The letter is dated 24th December, 1984. The relevant portion is :

"I think that your public criticism of the All Party Conference proposals now before the Cabinet for decision is a violation of the rules and conventions of Cabinet Government."

I wrote a similar letter to the Secretary-General of Parliament which reads--
"24th December 1984

The relevant part of this letter is :
"Your Excellency will remember that at the Cabinet Meeting of the 12th December 1984, the Hon. Prime Minister categorically stated that the A.P.C. proposals were only those emanating from the A.P.C. and were neither those of the Government nor of the United National Party, and your Excellency and the entire Cabinet agreed with the Hon. Prime Minister."

KOTTE
Dear Sir,

Further down it says :
"Your Excellency had explained to two groups of Members of Parliament the A.P.C. proposals and also placed these proposals at the Party Conference on 14th December, 1984, thereby laying them open to the public to express their views. Accordingly I have expressed my views in my letter of 18th December, 1984, and am entitled to do so in the public interest as Your Excellency had already placed the matter for the views of the public. It was no longer a matter for the Cabinet or the Party only."

You will note from the enclosed letter to the General Secretary of the United National Party that I have withdrawn my undated letter of resignation from the Kelaniya Seat in Parliament handed over to the Party in 1982 in accordance with the directions given by the Leader. I would like to inform you that the above said letter of resignation is no longer valid. Further I wish to inform you that if in the future the necessity does arise for me to resign from the Kelaniya Seat in Parliament I shall ensure that my decision in writing will be handed over to you personally.
Yours Sincerely,
C. Cyril Mathew
Member of Parliament for Kelaniya

Further on it says :
"I am unable to understand how my letter could be considered as a breach of Cabinet convention because I had not said anything against any Cabinet decision or Government policy.

Dear Sir,
Blank Letter of Resignation
Just prior to the Referendum held in 1982, along with the other Members of the Parliament I handed over to you an undated letter resigning my seat in Parliament. This was done in order to enable the Party to make whatever changes considered necessary in electorates where the voting has not been up to an acceptable standard and accordingly eighteen By-elections were held.
The Referendum is long past but you have not yet returned my letter of resignation. I would therefore request you to send it back to me immediately. In any case under no circumstances is my letter of resignation to be utilised now or at any future time.
Yours faithfully,

cc. Secretary, General of Parliament"

[සිරිල් මැතිව මතක]

I am unable to understand how my letter could be considered as a breach of Cabinet convention because I had not said anything against any Cabinet decision or Government policy.

It is regrettable that Your Excellency has thought it fit to take the action referred to in Your Excellency's letter without calling upon me to explain my conduct. Had such a step been taken I would have placed the above facts before Your Excellency and thereby would not have given Your Excellency the opportunity to draw the erroneous presumption that I had decided to cease to be one of Your Excellency's Ministers.

In appointing Mr. Denzil Fernando M.P. as Minister in my place, Your Excellency has on the basis of this incorrect presumption decided to remove me from the post of Minister of Industries and Scientific Affairs in Yours Excellency's Cabinet.

Yours Sincerely,

C. Cyril Mathew.

Reverend Sirs,
Honourable Ministers,
Honourable Members of Parliament,
Sinhala Friends,

PROPOSED LEGISLATION TO RESOLVE ETHNIC CONFLICT

For a Proper evaluation of the Proposals it is necessary that they be viewed in the context in which they are being made together with an understanding of the need that gave rise to them. It is also necessary that they be viewed as a single whole rather than individual pieces of legislation. When analysing one it will be necessary at all times to keep in mind the effect of the other and vice versa. Without the above considerations it will be well nigh impossible to gather the true spirit of the legislation—which as you will see is intended to do nothing more than keep the Sinhala People dispossessed in the only land they have to live in.

For convenience however it is proposed to deal with the individual proposals separately, with cross references whenever necessary.

THE TENTH AMMENDMENT

- Chapter XII A seeks to create a Second Chamber, the need for which had been repudiated by the 1972 and the 1978 Constitution. This obviously arose out of the realisation that a completely Westminster style legislature was unsuited to Sri Lankan circumstances.

I fail to see how an "ethnic conflict" or more correctly a separatist movement can give rise to the need for a Second Chamber all over again.

- In Section 84 R (a) (ii) one sees a surreptitious attempt to resurrect the long dead Section 29 of the Soulbury Constitution. So much so that it is a verbatim reproduction, except for the omission of four words namely "to", "which is" and "made".

The questions that arise in this connection are :

- At whose insistence was Section 29 introduced into the Soulbury Constitution ?
- For whose benefit was it so introduced ?
- Who objected to its omission in the 1972 Constitution ?
- Who is trying to surreptitiously introduce it now ?

Part of the answer at least, will be :

Certainly not the Sinhala People.

Section 84 W entitles the Second Chamber to summon ("invite") a Minister of the Cabinet including the Minister of Defence to "explain" the implications of any Bill placed before Parliament.

Earlier on, Section 84 S provides for a joint evaluation of the "questioned" Bill by a joint committee of Parliament and the Second Chamber, and in sub-section 3 goes on to provide "No further proceedings shall be had in relation to such Bill until after such committee has reported to Parliament."

Simply put, Parliament is no longer supreme and its supremacy is being surrendered under the guise of solving the ethnic conflict. In fact the Second Chamber is more powerful than at first it appears to be.

- A question also arises as to the effect of Sections 84 R and 84 S on Section 9 and Chapter IV of the Constitution.

Obviously giving Buddhism the foremost place would mean that all other religions take second place. In other words what Section 9 of the Constitution does is, to repeat the words of Section 84 R (a) (ii), "confer on persons of one religion a privilege or advantage not conferred on persons of other religions."

Section 9 it must be remembered is not an accident. It merely confirms a position recognised by Sri Lanka's ancient kings and accepted and confirmed by the British both at the Kandyan Convention in 1815 and by the declaration of British Sovereignty in 1818.

It is then the position that a so called "Powerless" Second Chamber can require a Minister to explain his actions taken in furtherness of the Constitution ?

(Contrast this position with my comments on Section 17 of the District and Provincial Councils Bill)

- Section 154 E (2) lays down that "No District or Provincial Council shall be empowered to make Ordinances in respect of any subject set out in the Eighth Schedule."

First and foremost the Eighth Schedule does not set out any subjects, and only purports to amend Section 170 (ie the Interpretation Section) of the Constitution.

Secondly is this not an attempt to separate the functions of Parliament on the one hand and the District Councils on the other in a manner not different to Federal Constitutions ?

Thirdly why is this particular style of drafting adopted in this instance. Going by the maxim "Expressio unius est exclusio alterius" the District Councils will be competent to deal with any subject not mentioned in the Eighth Schedule, that is in other words the residual powers.

Would it not have been better to mention what they are entitled to do and retain the residual powers with the Central Government.

Since the Eighth Schedule does not set out any subjects does it mean that District Councils are competent to deal with everything.

Is this then Federalism without using so many words ?

A reading of Sections 17 (1) (k) and 17 (2) which permits District Councils to deal with subjects outside the First Schedule merely confirms my suspicions.

4. Section 84 V (1)(b) enables the Second Chamber to set up a "Committee of National Unity" to consider petitions presented to it alleging discrimination by the Executive against any citizen on the ground of race, religion, language, caste or sex.

This Section merely reproduces Section 12 (2) of the Constitution which makes the same question justiciable by the Supreme Court.

I fail to see the need to have another body doing the work of the Supreme Court, or is this an attempt to vest part of the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court in the Second Chamber?

DISTRICT AND PROVINCIAL COUNCILS BILL

5. Section 17 (1) (c) of the Bill confers on the District Councils and Section 97 (2) (f) on the Provincial Councils, the power to make Ordinances.

First and foremost I suspect that the word "Ordinance" was carefully chosen to differentiate these laws from the ordinary class of subordinate legislation such as By-laws and Regulations.

The need to amend the definition of "Written Law" in Section 170 of the Constitution further confirms my view.

In Sri Lankan legislative history the word "Ordinance" was used to indicate Pre independence legislation of a superior nature. Thus we have the Prescription Ordinance of 1871 but the Partition Act of 1951, one not in any way inferior to the other.

Osborn's Concise Law Dictionary (Fifth Edition) defines "Ordinance" as:

1. An Act of Parliament which lacked the consent of one of the three elements, Crown, Lords and Commons.
2. A declaration of the Crown lacking the authority of Parliament.

An examination of the scheme of the proposed legislation suggests that definition 2 above is in line with the intentions of its framers, i.e. a declaration of a sovereign entity without the authority of Parliament.

To examine this further:

Section 70 (1) of the Bill empowers the Council to pass the Ordinances contemplated in Section 17 (1) (c), and this power is, subject only to Articles 154 E and 154 F of the Constitution.

Section 154 E (1) lays down the obvious requirement that such Ordinances should not contravene the provisions of the Constitution.

Section 154 E (2) seeks to lay down the subjects which the Councils are precluded from dealing with. Though of course as seen earlier the Eighth Schedule does not set out any subject and therefore by implication entitles the District Councils to deal with any subject.

Section 154 F requires all Ordinances made by the District Councils to be placed before the President and these will automatically become law within three months unless the President has requested an amendment under 154 F (2) or disallowed it under 154 F (3).

The requirement is not that these laws require the President's assent to become law.

There is no requirement that these these Ordinances be placed before Parliament as would be the case if they were considered subordinate legislation.

This further supports my contention that the word "Ordinance" was carefully chosen.

6. Now contrast this with Section 71 of the Bill by which the Regulations made by a Minister, even dealing with a matter as mundane as "procedure for the conduct of business of District Councils" such as laying down the quorum, prescribing the length of time necessary for notices and so on, needs to be placed before Parliament for its approval.

Then again a Minister can be summoned ("invited") by the Second Chamber under Section 84 W to explain:

- (a) The provisions or implications of any Bill placed on the Order Paper of Parliament.
- (b) Any matter falling within a subject or function assigned to such Minister.

A right which the House of Lords at the height of it is power or the old Senate never enjoyed.

The scheme then is such that Parliament itself can be called into question by the "powerless" Second Chamber, but Parliament cannot question either the District Councils or Provincial Councils.

Which then is the superior body, Parliament, the Second Chamber, the District Council or the Provincial Council?

The word "Ordinance" is indeed a carefully chosen word.

7. The other questions that arise will be:

- (i) It is believed that Provincial Councils are merely coordinating bodies with no more power than their constituent District Councils. But Section 97 (2) confers Provincial Councils the Power to "acquire in any manner whatsoever . . . . . any movable or immovable property," but there is no parallel provision with regard to the District Councils.
- (ii) By Section 18 the Ordinances of District Councils prevail over the by-laws of Municipal Councils which have been approved by Parliament and to that extent are Acts of Parliament themselves.
- (iii) By Section 27 the District Councils can raise loans from among others "any Bank or Institution", including I presume, foreign sources.
- (iv) By Section 36 (1) (c) the District Councils are empowered to sell land (i.e. Public Land) transferred to them under Section 88 by "Public Auction or otherwise than by Public Auction" i.e. by private treaty.

This provision is bad enough by itself, but it is made worse by Section 74 which exempts these transactions from the provisions of the Prevention of Frauds Ordinance. What this means is that public lands can be transferred without a writing, without notarial execution and without registration.

LANGUAGE

8. There is no indication whatsoever as to the language through which the District Councils are to be administered and will administer the District.

It should be now realised that the language provisions of the Constitution have been completely nullified by the several provisos to the sections themselves. So much so that the present position is that Tamil is the exclusive language of the North and the East (barring a few areas) and Sinhala and Tamil also are the languages of administration in the rest of Sri Lanka, more so as far as the language of the Courts is concerned.

[පිරිස් මැතිව මතක]

This situation will mean that the District and the Provincial Councils will be administered exclusively in Tamil in the North and East.

The consequences of this to the Sinhala people are far too obvious to need any elaboration here.

FIRST SCHEDULE

9. The first Schedule sets out the subjects that will be dealt with by the District Councils. An examination of these reveals how extensive a jurisdiction is being granted, such as Holding of Land Kachcheries, Issuing of permits not exceeding one year for the foreshore, Prohibition of removal of sand from the sea shore, Acquisition of Land and Establishment of pastures.

In my view the functions are so vast and so independent from any real Central Control, that it very nearly grants them the Elaam that they desire.

The execution or carrying out of the objectives defined and undefined will require vast cadres performing functions varying from water management, acquisition of land, eviction from land, explosives handling to coast Protection and rescue operations of fisherman.

For a fuller picture please refer to the First Schedule which I feel will be ultimately used to consolidate their position as a stepping stone to Elaam.

For these reasons I find myself unable to advise any one to agree to this Bill and the Proposed amendment to the Constitution.

(Mr. A. C. S. Hameed)

I suppose you would like it if it is in the Soviet Union ! They will be provided with alternative land, and monetary assistance will be given to rebuild their houses. The payment of compensation will be on the basis of the normal government valuation. The internal and external security of Sri Lanka will not be affected. Some of these questions have been raised earlier and, as I said have been debated fully. With regard to the 188 families who are fishermen who will be displaced, as I said they will be given alternative land and also monetary assistance to rebuild their houses.
