Message from the Hon. Prime Minister of Sri Lanka .....

I take pleasure in submitting a message of felicitations towards the Convocation of the National Institute of Education.

The institute completes 30 years of rendering a yeoman service towards the field of education in the country, having commenced its services in 1986, when I was the Minister of Education.

The National Institute of Education continues to provide a much needed service in empowering the young men and women of the country, in a changing world of opportunities and challenges.

I take the opportunity to wish them all the very best.

Hon. Ranil Wickremesinghe

Prime Minister of Sri Lanka

Message from the Minister of Education .....

I am pleased to send this message of felicitation to the National Institute of Education at the time of their convocation of awarding degrees and post-degrees for the year 2017.

Teaching is a noble profession of imparting knowledge respected and admired not only by the society but even by kings and rulers throughout the history of mankind. It is through this profession that mankind has accumulated knowledge over the centuries enabling it to achieve success in many fields.

However, it is not everyone who realizes this concept at times, due to personal gains and interests. Yet, there are thousands of men and women who still uphold the noble objectives of teaching and lead the younger generation towards noble and successful lives.

The government is aware of the needs of this profession and has prioritized them in such a way that no other government in the past had done. Currently, the share of the expenditure in the national budget is closer to 6 % which includes finances not only for meeting the current needs of the schools but also for training and development of teachers at various levels. Conducting quality professional development programmes for practitioners such as teachers, teacher educators, principals and administrators is, therefore, mandatory to achieve the national goals of education.

While appreciating the tremendous service rendered by the National Institute of Education towards the nation, I wish them success in their endeavors.

Hon. Akila Viraj Kariyawasam

Minister of Education

Message from the State Minister of Education .....

It is with great pleasure that I issue this message on the occasion of the Convocation of the year 2017 held by the National Institute of Education.

The Convocation of the National Institute of Education is an important occasion for graduating teachers, teacher educators, principals, and administrators involved in the general education system who have earned the degree by their sheer hard work. I would like to extend my most sincere congratulations to the graduates, and the staff of the National Institute of Education.

Education should be based on modern knowledge, and the present government has been attaching the highest importance to modern and excellent education and the development of social capital. The National Institute of Education, as the Centre of Excellence in Education, provides opportunities to upgrade the knowledge and skills and impart values to the general education system so that all educators can confidently meet the needs.

I wish that all professionals would find the strength to serve the nation, endowed as they are with high professional rectitude, being exemplary in the dispensation of responsibility and valuing the ideals of honesty, integrity, discipline and good conduct.

I wish you every success and Good Luck.

Hon. V. S. Radhakrishnan

State Minister of Education

Message from the Secretary to the Ministry of Education .....

The Convocation ceremony today marks another milestone in the ongoing journey of the National Institute of Education in its national and international services in education. In this occasion, I would like to congratulate all the graduates for the successful completion of their courses with outstanding results.

I take this opportunity to thank the Director General of the National Institute of Education and the staff members for their tireless efforts, to upgrade the professional capacities of Sri Lankan educational personnel.

The success of the country in facing the challenges of the 21st Century depends on effective development of human capital. Teachers have to play a key role in this regard. That can be achieved better, not by a group of teachers brought up on a single model appropriating a single framework, but a gathering of teachers; professionally excelled, producing their own glow to illuminate the path of the students.

Once again, let me congratulate the graduates and hope the next chapter in your lives brings you a success and a continued commitment for both teaching and learning. I urge you to apply the knowledge gained and skills you have developed during your course to make a positive change, towards the betterment of our society and improving the lives and privileges of the younger generation.

Congratulations and warm wishes for the future.

Sunil Hettiarachchi

Secretary Ministry of Education

Message from the Director General .....

I am very much pleased to extend my heartiest blessings for the convocation of the National Institute of Education. Convocation is a day of well-deserved celebration. For graduands it not only marks the completion of years of hard work but also the beginning of an exciting new chapter in their lives.

The National Institute of Education is the apex body in Sri Lanka that provides opportunities for the stakeholders in general education to develop their professional capacities. The Institute is not profit oriented and has remained as a Centre of Excellence in providing leadership for quality education in a pluralistic and dynamic society for the last three decades. We are proud to declare that the NIE has produced more than hundred thousand professionally competent teachers, teacher educators and educational managers with degree and post graduate qualifications since its inception in 1986. Today, about 1400 graduands including 23 Maldivian nationals are added to the above number on this memorable occasion.

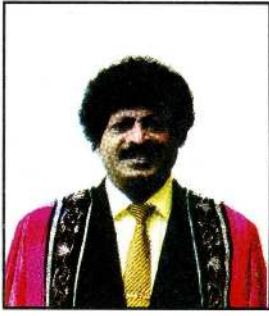

The teacher's role is vital for the qualitative development of general education. The quality of teaching cannot be achieved only by recruiting the best. After recruitment, the system needs to support and encourage them by providing continuing professional development to keep their performance on par with the changes taking place globally. The personality required for teachers in delivering the curriculum effectively and efficiency in the classroom should be enhanced to cope with emerging needs and to ensure a productive environment in the school. The teachers must have the potential of moulding the students with positive attitudes, knowledge and advanced skills to confront the challenges of the 21st century and to keep phase with rapidly advancing technology. The NIE has pioneered in offering higher education opportunities for teachers with more practical knowledge to face challenges of the new millennium.

Graduation should never mean goodbye. As the Director General of NIE I sincerely expect you to remain connected to our institution taking advantage of the many opportunities available to be active and engaged members of our newly formed alumni community.

On this very special occasion, I would like to extend my best wishes and warmest congratulations to all graduands and the faculty members for their commitment to make this event a success.
