the others, in succession, and due notice will be given of the completion of each survey.

The following are the Conditions of Sale.

1st.—The quantity to be put up at each Sale shall be Thirty Lots, of the numbers whereof with reference to the Survey notice shall be given ten days prior to the Sale, and each Lot shall be peremptorily sold to the highest bidder, subject to the following restriction. After the whole of the Lots shall have been separately put up at each Sale, if any party shall be desirous of purchasing collectively two or more contiguous Lots, and shall before the termination of the proceedings of the day make an application to that effect to the Government Agent specifying the Lots, such Lots shall be immediately put up at the sums previously bid for them; and if at the conclusion of such second Sale, an application shall be made for a larger number of contiguous Lots, even if it shall include those exposed at the second Sale, the whole of the Lots so applied for shall be put up together, at the highest prices bid for all the Lots included in the last application. And any further applications made at that Sale for a still larger number of contiguous Lots shall be disposed of in like manner.

2nd.—Ten per cent of the amount of the purchase money must be paid within ten days from the day of Sale. The remainder of the purchase money must be paid in three equal instalments, the first in four months, the second in twelve, and the third or last in eighteen months from such day of Sale.

3rd.—Where the purchase money of any Lot exceeds Two HUNDRED POUNDS, Government will be prepared to take into consideration any application to enter into a special agreement for the payment of a portion of the purchase money not exceeding one-half being deferred for three years from the date of the Sale. Provided always that mortgage of the property is given, and that the balance shall remain subject to payment of interest at nine per cent, until paid up.

4th.—In failure of any of the aforesaid payments being made, the Land will be resold at the risk of the purchaser who in such case shall be liable for any loss that may occur upon such resale, but he shall have no right or title to any advantage if the new Sale shall produce a larger proportional price; and any part of the purchase money he may have paid shall be forfeited.

5th.—After payment of the second instalment, or in those cases where the purchaser may have entered into agreement with Government, to defer the payment of such portion of the purchase money as shall have been agreed on as mentioned in article 3d upon mortgage of the property being given, the purchaser shall be put in possession of the land and be allowed to peel Cinnamon, but he shall not be allowed to root up any Cinnamon bushes until after the payment of the third or last instalment, and any purchaser so doing shall be liable to a penalty of one third value of the property, besides forfeiting all right to the lands and trees purchased and to the instalments paid.

6th.—Upon payment of the third or last instalment a title deed shall be prepared free of expence to the purchaser, after which he shall have full power and liberty to clear, cultivate, let out, or sell at any time, and in his option all or any part of the land so purchased by him, but always subject to such Regulations and Taxes as are now in force and that may hereafter be enacted relative to the tenure of landed property in general in this Colony.

7th.—The Government will pay the expense of the Surveyor proceeding once at a time appointed if required to point out the limits of the Lots; but, should his attendance be afterwards required for that or any other purpose, the purchaser must himself pay the cost of such attendance.

8th.—Each purchaser shall on payment of the third or last instalment, secure the boundaries of his land by a ditch or strong fence as may be agreed on within three months after the payment of the last instalment, in failure the same will be done by the Government Agent and the cost be charged and recovered against the purchaser by Sale of the land.

9th.—All roads and public paths and drains appearing in the survey or which shall be noted at the back of the duplicate conditions delivered to the purchaser at the time of Sale, shall be fully kept open.

By His Excellency's Command,

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Colombo, 14th December 1839.

GEORGE TURNOUR,
Actg. Col. Secretary.

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR has directed the following Extract from Her Majesty's Instructions to be published for general information.

By His Excellency's Command,

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Colombo, 1st May, 1841.

P. ANSTRUTHER,
Col. Secretary.

Forty-first.—And whereas We have by Our said Commission appointing you Our Governor and Commander in Chief as aforesaid, given to you full power and authority in Our name and on Our behalf, but subject nevertheless to such provisions as are in that respect contained in your General Instructions to make and execute in Our name and under the Public Seal of Our said Island Grants of Waste Land to Us belonging within the same to private persons, and for the Public uses of Our subjects there resident, Now We do hereby require and authorize you from time to time as occasion may require to cause all necessary Surveys to be made of the vacant or Waste Lands to Us belonging in Our said Island, and to cause the persons making such Surveys to report to you what particular Lands it may be proper to reserve for Public Roads or other internal communications by Land or Water, or as the Sites of Towns, Villages, Churches, School Houses or Parsonage Houses; or as places for the burial of the dead, or as places for the future extension of any existing Towns or Villages, or as places fit to be set apart for the recreation or amusement of the Inhabitants of any Town or Village, or for promoting the health of such Inhabitants, or as the Sites of Quays or Landing Places or Towing Paths, which it may at any future time be expedient to erect, form, or establish on the Sea Coast, or in the neighbourhood of Navigable Streams, or as places which it may be desirable to reserve for any other purpose of Public convenience, utility, health or enjoyment, and you are specially to require persons making such Surveys to specify in their Reports, and to distinguish in the Charts or Maps to be thereunto annexed such Tracts, Pieces or Parcels of Land within Our said Island as may appear to them best adapted to answer and promote the several purposes before mentioned. And it is Our Will, and We do strictly enjoin and require you that you do not under any pretence whatsoever grant, convey, or demise to any person or persons any of the Lands which may be specified as fit to be reversed as aforesaid, nor permit or suffer any such Lands to be occupied by any private persons for any private purpose.

Forty-second.—And We do further charge and require you not to make any Grant of Land to, or in trust for, or for the use of any private person unless in consideration of payment in money for the same after such Land shall have been previously put for sale by Public Auction at such an upset price per acre as shall from time to time by Our authority be fixed for the same, and for this purpose you shall cause such Lands as from time to time shall remain unoccupied and ungranted to be put up for sale by Public Auction from time to time as you shall judge proper and the highest bidding which shall at such Public Auction be made for any such Lands shall be accepted, provided that such bidding shall at least amount to such upset price per acre as aforesaid. Provided nevertheless that no such bidding shall be finally accepted until the person or persons making the same shall have actually paid a Deposit of ten per cent on the amount thereof, and shall have signed a Contract for the payment of the balance within one calendar month next thereafter. And it is Our Pleasure that all Grants of Land to be made by you in Our name to any person or persons in consideration of the payment of money for the same shall be made to such person or persons, and to his, her or their Heirs and Assigns to be by him, her or them held in fee and common soccage, yielding and paying to us, Our Heirs and Successors a Quit Rent of one Pepper Corn by the year for the same, and every such Grant shall pass in Our name under the Public Seal of Our said Island of Ceylon, and shall be executed and delivered to the purchaser or purchasers at the office of the Surveyor General of Our said Island on the payment of the purchase money for the same, and not before and then and not before the purchaser or purchasers shall be let in possession of the Land so bought by them and for the delivery of every such Grant, and the preparing the same, the Colonial Secretary shall be entitled to charge a fee amounting to forty shillings sterling money and no more or of such smaller amount as you from time to time with the advice of the Executive Council of Our said Island shall appoint, and every such Grant shall previously to its being so delivered be enrolled in the Court of the District where such Land may be situate, and for making every such Enrolment the Registrar of such Court shall be entitled to receive from such Grantee or Grantees a fee of five Shillings Sterling money and no more.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Rules laid down in the Royal Instructions, clauses 41 and 42, relating to the sale of Crown Lands, are to form the conditions of sale in all cases except sales under the Advertisement of the 14th December 1839, which are provided for by special Instructions.

As soon as any purchaser has made the deposit of ten per cent, Government Agents are to transmit the surveys and necessary information for the title-deeds being prepared to the Colonial Secretary with a certificate of the deposit being paid.

On the final payment of the purchase money and fees for preparing and enrolling the grant, the Government Agent will transmit a certificate thereof and a draft for the fees payable for the preparation of the deed to the Colonial Secretary, who will immediately complete the grant in duplicate, and forward it to the Government Agent, one copy to be delivered to the purchaser who is to be put in possession forthwith, the other to be lodged in the District Court, and a certificate of enrolment obtained from the Secretary, to whom a fee of five shillings is to be paid.

The fees payable for preparation of deeds have been reduced by order of the Governor in Council as follows—

On all grants of land not exceeding £5—one shilling.

On grants above £5, four per cent, but in no case to exceed forty shillings.

By His Excellency's Command,

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Colombo, May 29th 1841,

P. ANSTRUTHER,
Col. Secretary.

For a ground plan, in duplicate, of a house and out offices—surveyed in the Block—3s.

For a ground plan, in duplicate, of a house and out offices—surveyed in the Block, with garden, or premises under one acre in extent—6s.

For a plan as above, in duplicate, with interior divisions shewn, and sections and elevations of the buildings for each apartment—additional 6d.

1st. In addition to the above fees, one shilling per mile will be allowed in lieu of all travelling expences, when the ground to be surveyed lies beyond 3 miles from the principal town of the Province or place of residence of the Surveyor. This allowance is to include the hire of the persons employed by the Surveyor to carry baggage and instruments, draw-chain, &c., and if several surveys are made in one trip, that trip alone will be charged, and the amount distributed in fair proportion amongst the costs of the several surveys.

2nd. In cases where one or more contiguous lots have been, or are required to be surveyed, the Surveyor will be paid for the survey of each lot in proportion only to the extent of boundary requiring actual measurement.

3rd. For surveys of roads, canals, rivers, &c. special terms will be made.

4th. When Surveyors are required to appraise lands, houses, or other property, they will receive one half per cent of the value of the land or house &c. appraised, with travelling charges as above; provided the amount shall in no case exceed £10, excepting under special agreement.

5th. Surveyors will provide their own stationery, instruments, &c. and will be required to furnish to the Surveyor General's Office, four figures of every survey, immediately on its completion, neatly drawn on good paper, with a full description of the land and its boundaries, describing the Province, district and village in which it is situated, its distance from the principal town, and the nearest carriage or cart road, or navigable river or canal.

6th. When copies of surveys are specially called for, one shilling will be paid for a mere outline of the boundaries with appropriate description; and 5 shillings for a map shewing minutely the interior detail, with a full description of the land, &c.

7th. Surveyors employed by Government will be entitled to 15 shillings a day batta, including all charges whatsoever, when detained by the absence, or other remissness, of the parties who should be in attendance during the survey, or if the boundaries are not so cleared as to admit of the survey being proceeded with without interruption.

8th. All questions as to the land being the property of the Crown must be disposed of, before the services of a Surveyor can be placed at the disposal of an Applicant, and no application for land which may be received by any Government Agent after the date hereof, will be advertized in the Gazette till the boundaries are properly cleared, and the land surveyed. The survey however may be undertaken at the expence of Government, for the purpose of investigating claims, the cost of survey of any portion of land ultimately sold, being charged against the purchaser.

9th. On application being made for land, the Headman will be directed by the Government Agent to meet the applicant or an accredited Agent on the spot on a certain day; should the Headman pronounce the land applied for to be the property of the Crown, the Applicant or such Agent attended by a licensed Surveyor and the village Headman will proceed to clear the boundaries at his own cost, and with laborers provided by himself. The Government Agent will decide upon the remuneration that should be allowed to Headmen, according to circumstances, for their attendance, and this charge is to be paid whether the land proves to be Government or private property. If the land is pronounced to be the property of the Crown, and charges are incurred in clearing boundaries &c. a memorandum thereof must be produced to the Headman, who will certify whether they are reasonable or otherwise. If he certifies to their being reasonable, the Government Agent will on approval, sign the Memorandum, but should the Headman refuse to certify the Agent will fix the amount admissible. The Applicant or his Agent will then be required to pay the Headman his charges and to deposit the estimated amount of fees &c. for the Surveyor, and for the attendance of Headmen, if further required during the survey, and the Government Agent will pay the Surveyor his fees and charges out of the sum deposited on presenting his bill, taxed by the Surveyor General.

10th. The day on which the Surveyor is appointed to attend will be intimated to the Applicant, and that notice shall be binding on him, and shall render him liable to the charges defined in the 7th clause, if he, or the party deputed by him, does not attend.

11th. Should either the clearing of boundaries or the progress of the survey be impeded by the absence of Headmen duly ordered to attend, Government will similarly pay the costs of detention incurred by the Applicant and the Surveyor, and hold Headmen responsible for the same; and in like manner should any impediment or delay be occasioned by the absence or other negligence of the Surveyor, duly warned, the loss incurred by the Applicant and Headmen will be charged against him; unless by timely notice given by any one of the three parties, the day of meeting is postponed by the Government Agent.

12th. On the day of sale the Government Agent will specify, in three separate items, the upset price of the land, the cost of clearing boundaries, &c. and the charges of surveying allowed by this Minute, and stipulate that if the Applicant is not the ultimate purchaser, the two latter items must be paid down, with the 10 per cent. by the actual purchaser, and the claims of the original Applicant will be adjusted by the Government Agent out of that payment. Should the original Applicant however be the ultimate purchaser, he will pay the price bid for the land, and settle with the Agent for the other two items, paying to, or receiving from, that officer, as the case may be.

13th. Should Surveyors be paid not according to these rates, but according to a special agreement, the Surveyor General will reduce the agreement to writing, and will appraise the Government Agent thereof, and the Government Agents as well as the Surveyor General, will be at liberty to accept of lower terms than those specified in the Table of Fees, should competition reduce the charge for surveying.

14th. Persons wishing to be employed by Government as Surveyors will have to undergo a strict examination in the several branches of the Art. On their being certified by the Surveyor General to be duly qualified, they will receive Licenses to survey Crown lands, notice whereof will be given in the Government Gazette, and no surveys but those made by Officers of Government, or licensed Surveyors, will hereafter be authenticated at the Surveyor General's Office.

By His Excellency's Command,

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Colombo, 3rd August 1841.

P. ANSTRUTHER,
Col. Secretary.

RULES FOR THE SURVEY AND SALE OF WASTE LANDS.

1. That as soon as arrangements can be made, all lands shall be surveyed by Officers appointed by the Government, and paid either by fixed salaries or by fees. The Surveyors' fees to be added to the minimum price of the land and paid into the public chest.
2. The lands to be sold by Government are to be surveyed, as nearly as practicable, in lots not exceeding 640 acres, but under special circumstances the Government will authorize lots being put up not exceeding 1,280 acres, and parties may apply for lots of a smaller extent or to have any number of lots put up, in which case they are to deposit the usual Surveyors' fees.
3. The Government Agent, in concert with the Surveyor General, will then make arrangements to have the land surveyed, attending as far as practicable to the desire of the Applicant, but they will in all cases take care, that no party is allowed to pick out only the fertile spots leaving out the interior land which may intersect the ground—nor to select any lot in such a manner as to injure to the adjoining lots—for instance where the boundary of a lot comes near a stream, it should generally be taken as the boundary.
4. No survey of lands not applied for having yet been made, the Surveyor General is to proceed forthwith to survey such tracts of land as it may be desirable to sell immediately, selecting in the first place those in situations where applications have been most numerous.
5. The surveys, when completed, will be lodged in the Surveyor General's Office, where they are immediately to be marked off in a general map, and charts and registers shall be kept for public inspection at the office of the Surveyor General, and the respective Government Agents, in such form and manner as to exhibit to all persons applying for the same, full and authenic information of all appropriations of land and all surveyed lands not appropriated.

6. Any lots so surveyed, which the Government may deem proper to sell, may be applied for and will be put up to sale under the conditions published from time to time.

7. No surveys of insulated lots are to be made without special directions from Government.

8. The Surveyors are to lot off as expeditiously as they can, the tracts of land they are sent to survey, paying particular attention to the direction contained in the 41st clause of Her Majesty's Instructions; they are also carefully to note the character and description of soil of each lot, and all streams, remarkable rocks, or summits of hills by which the boundaries of the lots may be more readily identified, with such further information as may appear useful for the information of purchasers, also any lines of road which it may appear advisable to mark off as principal roads.

9. In cases where any high road, already made or proposed to be opened, intersects the tract of country to be surveyed, it will be advisable to give the lots adjacent a frontage to the road, and the same may often be the case in regard to streams of any magnitude.

10. The Surveyors will not, without special directions from Government, leave one part of the country to commence a survey in another, so long as there are any tracts of land applied for and remaining unsurveyed, or which it may be considered desirable to survey.

11. Sales are to be made in all cases where it is practicable at the Government Agent's Office, and if necessary once a month.

12. All such sales are to be made after public notice in the Government Gazette, by Proclamation signed by the Colonial Secretary by the Governor's Command.

13. The days of sale will be fixed for the different stations with the view as far as possible of the sales at one station not interfering with those at another.

14. The above are the rules under which it is intended that the survey of waste lands shall be conducted in future.

15. When any claims are made to portions of land under survey, the Government Agents will take steps to bring such claims to decision as speedily as possible, without waiting till applications are made.

16. In submitting applications, the Government Agents will be careful to state the upset price they recommend to be fixed under the Advertisement of 13th April 1839 and the 41st and the 42d Clauses of Her Majesty's Instructions, and they will not submit any offer for acceptance, nor let any purchaser into possession of the lands, until the 42d Clause of Her Majesty's Instructions have been fully complied with.

17. The purchase money and fees for enrolment are to be paid to the Government Agent, and upon his giving notice to the Colonial Secretary, he will cause the necessary grants to be prepared and enrolled with surveys duly authenticated by the Surveyor General attached, and transmit them to the Government Agents for delivery.

18. Government Agents are directed to make every effort to procure correct returns of Government waste land in their Provinces, with reports of the nature of the soil and all other information which may be of use to Applicants for the purchase of waste land.

By His Excellency's Command,

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Colombo, 3d August 1841.

P. ANSTRUTHER²

* It has been generally assumed that the theory of "the king never dies," has been in practice since the Norman Conquest: consequently William I's reign has been usually dated from the day of the battle of Hastings, October 14, 1066, and all subsequent reigns from the death or deposition of the previous king. But the reigns of the first eight kings after the Conquest did not commence till their coronation. The principle of hereditary right was first distinctly recognized on the accession of Edward I, whose reign, however, did not commence till the day on which he was proclaimed king, four days after his father's death. The reign of Edward IV is dated from the day on which he deposed Henry VI; but it did not become law and practice to date a reign from the death of the previous king until the accession of Edward VI, on the death of his father Henry VIII.—a practice only since interrupted by the events following the death of Charles I and the expulsion of James II.

Total Population 130,870,954

Total Shipping belonging to the Colonies, 6,075 ships, 497,798 tons ; employing 34,020 men.

Of the total Exports or Imports of the Colonies to all parts there is no official account published, nor is there any separate account of the Colonial produce imported into this country, by which its amount can be ascertained by any but the Custom-House authorities. Mr. Martin, in his work on the Colonies, gives the following amounts —

Total Exports from the Colonies to all parts £20,989,000

Of which to Great Britain 14,275,500

Total Imports from all parts into the Colonies £25,545,500

Of which from Great Britain 9,935,860

But these are evidently incorrect at the present time, for the Export of British and Irish Produce and Manufactures from the United Kingdom to the Colonies, in 1839, exclusive of India, amounted to £11,482,707

India 4,748,607

Total £16,231,314

Besides these a protective duty of about 100 per cent. is imposed on hides and skins; furs also are protected, if from North America (chiefly Hudson's Bay). Spice, and in short all tropical productions, have likewise high differential duties in favour of the colonies.

PROTECTING LAWS IN FAVOUR OF BRITISH SHIPPING.

The above List shows the amount of protection which is given to the productions of our Colonies against Foreign Competition in British Markets, but the protection to British Shipping is of a still more important and conclusive character.

I.—No Foreign Vessel can be engaged in, or in any way interfere with our Coasting Trade.

II.—No Foreign Vessel can import into this Country for Home Consumption any other than the Produce of its Own Country; for instance—a French Vessel cannot load a cargo of Tallow at any Russian Port and export it into the United Kingdom for Home Consumption. It may bring such a cargo here and warehouse it, as is the case with many articles, but it must be re-exported, and cannot be entered for consumption in this country. If the Grower cannot carry his own produce the English must, but no other is permitted.

III.—In some instances, as in the case of Olive Oil, the Duty is even prejudicial to the right of the Grower to carry his own produce, for the Duty, if imported in a British Ship, is £4 4s. per tun; but if in a Ship belonging to any of the subjects of the King of the Two Sicilies, £6 6s. per tun.

IV.—Our Fisheries are in like manner protected from Foreign interference. The Duty on Whale Oil, if caught and imported by a British Vessel, is one shilling per tun; if Foreign, £26 12s. per tun.

V.—No article, the produce of our Colonies, can be imported and entered for Home Consumption in any other than British Ships manned by British Seamen.

Such is the great principle which runs through our Navigation Laws. It laid the foundation, and has been the cause of all our maritime greatness.

THE EMPIRE OF INDIA.

THE British Empire on the Continent of Asia is without a parallel in the history of the world. At the commencement of the 17th century a few English merchants skirted the coasts of the far famed peninsula of Hindostan, as humble suppliants to establish mercantile residencies on its fertile and wealthy soil, and in 1842, "The United Company of Merchants trading to the East Indies" are in possession of a territory extending over more than a million of square miles of the richest portion of the earth, and exercising dominion over an active and intelligent population of one hundred millions of souls, which they have restored from unheard of anarchy and bloodshed to comparative order, peace, and prosperity. The following outline of its history may be serviceable to the reader:

1599, Dec. 31. The first charter of the company was granted by Queen Elizabeth, and bears this date.

1606. Only three ships had been fitted out.

1608. The company subscribed £33,000 for a fourth voyage.

1616. The company raised a new capital of £1,629,400. Among the subscribers were fifteen dukes and earls, thirteen countesses, eighty-two knights, including judges and privy councillors, in all, 954 subscribers.

1632. The Mogul Emperor Shah Jehan granted permission to the English to trade and establish a factory at Pepley, a port in Orissa, now almost washed away and scarcely to be discovered.

1635. Charles I. granted a licence to Sir Wm. Courten and others to trade where the existing company had no settlements, but it led to such collision that shortly after a compromise was effected.

1639. The spot on which Madras now stands five miles along shore and one mile inland, was ceded to the company, with permission to erect Fort St. George.

1653. The East India trade was thrown open by Cromwell, but in 1657 he found it expedient to reinstate the company in all their privileges. Madras was raised to the rank of a presidency, the military force of which consisted of twenty-six soldiers, which the directors in 1654 ordered to be reduced to ten.

1656. Owing to the skill of an English doctor (Boughton,) the company received the Mogul's sanction to establish a factory on the right bank of the Hooghly.

1661. Charles II. granted a new charter. The Island of Bombay was ceded by the Portuguese to Charles, as part of the fortune of the Infanta Catherine.

1665. The company commenced a trade with China, and among the orders to their factors at Bantam, in 1667, was, "100/lbs. weight of the best tay he could gett."

1668. Charles II. transferred to the company the Island of Bombay, for which they agreed to pay to his Majesty £10 in gold every year, on the 30th day of September.

1669. The company received two canisters, containing 143½lbs. of tea, which is supposed to have been the first importation of this article. It was given away in presents, and used in the refreshment of their committees.

1676. The accumulation of profits enabled the company to double their capital.

1683. Bombay was erected into a Presidency.

1686. The exaction of the Mahomedan officers brought about a rupture with the English chief at Hooghly, and on the 20th of Dec. the company's factors quitted the place considering it indefensible, and removed their residence to Chuttanuttly village, now Calcutta, containing 1,500,000 inhabitants.

1687. The native population had flocked into the company's settlement at Fort St. George and the city of Madras to such an extent, that, on taking the census, it amounted to 300,000 souls.

1696. The company obtained permission to erect defences round their factories.

1698. The Government being in want of money, established a rival Joint-stock Company.

1700. The company paid Azim Ushaun, Viceroy of Bengal, a large sum for the township of Chuttanuttly and the adjacent lands of Calcutta and Govindpoor.

1702. Under Lord Godolphin's arbitration, a union of the two contending companies was effected under their present title.

1704. The whole stock of the company was removed to Fort William, the garrison of which consisted of 129 soldiers, only 66 of whom were Europeans.

1707. Fort William was erected into a Presidency.

1746. Sept. 7. The English Garrison of Fort St. George, amounting to 200 soldiers, surrendered to a strong French Force under Labourdonnais.

1749. It was restored to the company at the peace of Aix la Chapelle. During the occupation of Madras by the French, the company carried on their concerns at Fort St. David, a fortress on the sea coast, about 100 miles from Madras.

1756. The company up to this time had carried on a peaceable and prosperous trade, but they were now attacked by Moslem Surrajee ud Dowlah, who invested and captured the company's factory of Fort William, placed Mr. Holwell and his 146 companions in the "Black Hole," only eighteen feet square, and in less than twenty-four hours, not more than twenty-four Englishmen, and those prisoners, remained of the British Presidency in Bengal.

1757. Feb. 2. The company, after a sanguinary battle, recovered possession of Calcutta, and strongly fortified it. They concluded a peace with Surrajee, but this was of short duration, for Colonel (afterwards Lord) Clive, having reduced several of the French settlements, and discovering that Surrajee was intriguing with the French for the destruction of the English, resolved on attacking him, and on the 22nd of June he came up with him, and fought the celebrated battle of Plassy; with only 2,000 Sepoys and 900 Europeans he utterly defeated Surrajee, at the head of 50,000 foot, 18,000 horse, a body of French officers, and fifty pieces of artillery, and took the Nabob prisoner. The loss on the part of the English, were eight Europeans and sixteen Sepoys killed, and twelve Europeans and thirty-six Sepoys wounded. From this extraordinary battle may be dated the downfall of French influence and the commencement of the British Empire in India.

1758. The French attacked Fort St. David, and on the 1st June razed it to the ground. They then proceeded to again attack Madras, but, on the arrival of a reinforcement from England, they precipitately retreated, and on the 14th Jan. 1761, were made prisoners by Colonel Coote.

1765. The Mogul Emperor resigned all pretensions to Bengal, Bahar, and Orissa, for an annual stipend of £325,000 sterling.

1767. Hyder Ali wasted part of the company's territory with fire and sword.

1779. The company presented to the nation three 74 gun ships, besides a large sum of money in bounties to 6,000 seamen.

1780. At the head of 90,000 men, Hyder Ali approached Madras, and carried on a war with the company, with varied success, till he died in 1782.

1784. Mr. Pitt carried a bill, placing the Government of India under the Board of Control.

1792. Lord Cornwallis invested the formidable fortress of Seringapatam in Feb. with 41,000 men and 86 guns, in front of which Tippoo Saib gave battle, with 50,000 chosen infantry and 5,000 cavalry. The result was his utter defeat, with the loss of 23,000 men in killed and wounded, the surrender of half his dominions, the payment of four millions, and the delivery of his two sons as hostages.

1794. Tippoo received back his children and immediately commenced intriguing against the English.

1798. The Marquis Wellesley was appointed Governor General, under whom General (afterwards Lord) Lake broke the Mahratta confederacy, and by his success in arms a vast accession of territory accrued to the company.

1799. Feb. The Marquis Wellesley declared war against Tippoo Saib. Colonel Wellesley (now his Grace the Duke of Wellington) led the attack on the Sultan's army, which lay within thirty miles of the fortress of Seringapatam. He completely routed it, and compelled Tippoo to take refuge in the fortress, before which the British army encamped on the 5th April. On the 4th May, at one P. M., a storming party under the gallant General Baird, moved to the attack: the parapet was soon gained, and the fortress carried with immense slaughter. The body of Tippoo Saib was found among the dead. The Marquis Wellesley took possession of his dominions, and thereby added a great extent of territory to the company's possessions.

1803. Sept. 30. General Wellesley fought the battle of Assaye, and with 4,500 men attacked and defeated the Mahratta forces, consisting of 50,000 men, assisted by a well organized French artillery. General Lake also, with a similar force of 4,500 men, took up a position under the walls of Delhi, defeated 20,000 Mahrattas and their French auxiliaries, and took possession of the imperial city of Delhi. He also fought many other daring and brilliant engagements, and added 33,000 square miles to the company's territory.

The Great Mogul, his family, and the descendants of Tippoo Saib, were placed on the pension list of the company.

During the alarm of an invasion, the company came to the resolution to present the nation with 10,000 tons of shipping to guard the coast and to be maintained at their own expense.

1804. Lord Lake captured the formidable fortress of Bhurtpore, and reduced Holkar to such extremities that, although his standing army amounted to 150,000 cavalry, 40,000 foot, and 200 pieces of artillery, he was obliged to flee, almost unattended, for his life.

1813. An act passed, opening the trade to India, under certain restrictions, to private individuals, but continuing the exclusive Monopoly of the China trade in the company.

1817. The Marquis of Hastings took the field at the head of 81,000 infantry, and 33,000 cavalry, with a numerous and efficient artillery. He exterminated the Pindarris, and compelled many states to become tributary to the company.

1826. The Burmese were forced to sue for peace, resign all pretensions to 50,000 square miles of country, and pay 10,000,000 of rupees for the expenses of the war.

1833. The last charter was granted to the company, in which they agreed to place their commercial rights in abeyance, while they hold the political Government and patronage of India, which is extended by this charter to the 30th April 1854.

The Court of Directors enjoy full initiatory authority over all matters at home and abroad relating to the political, financial, judicial and military affairs of the company. But its proceedings are subject to certain acts of Parliament, to the superintendence of the Board of Control, and in several matters to the approval of the Court of Proprietors.

Court of Directors—Consist of twenty-four persons, chosen by the proprietors, who must hold £2,000 of the company's stock. Six directors retire annually by rotation and are eligible after twelve months' absence, thus the proprietors have a review of each director every four years. He must not be a director of the Bank of England or South Sea Company, and by a by-law of the company is liable to be removed if he should promote his own or the elevation of any other director by promises of reward, collusive transfer of stock, or payment of expenses, or receive any pecuniary or other remuneration whatever for any appointment in his gift or patronage as a director.

Proprietors—Holding stock for twelve months, to the extent of

£1,000	is entitled to one vote

6,000	" three "
10,000	" four "

At a recent calculation, the number of proprietors was 3,579. Persons holding stock to the extent of £500, are allowed to debate on any question, but cannot vote; and all under £500 can neither debate nor vote.

SANATORIUM OF CEYLON.

NUWERA-ELLIA.

NUWERA-ELLIA was first brought into notice and established as a Sanatorium in 1828 by the late Lieut. General Sir EDWARD BARNES, then Governor and Commander of the Forces in Ceylon—His Excellency's attention having been drawn to it by the report of some Officers accidentally directed here while on a shooting excursion, by the Natives. Sir EDWARD shortly afterwards visited it in person, when the lowness of its temperature and the apparent salubrity of its climate, suggested, to him the advantages that might be derived to the Command from its being made a Convalescent Station. At this period it was quite uninhabited, the only evidence of former occupancy being the remains of a small Building supposed to have been a Temple; the approach to it was difficult, consisting merely of a foot path used by the Natives who came here for the purpose of Elk hunting. It is situated on the Southern half of the Island, so far inland that in no direction is it nearer the sea than fifty miles, and is a table land at an elevation of 6200 feet, surrounded by lofty Hills which are covered with jungle to their very summits, the highest of which (being the most elevated point in Ceylon) rises 2000 feet above the Plain, for such an appellation has been applied altho' incorrectly to Nuwera-Ellia; a ridge of Hills running from S. W. to N. East, divides it into two unequal portions, the larger one being about $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles in length and $\frac{1}{2}$ in breadth; through this a considerable Stream, formed by the union of several smaller ones from the neighbouring Hills, flows in a Serpentine course, and forms one of the principal sources of the Mahaveliliganga River; the other portion, in which the Military Buildings are situated, is an extensive ravine—the sides consisting of undulating hillocks; this is much exposed to the violence of the S. West Monsoon, which often blows with terrific violence at this elevation; there is a third division of intermediate size, which is a bleak barren and lifeless waste—the soil is a black peat or substrata of Gravel, Marl and Cabuk; no Lime stone is found nearer than eight miles from the Plain—the soil when cultivated is very prolific, yielding almost all European Vegetables in abundance and of excellent quality; Wheat, Barley and Oats have also been cultivated on a small scale. Its botanical productions are nearly allied to those of the temperate regions; the Rhododendron is scattered in great abundance over the Plains and neighbouring Hills, while in the Flower Garden may be seen the Mignonette, the Dhalia, Hearts-ease and almost every variety of the Rose—the long continued rains, with the absence of any decided change of season, will probably prevent the successful cultivation of most European Fruits; the Peach seldom ripens and the Cherry tree scarcely blossoms—the Barbary, Bramble and wild Raspberry are, however, abundant, and Strawberries are little inferior in flavour to those at home. There are excellent Roads from Galle, Colombo and Kandy on the one side, and from Badulla on the other; from Galle the distance is about 184 miles, from Colombo 112, from Kandy 48 and from Badulla 36—this as well as its being in the neighbourhood of a rich and fertile Country, and being abundantly supplied at all seasons of the year with excellent Water, may be considered as decided local advantages.

The present Establishment consists of a Commandant, two Subalterns and a Medical Officer; one Subaltern commands the Detachment of European Troops, the other is stationed 12 miles off, in immediate command of a Company (Cassiers) of the Ceylon Rifle Regiment, who are employed as Pioneers on the Roads; the average number of European Soldiers (including Convalescents) is about 70, the Cassiers about the same number. The Military Buildings consist of a Commandant's and 2 Subalterns' Quarters (one occupied by the Officer commanding the Detachment, the other by the Medical Officer), a good Barrack capable of containing 100 men, and a Hospital capable of containing 18 patients; these Military Buildings have unfortunately been placed in a most ineligible position, completely exposed to all the violence of the S. W. Monsoon, and swattered as much as the extent and nature of the ground would admit of—the Commandant is nearly half a mile from Barracks, and the Medical Officer, for many months in the year, has almost to wade through a swamp to get to his Hospital, which is fully a quarter of a mile from his Quarter. The Cutcherry and Commissariat are also at a distance from Barracks, the former half a mile, the latter nearly a mile, which causes much unnecessary exposure to the men when mounting and being relieved off Guard. The duties of the Troops consist in furnishing daily, the Main, Cutcherry and Commissariat Guards—the number of men on Garrison duty being 12; there are also Garrison fatigues according to the established rules of the Service; formerly the men when off duty were allowed to work for the private residents, but this system has been very properly put an end to, as the additional facilities thereby afforded for intemperance, rendered it highly prejudicial to health and discipline; part of the Detachment, however, are still employed under the Royal Engineer Department, as the difficulty of procuring native labour renders their employment on the public works indispensable.

In addition to the Military Buildings there are several private residences, as well as a Rest-house, Cutcherry Establishment, Jail, &c. and the Bazaar is now of considerable extent, the Natives who inhabit it having betaken themselves to the cultivation of Potatoes for which they find ready and profitable markets in Kandy and Colombo.

It now remains to add, what may be considered of the greatest importance, viz. a few remarks on the Physical and Medical qualities of the climate, and we may observe that in the salubrity of its climate, this Station is perhaps unsurpassed by any within the tropics; here in the immediate neighbourhood of the Equator, even Solar heat is rarely unpleasant, while the temperature in the shade is generally much below the summer heat of England; the mean annual temperature may be taken as at 6 A.M. 53½ noon 63½ 6 P.M. 60½

The seasons are divided into the wet and dry, the former corresponding to the S. W. the latter to the North East Monsoon—the wet season consequently prevails from May to November or December, the dry from the latter to the former period. The Thermometer never rises in the shade beyond 70° , while during the dry season when clear calm nights succeed brilliant days, it may often be seen in the open air at daylight down to 28° , the grass covered with frost and ice half an inch in thickness. During the setting in of the South West Monsoon heavy and continued rains prevail, but when their violence has somewhat abated, the weather at this season, though gloomy, is pleasanter and probably more healthy than during the other period of the year, during which, a cloudless sky causes (in the open air) extreme ranges of the Thermometer; but even then, with a tropical and at times vertical Sun shining in all his meridian splendour, the Europeans may be seen employing themselves in the open air, at all hours, without any protection from his rays. During a period of three years during which I have been in Medical charge, I have seen no bad effects from solar heat to which men, women, and children (the latter generally with bare heads) so unhesitatingly expose themselves. With all these advantages, however, the climate though delightful after the heat of the Coast, wonderful and invaluable within the tropics, has no pretensions to be considered English—its influence on the healthy constitution is stimulant and exciting, improving the appetite and digestive organs, and producing an increase of bodily and mental energy; but here, as in all Mountain climates, there is a sense of dryness and constriction of the skin, the inevitable consequence of diminished atmospheric pressure, and which as has been well remarked, must always not only distinguish Climate cold from elevation from those whose temperature is the effect of Latitude, but must also render them inferior in therapeutic efficacy; notwithstanding this, however, as a Sanatorium, Nuwera-Ellia has been found of considerable benefit to this Command, and many individuals, who, in the absence of such a climate in the Island, must have returned to Europe, have by a residence here been saved the trouble and expense of such a step. Cases, however, have occurred (and not a few) that have progressed so slowly as to render an entire change of climate and above all a sea voyage indispensable—even in these latter, perhaps a more timely removal to this climate, might have had more beneficial effects. The diseases most likely to be benefited by a residence here, are functional derangements of the gastric, hepatic, enteric and nervous systems unaccompanied by organic lesion—fevers uncomplicated with local affections—debility arising from tedious convalescence or long residence within the tropics, and almost all the diseases of children—the chief advantage however, to be derived from a temporary residence, is more the prevention than the curing of disease; by a residence of four months during the hot season the constitution is invigorated and braced, thereby enabling it to resist more effectually those derangements which are the usual effect of long continued high temperature on the various organs and functions of the European constitution—this applies especially to children whose delicate frames so frequently succumb, in a tropical climate, under those acute attacks incidental to Infancy in all situations—and whose constitutions are generally rendered permanently weak and delicate by birth and long continued residence in a tropical climate.

GEO. STEWART BEATSON, A. M. M. D.

Asst. Staff Surgeon.

Nuwera-Ellia, 26th December 1842.

NOTE.—The results of the cases of two Officers, the one lately and the other still under my care, have increased my favourable impressions of the restorative powers of the climate of Nuwera-Ellia—the first mentioned was a case of ununited fracture of the arm of six months standing; two months' residence here produced firm and complete bony union—the other case was a compound and comminuted fracture of the right Patella, of so serious a nature that a less favourable climate must have rendered amputation necessary to save life; it was thought prudent in this climate to make an attempt to save the limb, and the result is most satisfactory—in several other cases of fractures both of the upper and lower extremities, I have always found union to proceed most favourably.

REPORT ON THE ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN, PERADENIA, NEAR KANDY.

IN submitting my first Report on the Royal Botanic Garden to His Excellency the Governor, I beg very respectfully to avail myself of the opportunity to direct public attention to the great importance and utility of such an institution, both in a scientific as well as in a practical point of view. It is much to be regretted that so few seem to be alive to the benefits which Uses of Botanic Gardens. may be derived to a country by the establishment of a Botanic Garden, which, while it assists men of talent and research in their studies of Natural Science, affords at the same time the best means of ascertaining the richness and variety of the vegetable productions, with which an all-bountiful Providence has adorned each land.

The excellent and learned Doctor William Carey in his introduction to the "Hortus Bengalensis" thus forcibly observes on the uses of Botanic Gardens. "By the formation of Botanic Gardens the labors of scientific men have been called forth and greatly aided, as these afford facilities for the improvement of Botanical Science, which might have been sought for in vain without the aid of such institutions. But the Botanic Gardens and other noble collections of plants in Europe could never have been brought to the perfection in which they now appear, had not public or private repositories of plants been formed in the different settlements in Asia, Africa and America;" and further that the great object of an institution of this kind is, "the propagating of useful plants, natives of other countries, and the consequent enriching of the country into which they are introduced."

These observations of Doctor Carey, a Botanist of no small eminence, and who was himself of the Utilitarian School of Philosophy, appear to be sound, rational and conclusive.

But if such be the advantages of cultivating Botanical Science in a general point of view, of what greater importance must the study of that Science be in this fine country, where plants, the most beautiful, singular and useful, are found spread over its whole extent, and where every effort to become acquainted with its economical productions, will most certainly be attended with no small profit.

I shall now proceed to the various points which I am anxious to submit to His Excellency's consideration, noticing them in the following order.

Subject of the Report. 1. The condition in which I have found the Garden.

2. A brief notice of some of the most useful plants at present growing in it.

3. The improvements I have been effecting.

4. A few suggestions for the advancement of the Garden.

1. Condition of the Garden. It is with extreme reluctance that I enter on this point of my Report, as it may perhaps be considered that I take occasion to reflect on the labors of my predecessors. I beg therefore that it may be distinctly understood that I have not the remotest wish of detracting aught from the merit of their services; but a sense of duty to the Government and my own anxiety for the advancement and success of the Garden, render it obligatory on me briefly to advert to the condition in which I have found it.

When I took charge of the Garden which was in February last, nearly a month after the death of Mr. Normansell, I feel bound to state, that it presented to me no very encouraging aspect; nor was it by any means in the condition in which I expected to find it. Little attention appeared to have been given to conduct it scientifically and with a reference to public good; or to preserve it in order and extend its cultivation. Several portions of land, surrounding the small extent of cultivated ground, are covered with thick jungle, and such even as were in a state of cultivation, as far back as the days of the indefatigable Moon and some of his immediate successors, from having been sadly neglected, are now overgrown with weeds, &c.

This useless exuberant vegetation occupies various conspicuous parts of the Garden, and I need hardly observe, that it greatly impedes the improvements which I propose effecting, independently of its being productive of no small injury to the cultivated parts themselves.

On examining these jungles, I find traces of exotic plants, roads, &c. which are evident indications of their having been at one time properly cultivated. Several roads and walks in the Garden have also been totally obliterated from various causes.

It affords me however much pleasure to be able to notice, that Mr. Normansell made a commencement of labeling all the plants he cultivated and began setting apart portions of ground for the purpose of planting them according to the "Natural Order": and I cannot also in justice omit to remark that the Garden is indebted to Mr. Lear (one of its former Superintendents) for many of the beautiful arrangements and orderly disposition of plants, flower beds, &c. now found in it.

2. A brief notice of a few of the most useful plants in the Botanic Garden.

One of the chief objects of a Botanical Garden being the introduction and cultivation of rare and useful plants, it may perhaps be desirable that I notice a few* of such as are at present growing in the Garden.

Sisso Seedlings sent to the Garden, by the Hon-ble P. Anstruther, Esq.

I have much satisfaction in being able to report on the success which has attended the introduction of the Sisso (Dalbergia Sisso, Roxb.) The seedlings of this most useful timber tree were chiefly obtained through the instrumentality of the Honble P. Anstruther, Esq., and it will no doubt be gratifying to that Gentleman to know the fact, as he has always felt an interest in the progress of the Botany of this Island.

From the vigorous growth of the plants (of which there are 160 in the Garden) it may be fairly anticipated that much benefit will be derived to the Colony, as they become more generally introduced. †

Myristica Officinalis, Linn.

The Nutmeg is now covered with flower and fruit, and I have been already able to raise a pretty good number of seedlings (about 180) from the ripe fruits.

The Nutmegs are of an excellent flavour.

Caryophyllus Aromaticus, Linn.

Clove trees are likewise growing remarkably well, and are all at this moment in full bearing. A vast number of seedlings have been obtained, and there are still a great many available at the Garden.

* For more plants, vide Appendix A.

† Teak and Mahogany thrive luxuriantly in the Garden. Mesua ferra (Iron wood) and Dodonaea viscosa (Switch Sorrel) yield wood which is close grained, and I think may be used for wood cuts. They are natives of Catura, but are also found in the Central Province.

Amomum Cardamomum, Linn. Cardamom plants are found here growing since the days of Mr. Moon. The Cardamom they produce is of an excellent quality, and I have no doubt will always find a ready market.

Eugenia Pimenta, D. C. All Spice succeeds well.

Metaleuca Cajuputi, Roxb. Metaleuca Cajuputi, a well known and useful medicinal plant grows remarkably well, and has been introduced into this Garden from the Honble Company's Botanic Garden, Calcutta. Croton Tiglium, Linn. Croton Tiglium, Linn.—a native of this Island, promises to be of much medicinal use, if only extensively cultivated.

Janipha Manihot, H. B. K. Janipha Manihot, a plant from which the Tapioca is made, thrives well here.

Datura Stramonium, Linn. Datura Stramonium. (In Singhalese, Ratta alana. Rata signifies, foreign) grows in the Garden remarkably well, and I have seen several plants in the neighbourhood of Kandy growing wild with much vigour and luxuriance.

Theobroma Cacao, Linn. The Chocolate plant grows exceedingly well, and with very little care:—Seedlings also of this plant shoot up spontaneously about the Garden; its beans, when prepared like Coffee, make an excellent drink, so that the well chosen name of "food of the gods" by which the illustrious Linnæus has designated it, holds good in the case of our own plants.

Vanilla Aromatica. The sweet Vanilla is found in Peradenia on some of its noble hills; but I am sorry to state that it does not thrive so well in the Botanic Garden, as in its own locality.

West Indian Yam. (Arum Sp.) "West Indian Yam" grows abundantly in the place, it is excellent in quality and is only known as it ought to be, it will I think, supersede the Potatoes. It is very easily cultivated. Mauritius Sugar Cane grows well I merely allude to this as it is a well known fact in this country. Several portions of the Garden are covered with Coffee plants, most of which are now in full bearing, and all applicants are most liberally supplied with seedlings.

Mauritius Sugar Cane. The Coffee is most excellent in quality and equal to the very best kind.

Sansevieria Zeylanica. Among plants producing vegetable fibre, the Sansevieria, Zeylanica, Linn. is deserving of particular attention, as it yields a very strong and durable cordage.

Sago and Date Palms. The Sago and Date Palms grow well here, but as Ceylon is a country which is so remarkable for its fine majestic Palms, I need perhaps hardly notice the circumstance.

Tobacco. I have recently succeeded in raising seedlings from the Jiblee and Ransa Tobacco seeds kindly given to me by Dr. William Griffith, the able Superintendent of the Honble Company's Botanic Garden. Calcutta

3. The improvements I have been effecting. In the third place I beg leave to call His Excellency's attention to the improvements I have been effecting.

One of the first things, to which my attention was called after I had taken charge of the Garden, was the putting in order the cultivated part, which I have almost succeeded in accomplishing.

I am also engaged in collecting chiefly from the jungles, the greatest number of species of indigenous plants and arranging them, as far as practicable, according to the "Natural Order," a system of great importance in every Botanic Garden, but which does not appear to have been generally adopted here.

It would seem however from the regular arrangements, of some plants, that the late Mr. Moon conducted his operations, to a certain extent, according to the Linnæan system of classification.

One great advantage of collecting together native plants will be the opportunity which will thus be afforded of examining and ascertaining, with the greatest facility and precision, their various properties and qualities, and it is perhaps the more necessary to do this, as I have good reasons to believe that this Island contains many plants which may serve the purposes of Commerce, and the Technical Arts, and be used as Mordants also in Medicine.

Appropriation of a piece of ground as a Medico-Botanic Garden. Considering the great utility of indigenous medicinal plants, and encouraged by certain works recently published at Calcutta and Madras, on the subject of Indian Botany and Materia Medica, I have devoted an extent of 5 acres of land for such plants.

There are not a few drugs of this Country that may be substituted for those of Europe, which are costly, difficultly obtained, and very often, are found to be inert from having been kept long.

A few instances in proof of this observation may here be adduced. The Hemidesmus Indicus, R. Br. is an excellent substitute for the Sarsaparilla, nay I am bound to say (as I have known its virtue practically) it is even to be preferred to the Sarsaparilla itself. In India this is extensively used with success, and the opinion of the Faculty in Calcutta is much in its favor.* Witness again the bitter tonic,† Cocculus Cordifolius, D. C. In Plumbago Zeylanica, Linn. a plant of this Island, we have a blistering agent; add to these the Convolvulus Turpethum, Linn. (Ipomea Turpethum, R. Br.) Croton Tiglium and Hebradendron Gambogioides of Professor Graham, which are useful Cathartic Medicines. Observe likewise the Strychnos Nuxvomica, Linn. a most formidable poison found abundantly in the jungles, but a valuable remedy in paralysis, rheumatism, neuralgia, &c. Many others may here be enumerated; but it is not necessary to do this on the present occasion.

I cannot take leave of this subject without inserting the just remark of the learned Professor Lindley, who observes, "No one will be bold enough to assert that the Physician already possesses the most powerful agents produced by the vegetable kingdom; for every year is bringing some new plants into notice for its energy, while others are excluded because of their inertness. In tropical countries, where a fervid sun, a humid air, and a teeming soil give extraordinary energy to vegetable life, the natives of these regions often recognise the existence of potent herbs, unknown to the European practitioner. We are not altogether to despise the experience of natives less advanced in knowledge than ourselves, or to suppose because they may ascribe imaginary virtues to some of their official substances, as has been abundantly done by ourselves in former days, that therefore the remedial properties of their plants are not worth a serious investigation; or that their medical knowledge is beneath our notice, because they are unacquainted with the terms of modern science."

In order to possess the means of making more liberal distribution of plants, seeds, &c. to applicants, I have commenced, on a small scale, a Nursery, which, I beg to remark, is a very useful accessory to Botanic Gardens in India; for as my honoured Preceptor, the eminently learned Doctor Wallich, has justly remarked "From the absence of the facilities which exist in Europe, the Botanical Gardens in India are obliged to unite in themselves the Offices of Botanist, Gardener, Nurseryman and Seedsman."

* By desire of the Medical Board of Bengal, the Honble Company's Dispensary has been supplied with 13½ maunds of the root of the Hemidesmus from the Calcutta Botanic Garden.

† Hemidesmus indicus, in Sinhalese Irimus, in Tamul Nannare vair, in Bengalle, Annote Mul.

† This may supply the place of the Quassia.

Garden divided into Departments. It thus appears that the Garden at present comprises the three following divisions:

1. Plants interesting in a purely Botanic view.
2. Medicinal plants, chiefly natives of this country, to ascertain their true medicinal virtues.
3. A Nursery.

With a view of obtaining an ample and faithful collection of plants of this Island, I intend forming an Herbarium, having duplicate specimens (if possible more) of such plants; which may be eventually disposed of in a manner the most advantageous to Botanical Science.

Measures necessary for the advancement of the Botanic Garden. I have now in conclusion to suggest a few measures for the advancement of the Garden.

The first thing necessary to be done, is clearing the extensive portions of ground, which are now overgrown with jungle, and of course perfectly useless for any Botanical or Horticultural purpose, which, it must be evident, will require more laborers than are at present employed, as it would prove but mere fruitless effort to attempt such a work with those I have now in the Garden.

The establishment may however be reduced, as soon as the useless exuberant vegetation in the place is destroyed, and the Garden well laid out and duly organized.

I beg also to bring to His Excellency's notice the necessity of employing two additional men on the fixed Establishment for the Nursery, whose sole duty it will be to practise Horticultural operations under my superintendence.

In training these men for their work, I shall endeavour to adopt the excellent principles and practice laid down by Professor Lindley in his able work on the "Theory of Horticulture," a book which deserves to be more extensively known here than it is at present.

An additional Plant Collector is likewise highly necessary, I would say indispensable, to make proper collections of, and prepare plants for the Herbarium. There is at present but one plant collector.

The climate of Nuwera Ellia being so much allied to that of the temperate parts of the Globe, and the vegetation on and around its hills resembling that found in those parts; I would respectfully suggest to His Excellency the Governor the establishment of a little experimental garden there, in order to naturalize the most useful plants of Europe. I have been led to make this suggestion from having been kindly allowed access to Captain Champion's collection of plants made during his little excursions into Nuwera Ellia and Adam's Peak, where I find several plants, natives of a cold climate.

B.

REMARKS on the state of Botany in Ceylon with reference to the knowledge of it in April 1843 and an attempt at arranging its Flora as known to Moon and resident Botanists according to locality and elevation, commonly called Geographical distribution of a Flora—by Captain CHAMPION, 95th Regt.

On first arrival in Ceylon our Botanical Griffin, will feel very fairly puzzled as to what he is to regard as new and interesting in the vast mass of green jungle stretched before his wondering eyes. It may be that he can distinguish a Cocoa Palm from a Jack tree at first sight, and if he has common intelligence he will shortly become acquainted with the mysteries of eating the various fruits served on the desert Table, and perhaps even enquire after the trees upon which they are produced, in which case I would recommend his consulting his black Appoo, as he may not always be successful in elucidating a correct answer from his companions of the preceding evening.

However this may be, a great deal is to be said respecting Opeca-Palms, and Bettlenut. Pumplemos and Forbidden fruit. The Bread fruit, Indian-rubber tree, the Banyan, Cashew and half a score more, and if he has not previously in England been the possessor of a little Pitcher plant, hermetically sealed and restricted to the last watering of the Hot House Gardner for six months to come, this pretty plant may be pointed out to him as one of the wonders of the Coast: but here knowledge closes her ample store, and if he has not perseverance to wade thro' Lindley, Moon, Wight and Arnott Roxburgh, and a few other Tomes, studded like the sands of the sea shore with hard names, he will have finished his education in six months, and know as much of botany as most of his neighbours do.

Economy and utility are the order of the day. Who has been in the interior and seen Sugar Plantations, and Coffee Gardens and Coolies clearing, until Coolies are scarce, and will not say that Mammon is hard at work, there is nothing like English labor and industry, and this we will say with three cheers whether in Ceylon, or the Park, or on the Thames with her forest of Masts.

Ceylon is a money making land, and many come out to make money and to live to save, but a few are here for a few years, and care less for money and more for agreeable society, and the many charms of the good old land, these regret to find but little of the dulce and society at a low ebb for we are all in the jungle, and just so many Robinson Crusces with our man Friday.

To the latter it will be no small pleasure to do as we have done in England. History, Literature and the arts can agreeably vary the usual routine of life, let me also suggest Horticulture and her twin-sister Botany, for its knowledge will enrich your grounds and house, with many a pleasing object, and pass many a dull hour whilst even the monotonous jungle becomes a source of delight.

I have not however sat down to persuade; in all countries. Horticulture and Botany are charms to but a portion of the community, but to a sufficient number to become subjects of public attention, and even to attract the notice of Government, this is the age for botany as well as other pursuits. Kew re-established—and in the hands of the most accomplished Botanist, of the day—the princely greenhouses of Dropmore, Chatsworth, Woburn Abbey, and many noble residences; whilst foreign countries are ransacked by collectors for private Greenhouses or public societies—We find the late duke of Bedford importing from Mexico a Waggon load of Cactuses, one of which an Echino-cactus weighed upwards of two cwt. and had to be carried for some distance on the shoulders of eight Indians. Another (a cactus-senilis) which some of us may have seen in England, was fourteen feet high. In Ceylon we know that the Duke of Northumberland has not been idle, he may possibly be better acquainted with its botany than our present residents. The great Duke himself, can boast of the best avenue of Beech trees in the kingdom at Strathfieldsay, (better even than Sir Walter's.) It is related of him that when London was engaged in the publication of his Arboretum "he wrote for permission "to take drawings from some of the trees of Strathfieldsay, the "Duke mistook the signature for that of Ch. James, Bishop "of London (J. C. London) and supposing that the Bishop "patronised the science of botany, wrote to him that His Lord- "ship might do what he pleased with the giants of his famous "avenue, except cut them down. The Bishop we presume, "must have been a good deal puzzled with this limited Church "commission "Poor Mr. London lost his chance" It is many years since Ceylon had attracted the attention of European Botanists. The great author of the Linnean system with much taste and judgment, thus draws a comparison between the vegetation of Ceylon, and as it would appear that of his own native country Sweden "A delicious climate has granted to this Island

 "plants of such variety and value, that scarcely any soil can
 "vie with it, for the abundance of its aromatic productions.
 "Whilst Pine Forests occupy our cold and sterile regions, in "Ceylon the Cinnamon trees constitute whole groves, in such
 "plenty indeed, that the inhabitants are accustomed to employ
 "the wood for household furniture, for fuel and for cooking, our "orchards are planted with apples, Pears, Plumes and "Cherries and other similar trees, but in Ceylon nothing is "esteemed save the lofty Palms, among which the Cocoanuts
 "chiefly afford the needful food, utensils and every thing neces"sary to mankind. The Caryota there yields a wine called
 "Suri, and the Corypha or Fan Palm, extend their broad,
 "smooth and plaited fronds, which serve for shade and shelter
 "they are most requisite for protection from the sun's rays, as "well as from sudden showers to the Natives, whose only gar"ment is a scanty covering of linen. Date Palms and the "superb Bananas decorated with wide spreading and glossy fo"liage, present in great profusion, racemes of the most delicious
 "fruit, to say nothing of the more valuable productions with "which the soil every where abounds, such as Mangos, the "Jack, Malay apples, Psidia Oranges, and Citrons, Cashew-
 "nuts, Averrhoas &c. Our fields are sown with common Bar"ley and Rye, but those of the Cingalese receive nothing but "Rice, which affords them flour and bread. Our marshes are "covered with Cattle, their's with fragrant Amonum. Persicarias
 "occupy our waste places; but with them grow different species
 "of Pepper. In our meadows spring the Ranunculus, Plan-
 "tains Convallarias, and many other neglected plants; in their "numerous kinds of Hedysarum, Galega, Hibiscus, Justicia
 "Cliome, Impatiens, Anomum Myrtle, and Ricinus, besides
 "numerous climbers as Ipomoea Dioscorea Ba-ella, Aristolo-
 "chia, Ophioglossum, Phascolus Momordica, Bryonia, Vine, "Cissus, Pothos, Loranthus, and Acrosticum. In the room of "the meadow sweet and mints the pastures in Ceylon are "scented with Basil and the woods with Cinnamon. Every"where occur the most precious Aromatics Ginger, Cardamons,
 "Galange, Costus, Arcorus, Schœnanthus, Calamus, Aromati-
 "cus, and flowers of the most exquisite color and structure and
 "fragrance, such as Crinum, Pancratium, and Gloriosæ as well "as those plants which saturate the night air with their delici"ous scent such as the Tiberase, (Polyanthus.) and Nyctanthus."
 It was at this period that Burmann labored in Ceylon and the results were "Thesaurus Zeylanicus" a very creditable work at the period when published. Burmann lent his collection to Linnaeus, who published descriptions from it, as appears from Sir J. Smith's tour on the continent in 1793. The same author also mentions Hermans Ceylon Plants at Leyden Copenhagen and that a copy was afterwards published by Sir Joseph Banks. Sir J. Banks seems to have been interested in Ceylon Botany, for Sir William Hooker studied in his museum preparatory to going out with General Brownrigg, unfortunately family occurrences prevented this taking place. In Wight and Arnott's Prodromus of Indian botany there is a very good account of the Indian Botanists up to the time of Roxburgh, their works are of very little service in the present state of Indian botany with exception of the edition of Roxburgh's Indian Flora by Wallich, which is very good. Royle, Wight and Arnott and Wallich are in India what Hooker and Lindley are at home, and we owe to them a most complete knowledge of Indian botany: all their works are most instructive. Meanwhile to return to Ceylon botany—Moon the first superintendant of the Botanic Gardens, established at Peradenia seems to have performed his duties in a most creditable manner. In 1824 he published a list of Ceylon Plants, which is too well known in the Island to require any recommendation: a few mistakes have crept in and many of the genera have been altered since 1824; other plants are to be added, but still it is most useful up to the present improved age of the science; He must have formed a good Herbarium, but only a few plants are now extant, so that no means are left of ascertaining the plants which were undescribed in Moon's time and consequently named by Moon—except by the Native names and they are fluctuating and not always correct where rare plants are in question.

Watson, Lear, and Normansell who succeeded Moon have done but little for Ceylon botany.

Previous to 1838 Colonel and Mrs. Walker paid great attention to Ceylon botany. Mrs. Walker had the advantage of being an excellent flower painter and her tracings of plants are considered very beautiful; their collection of plants went home to England in—39 or—40 and is supposed to have added a very large list to our Flora.

Dr. Wight was on a visit to Ceylon in 1836: he made an excursion with Colonel Walker and collected above 500 species of plants. After this a Mr. Nightingale collected for the Duke of Northumberland and a Mr Mac Rae seems to have been in the Island: he has added to the grasses.

Mr. Bennett on return from New South Wales visited Ceylon and has published some interesting particulars on the different varieties of the Cocoa Palm.

The Flora of Java is quite unknown here: the researches of Blume, Reinwardt, Dr. Horsfield and others might enable us to ascertain several of the species not indigenous to India.

Finally a Mr. Cumming brought an immense Herbarium of plants for sale from the Indian Archipelago about 1840 to London. A list of the Ferns has been published and probably contain many of the Ceylon species.

From the preceding remarks it will be observed that whilst in 1842 the state of knowledge of botany in Ceylon was at a very low ebb, materials had gone to England which may have enabled botanists in England or India to form a very good estimate of our Flora and indeed it appears that Lindley has drawn very largely on Ceylon for Orchideous Plants altho our present list in Moon is very limited. The Gardens are possessed of drawings of a very beautiful series of Ceylon plants which cannot all be ascertained by the scanty references to be obtained from its indifferent library. Such is the state of our knowledge up to April 1843. But I have here the pleasing duty of remarking that a few months may see a very improved state of our knowledge, as the Government has most liberally come forward in purchasing books of Modern reference which have already arrived and will shortly be open to the public. It is also expected that the labours of Colonel Walker and the knowledge of Indian botanists will shortly be made known in Ceylon and it is in contemplation to publish a corrected list of plants indigenous to the Island. Possibly some years may elapse ere our knowledge is very complete, but it cannot fail but that yearly much will be added to our Flora.

Botany is by many people considered a very dry study and undoubtedly it is the grammar to horticulture, agriculture and higher branches of a knowledge of vegetation, usually allowed to be important in the daily routine of life. To those interested in it as a pursuit, it opens a very curious field of observation in the structure of plants and for many other considerations; and those who have mastered its difficulties will turn their attention to all the higher branches of the subject with singular success and unravel many of the mysteries of agriculture and commerce. I will briefly give a few instances: Cinnamon and Cassia have been known as articles of commerce from a very early period, as far back as some of the earlier Greek Historians. As such our merchants are perfectly acquainted with their peculiarities, but not so with the sources from which produced. It is true that the Dutch had cultivated the true Cinnamon plant and so it was known how we got Cinnamon and it was certain that Cassia came both from Ceylon and India and must be known to those who had prepared it for the market. Now just about the period that Cinnamon had begun to fall in value, people in England began to ask what Cassia was, some said it came from a different tree from that producing Cinnamon, others supposed it to be an inferior produce of the Cinnamon tree, the tree allowed to grow old, or the bark of branches of a different year's growth. Of course the old Dutch writers were referred to and then it appeared that certainly there was a Cassia tree, as well as a Cinnamon tree, but when botanists began to look further, they found that scarcely two botanists agreed about the description of the Cassia tree although several had professed to describe it very correctly. Botanists in England began to fancy there might be many varieties of Cinnamon or of the true Cinnamon; so they got specimens of Cinnamon and Cassia and all the information they could on the subject, but just sufficient to leave a great deal to be said on both sides. In 1838 the question was at last taken up by the Madras Government and they went to work by obtaining specimens of Cinnamon and Cassia and reports upon them from the Government Agents of places where these articles were exported and were also so assisted by Colonel Walker and the Ceylon Government. The reports were very conflicting and unsatisfactory, but fortunately Government had always insisted on specimens being sent and these were placed in the hands of Dr. Wight. Dr. Wight and other botanists were aware that a great many species of Cinnamon existed and many of these had been described by either Roxburgh, Blume or the Brothers Nees ab Essenbeck; so that although Dr. Wight could not in all instances determine the species sent, because they might be deficient in flowers or fruit, as the Government Agents might not in all instances be up to the requisites of a dried specimen for an Herbarium, yet in many instances he did discover what the species of Cinnamon was as described in books or as new species, and hence he at last was able to settle the question very determinately, and Cassia is found both to be an inferior preparation of the true Cinnamon tree and also the better portions of bark of a great variety of Cinnamon trees of different species and which do not yield true Cinnamon—Also that inferior Cinnamons are produced in various parts of the Indian Coast and these are of species differing from the true Cinnamon of Ceylon. Dr. Blume, enumerates in Java eleven species of Cinnamon yielding aromatic barks and several of these are said to vie with the very finest Cinnamon of our market. Now I may here observe that Botany is certainly of some use. For when all the species shall have been described and the English Merchants are satisfied that there are other good Cinnamons besides the true Cinnamon, many of the under rated Cinnamons will be estimated at their proper value, and if a Coffee Planter should find a good deal of Cinnamon on his estate and can discriminate his species, he will be aware of its exact value whether as Cinnamon or Cassia by ascertaining the name.

A great many other instances might be cited with respect to our Medical Pharmacopœia. Drugs are purchased at a very high price from foreign Countries, when it is probable that other species in our own Colonies are possessed of similar qualities, which might certainly supersede the more expensive articles, where indigenous. Sarsaparilla is one and various species. of Convolvulus of this Country might produce jalap without resorting to the Mexican or true jalap. It is only by a botanical knowledge of species that we could impart such knowledge or discovery to the public.

Gamboge is another article of commerce and there are Gamboges of various qualities produced from different trees which require botanical discrimination. It created a good deal of attention a few years previous and Colonel Walker was interested in the enquiry and in discovering the Ceylon species. Dr. Graham has at last settled the question determinately and the true Gamboge plant is found to be far more rare than the tree commonly supposed to produce the Gamboge of commerce. The latter is very rare and I believe not even indigenous to Ceylon, whilst the former (a common tree) produces a Gamboge which would be scarce saleable.

Some good articles have been written in the periodicals and Newspapers of our Colony on articles of commerce or culture and it is reasonable to suppose that the Agricultural Society will do much for Ceylon on such points. It is also to be expected that horticulture will extend thro' the exertions of individuals and that our Peradenia Gardens on the new footing will yearly add to the taste for improving fruits and vegetables and the introduction of foreign productions. Meanwhile it seems very desirable to ascertain the really indigenous Flora of Ceylon and the peculiar features of certain localities. With this view I shall lay before the public a few hints towards the Geographical distribution of our Flora, premising that it has been made up from a very short experience and from knowledge, derived from my want of modern works of botany from the older authors up to the time of Moon and the Prodromus of Wight and Arnott. As this is about the amount of knowledge of the usual run of residents in the Island, it may serve as a ground work until a better article on the subject from some more experienced hand shall have been published.

GEOGRAPHICAL DIVISION OF PLANTS IN CEYLON.

Part of the trees and plants in Ceylon (and these the most common in occurrence as forming the mass of vegetation) are found nearly all over the Island in favorable situations. Being of hardy growth few are peculiar to Ceylon but extend over India and the neighbouring Islands, of such plants I have made a selection in Table 1st, it includes many of the handsomer trees and shrubs of Ceylon. Many of these must be familiar to every resident. The Soursop tribe, Country Almond, Guava, Jamboe, Coronet-tree, Ceiba or Cotton, Thespesia, Indian Olive, Pimpla, Lemon and Orange, Tree-spurge, Coral, Sappan, Peacock-flower, Horseradish-tree, Bauhinia, Cashew, Mango, Mulberry, Banyan, Jack, Breadfruit, Cassia, Cinnamon, Chaste-trees, Teak, Forbidden fruit, Temple-flower, Palmyra, Beetle-nut, Jaggherry-tree, Cocoa-palm, Plantain, Screw-pine Indian rubber-tree, Sago, Papaw, Bamboo, Tamarind, Castor, Amotto, with trees, shrubs and flowers of less specious appearance and many weeds. In some instances they have been introduced into hot-houses in England, but not universally—for what is most common in tropical climates is sometimes neglected to be sent home and of this there is a very curious instance in the Banyan. No foreign production has been oftener quoted than the Banyan both in verse and prose by English writers and it has been well described by both Cordiner and Roxburgh some thirty years ago, yet two of the most popular writers of the day Lindley and London have confused it with the Bo-tree (Ficus religiosa) a very different species and Moon in his catalogue with Ficus Benghalensis, it really being the Ficus Indica and remarkable for its vast rooting branches, in which peculiarity it differs from both those other species of Fig. Major Forbes and the writer having sent Sir W. Hooker sketches of the Banyan under the name of Ficus Benghalensis, Sir W. published a detailed account of this tree, correcting the above errors, and stating that he suspected that English Herbaria are miserably defective in specimens of the true Banyan. His own, rich in the productions of our Eastern possessions, had not a single specimen in March 1841 and Dr. Arnott had but one indifferent specimen. It is called Manuga in Ceylon. On the subject of Banyans I will pass over Sonthey's beautiful description in the case of Kahama's and Colonel Syke's famous tree in the Poonah collectorate which has 68 stems descending from the branches and capable of giving shade, but I will mention a circumstance which has lately struck me as curious. Somewhere in the Asiatic transactions Sir Wm. Jones says "it is true that minute ants are hatched in the ripe fruit of the Udumbara (or racemed Fig) whence it is named gamtéphale; and the Pandits compare it to the mundane egg"—now although I have always looked upon Sir W. Jones as a very enquiring personage and very clever man. I in this instance at once set him down as following the theories of the school of 1552, who believed that Insects were spontaneously produced! and therefore not very much astonished had noted his opinion as rather curious with three of the accompanying marks (!!!) exactly to denote my own opinion on the subject. We have the racemed Fig in Kandy and I had seen the fruit but I must say I never took any steps to investigate Sir Wm. Jones' theory. However the other day I happened to bring home some of the fruit of the Carpenter-fig, which I found growing on the root.

and on opening some I found they contained nearly a tea spoonful of pure water, which is, a curious instance of vegetable economy and on opening another I discovered about a dozen ants inside. Now there was nothing remarkable in this had the fruit been penetrated, but on search I was obliged to confess that I could not discover any opening in any part of the fruit and consequently it is no wonder that Sir W. Jones thought the Pundits really correct. How they entered I shall leave you to determine, but suppose that the economy of the parent Insect is to introduce her eggs when the fruit is at a very early stage of growth and that afterwards with the growth of the fruit the fissure becomes entirely obliterated. It is evident that the supply of water together with flowers and seed (all which are produced inside the fruit) are sufficient to support the ants, who are a very thirsty race. The Cingalese, who have naturally rather a turn for botany and the appropriation of all sorts of trees and leaves to medicine and curries, believe that Banyans have no flowers and altho' you may not have sharper eyes than they have and can hardly point them out in the tree, a Botanist will shew a trick worth two of theirs, for on quietly turning the fruit inside out and attached to the inner skin you will find either the flowers or the seed which they afterwards turn into.

To return to the distribution of the Ceylon Flora, many of the trees and plants commonly spread over the Island are of great service and utility to the Natives and Europeans either as timber, fruits, medicines, dyes or economical purposes. In many instances the properties are known and have become available but in other instances from what we read of respecting the use made of these trees and plants amongst certain tribes on the Continent of India or Burmese Territories it may be conjectured that they have been overlooked or neglected—thro' the spirited exertions of individuals in the Company's service most of these economical vegetable productions have been described under scientific names and descriptions and consequently when our Ceylon Flora is botanically named, we shall without difficulty avail ourselves of the experience thus to be acquired. The greatest exactness is often requisite in describing plants of common occurrence to prevent error for instance much of the native street of India is smelted by the use of a species of Mudar plant, the Calotropis gigantea (a common plant in Ceylon) and its root and bark is said by Lindley to be a powerful alterative and purgative and of importance in cases of leprosy and elephantiasis—but later researches prove the Mudar plant to be a different plant viz. the Calotropis procera which is not known in this Island and it seems very doubtful how far the Calotropis gigantea (or Curl flower) may share the qualities of the real Mudar plant, I think it was Dr. Wallich who published remarks on the real Mudar plant being the Calotropis procera. On the other hand Mr. Wilkinsson in Feb'y. 1839 made known the native method of smelting steel, the ore used was magnetic oxide of iron 52 to 48 of quartz and was reduced in four hours by a furnace, to which was used charcoal fuel. Afterwards being placed in a crucible with dried wood of the Cassia auriculata and green leaves of the (Asclepias) Calotropis gigantea and a certain process used excellent steel is produced. If Mr. Wilkinson has made no mistake in this plant there seems no reason why the natives here should not convert old iron into steel with facility, both plants being of common occurrence on the Coast. It is not the intention of this paper to enter into the economical uses of the vegetable Kingdom of the Island. A very bulky volume might be produced on the many valuable resources that exist and that are known and made use of by the natives of other countries I restrict myself to the botany with casual remarks to shew to how many objects of interest, use, or curiosity it will lead. Passing from Table 1 we come to the plants of the Maritime Provinces or sea coast of Ceylon. It seems to have been partially explored at Trincomalee, and Mr. Moon has visited Negombo, Putlam and Jaffna, but so very little is known respecting their Floras, that we are really inclined to look upon them as unexplored botanically, so that in reality Table 2 is merely that part of the coast extending from Colombo towards Galle, and it is supposed that the general features will extend to the whole coast of Ceylon, but will vary in certain localities. Putlam for instance having saltwater lakes will have its peculiar characteristics in such localities, and Jaffna seems to differ considerably in climate and productions from the southern portions of the coast: In the neighbourhood of large rivers, it is possible that the productions of a more hilly country may casually occur, as transported in their seed vessels during floods and the monsoon season. However theoretical this view may at first appear it is known to be practically correct to a small extent and that in this way volcanic Islands and Coral reefs become vegetated in the Ocean and Islands thrown up by the embankment of sand in rivers. In connection with this subject, Lyell mentions Geology vol. II "Fruits indigenous to America and the West Indies, such as Mimosa scandens, the Cashew-nut and others" (all natives of Ceylon,) have been known to be drifted across the Atlantic by the Gulf stream, on the western Coast of Europe, in such a state that they might have vegetated had the climate and soil been favorable, among these the Guilandina Bonduc, a leguminous plant, is particularly mentioned, as having been raised from a seed found in the West Coast of Ireland." The Guilandina Bonduc is very common all over the interior of this Island. But altho' this is a proof of the very great distance that seeds may be floated without destroying in every instance the vegetating powers, it does not seem sufficient for our purpose, and so I shall quote Mr. Darwin's description of the Keeling Lagoon Islands. He says "I will now give a description of the Natural History of these Islands which from its very paucity, possesses a peculiar interest. The Cocoanut tree at the first glance seems to compose the whole wood there are however, five or six other kinds, one of these grows to a very large size but, from the extreme softness of its wood is useless; another sort affords excellent timber for shipbuilding. Besides the trees the number of plants is exceedingly limited and consists of insignificant weeds. In my collection, which includes I believe nearly the perfect Flora, there are twenty species, without mentioning a Moss lichen and fungus. To this number two trees must be added; one of, which was not in flower and the other I only heard of. The latter is a solitary tree of its kind in the whole group and grows near the beach, where, without doubt, the one seed was thrown up by the waves. I do not include in the above list the Sugar Cane, Banana, some other vegetables, fruit trees and imported grasses. As these Islands consist entirely of coral and at one time probably existed as a mere water-washed reef, all the productions now living here must have been transported by the waves of the sea. In accordance to this the Flora has quite the character of a refuge for the destitute. Prof. Henslow informs me that of the twenty species, nineteen belong to different genera and these again to no less than sixteen orders." Darwin also mentions again respecting another of these Islands. "The following seeds are supposed to be driven by the N. W. Monsoon to New Holland and from it to the Island by the S. E. trade wind. The Kimiri of Sumatra and Malacca, the Cocoanut of Balei, the Dadass of the Malays, also masses of Java Teak and yellow-wood and red and white Cedar and the blue Gum tree of New Holland. All creepers retain their vegetating powers, softer productions as the Mangosteen do not germinate." In the tropics where certain trees and plants grow over the margin of the Ocean and the young sapplings often vegetate in the sand and mud both of it and of rivers many may be supposed to be floated after storms far from their place of birth, whilst more inland productions are frequently transported by the agency of birds, or such as have winged seeds by the power of the winds. I can myself give what I believe to be an example of the agency of the Mahavillaganga. On the top of Adam's Peak and about Nuwera Ellia is found in abundance the gigantic Lobelia excelsa, a very handsome plant attaining the height of 12 to 15 feet. It is a mountain plant, excluded from the jungles, but delighting in bare elevations and the sides of rocky streams. Its nearest approach to the low country is I believe Pusilawe and Ambegammie, growing in the latter country in great abundance on the banks of the River. A few months ago in passing the Trineomale ferry I observed this plant on the steep bank overhanging the river and I have little doubt but that the seed had been laid after one of the monsoons when the river is much sworn and the plant in seed. After some experience of the Kandyan country I am able to say it is the only plant of this Lobelia growing in the neighbourhood. Upon the whole it seems probable that several plants and trees may thus migrate to a colder climate, but they are constantly checked in growth where circumstances and climate are unfavorable by the mass of vegetation, hence only a certain number of hardy plants will succeed. The same may be said of plants introduced by the Agency of man. Those of European growth rarely succeed in naturalising themselves in the low country, but South American are in many instances perfect weeds. Asclepias Curassavica would really be believed to be an indigenous weed, had it no native name and many of the productions of our gardens will be found in the same neighbourhood wild. Again at Nuwera Ellia the Cape Gooseberry, (Physalis flexuosa) originally introduced has spread with the greatest rapidity and altho' a weed contributes to the scanty resources for cookery in that part of the mountains. In every uncultivated country plants best adapted to the climate of the place and soil will prove the more hardy, and will supplant the more delicate species. Thus in ascending mountains vegetation will constantly vary first from changes of strata and secondly because the atmosphere becomes colder as you ascend; but there are other causes—Vegetation depends much upon effects of light and solar influence. Leave a barren gravelly soil to itself and it will first be covered with sedge and grass, but when once weeds have effected a footing many of these grasses will disappear. Next will come under shrubs and creepers, so that the cleared space is again converted into jungle. Lastly should trees also spring up, by the time they have shaded the under shrubbery from the effects of the sun's rays, it will have materially altered in character. From such causes there must be a constant change of vegetation in mountainous countries and also in the lower tracts, but more especially in the former. I have been informed by Coffee-planters that after clearing jungle many plants and shrubs spring up which were not previously known in the Forests and it is easily accounted for on those principles. I have myself Pavetta latifolia from cleared Coffee land, after in vain searching for it in the neighbouring jungle.

From this Table 2. it will be seen that various fruit trees of the tropics thrive on the coast which are less abundant or altogether disappear in the Kandyan Country. The Palm trees are also for the most part different. Cocoanuts thrive in the greatest perfection and become the leading feature of the Coast: sufficiently numerous to form topes: there are a considerable variety of the Coconut-palm—they have been mentioned by Bennett and other writers. The features of the jungle present but little change for the extent of table land running sixteen miles into the interior, when the country changes and becomes hilly and we are gradually brought into scenery the component parts of which are mentioned in Table 3. It seems to be similar in its Flora to that of the Girgar Hills in India.—Of indigenous fruits of any value, there are few; but the fruits of China and the Archipelago and many vegetables are cultivated with success. The stranger will be struck with the Tallipot tree and want of the Coconut, except near villages and also with the Aleurites or Koekuna, the foliage of which has the peculiarity of appearing white after rain amongst other jungle trees. Its nut is much used for expressing lamp oil by the natives. Two species of Bramble will also be hailed as an approach to a colder climate, most of the plants and trees in this table will be found on the under features of the hills on the banks of the Mahavillaganga, whilst on approaching the higher hills, some of which are mountains 4000 to 5000 feet above the level of the sea, we come to a forest vegetation, the details of which are in Table 4. Trees are no longer in those heights festooned by Convolvuli and Ipomeeas and Lorantie are less numerous; but their place is supplied by many a lovely air plant and the magnificent Solandra oppositifolia. On the summits of these hills are found beautiful and rare plants—Begonias, Martynias, Didymocarpus, Aginetia. Acrotræma delight in the cold and shady precipices.—The Beetle-Palm is here exchanged for a Caryota bristling with thorns. On reference to a map it will be observed that the ridge of hills between Kandy and Gampōlla extend towards Rambodda so that most of the vegetation passed in travelling to Rambodda may be observed in a couple of hours, walk from Kandy to the top of its highest hills, which have nearly an elevation equal to that of Rambodda—Table 9 will however add a few other particulars, and leaves us now to comment upon the colder portions of the Island or its highest mountains, in which examples are given of the Nuwera-Ellia Flora in Table 6 and the Flora of Adam's Peak in Table 7.

The Nuwera-Ellia country is a series of small plains, surrounded by hills and mountains thickly clothed with jungle to the very summit. Its elevation above the level of the sea is about 6000 feet. Its highest mountain—the Pedro-talle-galla, rises to 8000 feet. Its soil is very black and turfy in the plain, being either marshy or reclaimed marsh.—The slopes of the hills turn into meadow land. Before reaching the jungle, a curiously disposed and natural ledge of shrubs intervenes—it extends with great regularity, and is a very peculiar feature in the country. It were erroneous to suppose that either the climate or productions of Nuwera-Ellia are European—but it is our alpine tract and in losing the Palm, the Cinnamon and a thousand of the ornamental trees and shrubs of the Coast, we forget the tropics. In Europe, the gradations of Winter and Summer have a most powerful effect on the system of all perennials. In Winter the leaves fall—the tree is denuded of all its ornaments. In the mass of vegetation, the sap refuses to flow until the genial return of spring: the woody tissues harden and give rise to those concentric rings or zones, by which the Carpenter can calculate the age of his timber. But as Summer advances, the sap returning induces a fresh growth and the formation of flowers and fruit.—The absence of a well defined winter is therefore the great difference between Nuwera-Ellia and our native land, and a simple answer to the query. Why do not the large Cherry trees of its gardens produce fruit? In vain do we look for a single tree (unless introduced) of genera indigenous to our English climate: the trees, altho' not those of the Coast, are still those of the tropics—they are however of hardier growth, usually evergreen and adapted to our Alpine region, where frost excludes delicate species and the sun rarely shines except during the earlier months of the year. Analogy from such inferences leads us to expect the annuals of our Summer which die during the Winter season and the plants of our marshes, and accordingly I have to mention genera familiar to the British Botanist intermixed with Alpine Indian Plants. The sweet little Hairbell is perhaps as grateful to us from association as the curling smoke of cottages rising over the jungle. The European genera are Andromeda, Vaccinium, Ranunculus, Thalictrum, Anemone, Viola, Rubus, Fragaria, Berberis, Scutellaria, Lysimachia, Polygonatum, Plantago, Lobelia, Cynoglossum, Alchemillea, Rhododendron, Magnolia, Potentilla, Hypericum, Impatiens, Monotropa, Neottia, Orchids, Drosera, Dipsacus, Valleriana, Utricularia, Campanula, Tradescantia, Oxalis, Polygala, Gnaphalium, Rhinanthus, Euphorbia and some others—most of which have species growing in Great Britain. The character is scarcely Hymalayan, but I am inclined to believe that its Flora accords so closely to the tract of land on the Neilgherries that three-fourths of either would contain the same species. We have not their rose it is true, which is described as very beautiful festooning trees, but in either the Rhododendron nobile forms the ornament of the plains. From the elevated portions of Java there seems to be a marked difference in the absence of Oaks and Chestnuts and of course of various other productions.

The Plains of Nuwera-Ellia are very destitute of trees with exception of the Rhododendron. It is very beautiful when it flowers from May to July—the scarlet blossoms are relieved by the brown inside the bell of the Corolla and by the silvery undersides of the stem leaves—at other seasons it is a dingy tree like the Apple in height, with crooked knotted trunk, varying from 10 to 15 feet or even 25 and 30. When Arboreta shall have been introduced and Villas in Nuwera-Ellia, we may expect gardeners to give us many pretty shrub varieties of this tree with English species. Lord Caernarvon gained a celebrated Mule species by fertilising R. Cataubriense with the Himalayan sp. R. 'Arboreum. It retained the flowers and color of R. Arboreum and had the leaves and hardness of constitution of R. Cataubriense.

I have already remarked that S. American species of plants became naturalised with great facility in the lower tracts of Ceylon—such is the case at Nuwera-Ellia with the productions of New Holland, and almost all the other trees of its plains have been introduced from that country by Europeans. Of the jungle trees, scarcely any thing is as yet known, but some are doubtless those of the Kandyan hills, and of the rest a few, and these good ones have been discovered. I was fortunate in finding an arboracæous vaccinium—a sp. of agapetes with pink flowers. A description of the genus will be found in a letter from Dr. Wight to Sir W. Hooker, dated Pulney mountains. There is a beautiful tree creeper belonging to the Melastomaceæ, possibly a Medinilla, Blume, the balsams of those hills are certainly of 8 or 9 different species, some are of great beauty and size, and one species forms the entire under shrubbery of many hills, as well as the Nilla, which is a didynamious plant. Atriplics and magnificent ferns abound and dwarf bamboos—on the rocks, mosses and from the trees white mosses drenching in the drifting storms add to the wintry aspect. The Kino tree, both red and white, is much used for firewood. I am not acquainted with its botanical name.

Europeans have cultivated several of our English vegetables with success, most however requiring to be renewed from England or the Cape after some years. Potatoes and Cabbages are really source of profit and of importance to the residents of the lower orders. The Cape gooseberry (now naturalised) makes an excellent tart fruit with the wild Bramble. English fruit trees probably require great care and particular mode of culture to produce fruit, hitherto retardation of the sap has not been attempted, or if so successfully practised, but it seems to be the key to success. They should try fruit trees from New Holland and New South Wales and the Raspberry and Gooseberry from England.

Mr. Stewart Mackenzie judiciously tried the introduction of the Tea plant. I have not heard with what success, or what steps had been taken to insure the climate and locality it is used to.

From a perusal of Mr. Robinson's account of the Tea plant in Assam, the plant appears to be of hardy character with respect to climate. I am inclined to believe that that of the Kandyan hills would be very suitable, having very much the Assam Nyle of vegetation—possibly better than Nuwera Ellia. The great difficulty however exists in a locality. The requisites are excess of humidity amidst forests of dense jungle, where it grows in ravines and hollows near rivulets or pools of water. The soil should be light and porous, yellow or yellowish red over sand: it contains no carbonate of lime and the iron of the soil is almost wholly in a state of carbonate of iron—hence even in Assam and China tea-soils are comparatively of rare occurrence. The plant requires much rain and a bright sun.

I am not aware that Hops have even been attempted to be introduced at Nuwera Ellia, they surely would succeed. As the neighbourhood is becoming more populous, possibly a Brewery might succeed.

That the grasses at Nuwera Ellia are of very inferior quality seems notorious—but surely are capable of great improvement. Were their quality good, the country is well adapted for pasturage—Cattle and Horses have great animal spirits, and there are no lēches. Vetches of different kinds are also appropriate to the climate.

The Flora of Adam's Peak is probably entirely similar to that of Nuwera Ellia—but not having level ground near the summit of the Peak, many of the meadow flowers have to be excluded, and possibly there are species which do not exist in the Nuwera Ellia country, for instance a new Monocera or Elæocarpus with purple fruit and entire leaves. The existence of species of Magnolia is an interesting feature. It however is probable that all the Indian Magnolias should be classed with Michelia. The existing sp. (two in number on the Peak) have the type of Magnolia punilla.

It was my intention to have added a list of descriptions of Rare Plants not named by Moon, but those daily increasing, I shall reserve them for some future opportunity, when our knowledge of what has been done by Indian Botanists is greater, which will prevent the confusion that might otherwise exist.

In conclusion, one word respecting the Government gardens. Let bye-gones be bye-gones, as is said in the North. Little undoubtedly has hitherto been done, and some of the leading requisites have been neglected and the gardens require great attention and severe application from its new Superintendent to place them on the footing they ought to hold—but thanks to the liberality of our present Government, the aspect is beginning to change, and order will soon rubbish out the many rare plants and trees which are at present unnamed, and consequently unknown both in the gardens and in the beautiful series of drawings which have been amassed from time to time without name. Let us therefore hope to see Peradenia re-established as Kew has been in the —40's, and a taste for Botany revive in the Island, and when our Indian friends find we are really in earnest—they will not be backward in imparting to us the many treasures yearly added to their own gardens, and in shewing us how many neglected resources of wealth or utility exist in what is at present, Unreclaimed Jungle.
