Preface

Universities all over the world depend on endowments for offering scholarships, bursaries, medals and prizes to deserving students in order to enhance academic attainments and to provide for certain fields of studies. Fields of studies which are of local or regional interest and those which symbolise local aspirations may have to be financed mostly by voluntary contributions and endowments and local government authorities.

University of Jaffna has completed a dozen years as an institution of Higher Education. As this institute was first proclaimed in 1974 a review of most of the activities of the University was made and in regard to endowments the University is deeply grateful for the scholarships, endowments, bursaries, medals and prizes received.

As a mark of recognition to the donors who have set an example in making these endowments for chairs, scholarships, medals and prizes and to serve as an appeal to others who wish to make such endowments but at the same time would like to be satisfied that these endowments are well administered and being put to proper use, this hand book containing some basic information regarding the subject is being released. The information is also being included in the annual report and the Faculty Hand Books.
