Letters to the Editor

THE TAMIL CONGRESS

Sir,—Please permit a few observations on your significant editorial of 2-8-46.

1. The encouragement given to Mr. Mahadeva's "policy of moderations" and your "high opinion" of Mr. Natesan are commendable features of your editorial policy, which you need not regret at any time.

2. Your unstinted and unqualified support to those Tamil Councillors who voted for the White Paper was a piece of statesmanship quite worthy of your political acumen and now it is rather unworthy of you to characterize them as "excuses" in view of your recent political association with the Tamil Congress.

3. The burden of dividing the Tamils does not appear to rest on Messrs Mahadeva and Natesan as you have alleged or on those Tamils who advocated a policy of hearty co-operation with Sinhalese Leaders and National Parties. It rests entirely on the Tamil Congress and Mr. G. G. Ponnambalam.

4. You will remember, Sir, that contrary to your advice given editorially and personally, not to characterize the Tamil Councillors who voted for White Paper as enemies and thereby divide the Tamils the Tamil Congress in Special Sessions passed resolutions condemning the Tamil Councillors.

5. Mr. G. G. Ponnambalam on his return from England endorsed the policy of the Tamil Congress and went round the country campaigning against the "deserters" and "traitors." In fact this appears to be the only issue on which he differs substantially from other Tamil leaders.

6. Further Mr. G. G. Ponnambalam and the Tamil Congress have so shaped their policy and activity that no existing political party or Sinhalese Leaders could associate with them. Further Mr. G. G. Ponnambalam and the Congress "High Command" have evolved the policy that the proper place of the Tamil Congress is the role of a "parliamentary opposition."

7. Under the circumstances, if moderate Tamil leaders and political realists find it difficult to associate themselves with a policy which is manifestly designed to keep the Tamils outside the National Government of Ceylon why quarrel with them. Why should you quarrel with Messrs. Mahadeva and Natesan for joining the U. N. P.? Were not efforts made by very worthy Tamils to reconcile Mr. G. G. Ponnambalam to the U. N. P.? Why should you quarrel with these Sinhalese leaders like Molamure, Senanayake and others who showed a noble gesture in visiting Jaffna and offering goodwill and co-operation in unequivocal language?

8. Jaffna expects much more in the way of conciliation and statesmanship at this time of grave crisis in our political history from elder leaders of political light and learning like you, than mere expressions of political partisanship. The future of the Tamils is of much greater import than men and their quarrels.

Main Street,
Jaffna 5-8-46.

Yours truly
A. E. Tambar

Parliamentary Opposition

Sir,—We are told by Mr. A. J. R. Vethavanam and others of his persuasion that the best course for the Tamils is to form a party to function as an opposition to Mr. Senanayake's first ministry under the new Constitution. We have therefore to consider whether such a course of action is feasible or even desirable in the interests of Jaffna Tamils. We admit the need for a parliamentary opposition,

WHAT IS GOD?

"God is not a person. He is all-pervading, all-powerful spirit. Anyone who hears Him in his or her heart has accession of a marvellous force or energy as objective in its results as, say, electricity, but much subtler" but the Tamils cannot supply such an opposition. Any one conversant with the working of parliamentary government will admit an effective opposition cannot be formed by a small group of members from the North. It must be largely drawn from the Sinhalese themselves, and must represent a political party with a definite policy and programme of its own capable of forming an alternative government. Judged by this test the idea that the Tamils of the North should supply such an opposition is fantastic and misleading. It will defeat its own purpose by driving all sections of Sinhalese into Mr. Senanayake's camp and thus preventing the growth of a national parliamentary opposition. There is therefore no justification for the Tamils to commit political suicide merely for the sake of providing an opposition to Mr. Senanayake's government.

—Mahatma Gandhi

Nallur,
3-8-46

Yours etc,
C. K. Swaminathan.

U. N. P. HAS NO SECRETARY

The United National Party has no Secretary yet. Minister J. L. Kotelawala has therefore been requested by the organisers of the party to be its convener, until the appointment of a permanent Secretary. It is learnt that Messrs. Molamure and Natesan the erstwhile acting Joint Secretaries want Mr. J. R. Jayawardane to be Secretary, while others want somebody who is not in the State Council to hold the post.

Sugar Ship Arriving

A ship with 48,000 bags of sugar for Ceylon has sailed from Singapore and is expected to arrive here on Monday next.

Sandeman Regrets

And C. I. D. Is On Track

Dr. Ian Sandeman, Director of Education is extremely sorry that great inconvenience has been caused to candidates as a result of the cancellation of the Teachers' Certificate Examination. In a statement he has issued to the press, he appeals for public co-operation to stamp out cheating in the matter of these examinations. "Nothing will be spared" says he, "to investigate this leakage fully. What is required is greater public sense of responsibility and willingness to stamp out cheating."

Dr. Sandeman told a press representative that the whole question of the leakage of papers had been referred to the C. I. D. and at present they were following up a number of clues. The Education Department was also carrying on independent inquiries.

KANTAWALA'S APPEAL DISMISSED

Treasury Guilty of Negligence

Public Accounts Committee's Decision

The appeal lodged by ex-Civil Servant M. H. Kantawala against the findings of the L. M. D. de Silva Committee has been dismissed by the Public Accounts Committee to whom the matter was referred by the State Council.

Mr. Kantawala who was dismissed from the Ceylon Civil Service for irregularities in connection with his rice purchases in India on the findings of a committee presided over by Mr. L. M. D. de Silva, has in his appeal lamented that he had not received justice and fairplay from the Ceylon Government and alleged that the whole case for the Crown was based upon suggestions, insinuations and one-sided submissions "unwarranted by facts proved or established".

The Public Accounts Committee consisting of Messrs. H. W. Amarasinghe (Chairman) Dudley Senanayake, G. R. Whitby, M. C. M. Kalle, P. de S. Kularatne, S. Natesan and R. E. Jayatilake have, after a thorough inquiry into all the aspects of the case, confirmed the findings of the L. M. D. de Silva Committee. The committee also has found fault with the Treasury for lack of supervision and for relaxation of financial regulations. They say that if the Treasury had exercised better supervision, some of the irregularities could have been avoided.

Is Corea Unwanted?

Mr. G. C. S. Corea, the Labour Minister is unwanted in Ceylon in the new scheme of things, and hence Mr. Senanayake and his colleagues want to pack him off to London as Representative to the Government of Ceylon. This was the view expressed by Mr. W. Dahanayake, when in the State Council the Chief Secretary presented a supplementary estimate of Rs. 24,000 for expenses for the residence of the Ceylon Government Representative in London.

Of this sum of Rs. 24,000, explained Chief Secretary Drayton, Rs. 90,000 is for the lease of the residence and Rs. 15,000 for its decoration and furnishing.

Revenue Excess

Ceylon continues to be under the "influence of the lucky star." According to a statement of the approximate revenue and expenditure of the island for the month of June 1946, issued by the Acting Deputy Financial Secretary, the excess of revenue over expenditure is Rs. 10,041,486 as compared with Rs. 3,967,82 in June 1945. No account is taken of the results of the working of the Ceylon Government Railway.

The approximate revenue for June is Rs. 3,071,191 while the expenditure is Rs. 22,029,755.

THE DUTY OF THE TAMILS

By the Editor

IN PUBLISHING THE LETTERS which appear in the correspondence columns of the Hindu Organ today, I decided to reply personally to some of the criticisms offered by the writers of these letters. A personal explanation affords greater freedom of expression, though for reasons of space it is not possible to make even such an explanation as full as it ought to be.

With regard to Mr. Tamber's letter, I may say I have had the advantage of discussing the matter personally with him. I have also had a talk with Messrs. Natesan and Mahadeva on the same subject. Mr. Tamber's views are almost identical with those expressed by the latter whose contention seems to be that if the Tamils cannot as a body support their action in precipitately joining the United National Party, they should divide, one section (presumably consisting of Messrs. Mahadeva and Natesan) to support Mr. D. S. Senanayake, and the other to do what it pleases. I am opposed to this suggestion for the simple reason that the Tamils of the Northern Province should not divide on a basis like this. As I have repeatedly urged in these columns, there is no reason why the Tamils should, at the present stage of events, make up their minds to oppose Mr. Senanayake or to support him. There is plenty of time for Mr. Senanayake himself to adjust his policy in many matters to bring it in line with the trend of public opinion to be ascertained in the light of the results of the coming general election. I certainly do not share the view that Mr. Senanayake should be opposed whether he is in the right or in the wrong. Besides, this is a matter which the Tamils should decide for themselves and decide wisely. Such a momentous decision cannot be left in the hands of one or two individuals. There is no guarantee that the decisions of these individuals as such will not be influenced by personal considerations. I have come to the conclusion that the only chance of safety for the Tamils, in working the new constitution, lies in their organising themselves and acting through that organisation, so that individual leaders will not be free to act as they did when they voted for the White Paper. I supported the voting on this occasion with considerable reluctance. Mr.

Tamber will agree with me that it was not a pleasant thing to do, but I did it to keep up at least for the moment a semblance of unity among the Tamil leaders. Besides, in view of the decision of the Secretary of State, the Tamil Congress too would be called upon to change its policy. The Tamil Congress changed its policy but it expelled the recalcitrant leaders. I still think this was a mistake. It would have been much better for the Congress to start on a clean slate. Nor do I believe it right to oppose these leaders at the next election merely because they voted for the White Paper. They have to be opposed because they believe in individual judgment and decision in preference to working as disciplined members of an organisation. Right from the start Mr. Mahadeva refused to become a member of the Congress. Others became members of the Congress and went back on their pledge. Even now it is not too late for all these leaders, including Mr. Mahadeva himself, to rectify the position they have taken up. They have the right, and in my opinion the duty, to become members of the Tamil Congress and to guide the Congress in working the new constitution. Mr. G. G. Ponnambalam is but one member of the Congress. I gave this advice long ago to certain friends and supporters of Mr. Mahadeva. I pointed out that, if the Tamil Congress failed to get its more extreme demands accepted by the Secretary of State, the other leaders would have the opportunity of guiding the Congress on other lines. My advice was not listened to, with the result that today a small community like ours is in danger of being broken up by groups and cliques pledged to the support of individuals. This must be prevented at all costs.

When the White Paper was accepted by the State Council and people in the South talked of parties, I thought an earnest attempt would be made to form parties. I therefore urged the Tamil Congress not to contest the elections. The formation of the so-called United National Party and the decision of Messrs. Mahadeva and Natesan to join the new party without obtaining the previous approval of the Tamils made me feel that Mr. Ponnambalam was after all right. Discipline was necessary. Without an organisation it would be impossible to enforce discipline. The only organisation amongst the Tamils which is in a position to do anything is the Tamil Congress, and I came to the conclusion that this Congress should be made fully representative of Tamil opinion and that its hands should be strengthened. In my opinion, there is no reason to be ashamed of the Tamil Congress. There is no reason to be afraid of using the Tamil name either, and frankly I have no sympathy with those Tamils, happily few in number, who hesitate to subordinate their individuality to the authority of an All-Tamil organisation like the Congress. The Tamil Congress is only the sum total of its individual members each one of whom has the right to try and shape its policy. If the Sinhalese are neither ashamed nor afraid of the Sinhala Maha Sabha why should individual Tamil leaders fight shy of the Tamil Congress unless, for reasons of their own, they wish to substitute individual for collective initiative and action?

Mr. Tamber praises my statesmanship in supporting those who voted for the White Paper. Because I now urge the need for collective action on the part of the Tamils in working the new Constitution, he should not think that I have thrown statesmanship to the winds. On the other hand he should pause and ask himself why I, whose attitude towards even Mr. Mahadeva was so very statesmanlike, to use his own words, should condemn unbridled individualism in politics.

GAMBLING, THIEVING AND IMMORALITY

Follow the Land Army Say Allottees

"The Land Army otherwise called the Agricultural Corps has corrupted the villagers and made their lives intolerable Gambling thieving and immorality follow wherever these men go"

This was the opinion expressed at a meeting of the allottees of the Kopakulama Scheme at Anuradhapura.

The meeting criticised the Minister for Agriculture and Lands for his change of attitude in respect of the Kopakulama scheme. Several speakers alleged that Mr. Senanayake was trying to maintain his top-heavy concern, the Agricultural Corps by sacrificing the work of the allottees who had spent large sums of money in the past four years in developing the lands.

It was pointed out that to maintain one ordinary labourer in the Agricultural Corps for a day it cost the Government Rs. 4/-, whereas the villager would do as much work if not more for Rs. 2.

A memorandum has also been forwarded to Mr. Senanayake by the Government Servants who have taken land under the Kohakulama Scheme protesting against the Minister's latest decision, and demanding compensation for the work they have already done in clearing and developing the land since 1942. They ask Mr. Senanayake to re-consider his decision to alienate these acres to peasants, but if he was not prepared to do this to give adequate compensation.

Adi Amavasai Day

Adi Amavasai Day was celebrated at the Vivekananda Society Hall Hill Street on Sunday the 28th July. Mr. K. V. S. Sundaram, Vice-president of the Society presided. After puja at the Society Shrine Room. Sri Murugadas, who had accompanied Thirupugalmani Krishnaswamy Iyer, delivered an inspiring address on, 'The Teachings of Arunagirinathar'. Some Tairupugal hymns were rendered by Sri Murugadas and his pupils to the accompaniment of instrumental music. Prasadam was then distributed to those present and the meeting came to a close with the singing of Thevaram.

Will They Get More?

Certain adjustments, it is understood have been made by the Treasury in the salaries taking the total increase from nine million rupees, as set out in the Collins-Goonetillake report, to ten and a half million rupees. The present salaries bill is 25 million rupees.

There are nearly 25,000 teachers in the Island clamouring for better salaries and threatening to go on strike if their demands are not met.

They have even threatened to put forward a candidate against the Minister of Education at the next Parliamentary elections.

Educational Conference

FOOD DIRECTOR WARNS PUBLIC

Food supplies director Alvapillai warns the public not to put too much hope on the allocation of 180,000 tons of rice for Ceylon for the second half of 1946 by the International Emergency Food Council. The allocation by itself, according to Mr. Alvapillai, is satisfactory enough, but the snag is the uncertainty of the deliveries being made up to the amount of the allocation.

For the second quarter, for instance, although an allotment of 90,000 tons was made, supplies were actually received in Ceylon only at the rate of 20,000 tons a month.

The present announcement of an allotment of 180,000 tons for the second half year is not likely to lead to an increase of the ration as past experience has shown that deliveries may fall short of the allocation.

By-Pass The League

Indian Statesman Appeals To Viceroy

A suggestion that the Viceroy and the British Government "should proceed with the working of the Constitution-making body, despite the Muslim League's recent resolution at Bombay," has come from a top-ranking administrator associated with the Indian States, in the course of an interview with the Associated Press of America.

"The progress of India should not be allowed to be blocked by a single individual," he said, adding "whatever may be said about it the Muslim League is just Mr. Jinnah—sole and single."

The Viceroy should not delay the formation of the Central Executive, consisting of national leaders. The decision of the Muslim League to dissociate from such a move should not be an excuse for procrastination on the part of the British Government. All attempts should of course be made to induce the League to take part in such a Government, but if it is found adamant in its decision not to participate in such a Government, the quota proposed to be allotted to the League should be filled in by independent Muslims, provision being made for the Leaguers entry whenever they decide upon a revision of their approach to this question."

DEAD A SECOND TIME

The hero of the sensational case otherwise known as the "Bhowal Sanyasi Case" is at last dead. His death occurred at Calcutta on Saturday last.

The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council had upheld his claim that he was the second son of the late Bhowal Raja and was not cremated at Darjeeling in 1909. It was stated that he was rescued from the funeral pyre by some "Sanyasis" and wandered about India for nearly 12 years suffering from loss of memory.

The case went to the Privy Council on an appeal by Rani Bibhabati Devi, wife of the Second Kumar.

Letter to the Editor

Tamil Literature

Sir,—It is now high time that the patriotism of Tamils should be directed to the rescue of their golden literature from decay and death. If the Tamils are lethargic, most of the literary works are sure to be lost irrecoverably. The Tamil Literature, one of the most refined and perfect of the languages and literatures, threatens to lose its glory to a great extent by the fact that Tamils are confining their activities to the securing of appointments.

The aim of education must be to train and educate the mind. The ancient Hindus had always this aim in view. Fathers, and through them their children, have lost sight of the only reason for the existence of humanity, the amalgamation with the almighty, which could be attained, only if one has a perfect command and a thorough grasp of the Tamil literature and abides by its teachings. But now the study of Tamil is entirely neglected.

Communications and conversations amongst the present day Tamils are conducted in English and even small children are made to converse in English with their parents and others, thereby creating in their minds a dislike for their mother tongue. Whatever efforts we may put forth to forget and disown our mother tongue, we cannot yet change our customs and manners.

It should be the endeavour of every individual of every nationality to stand, as far as possible, by his national customs etc., and above all to find ways and means for the cultivation of his mother tongue. As it is now, the Tamil language is declining and is likely to decline more and more if Tamils do not come to its rescue.

If the Tamil language is to be revived, if it is to be brought back to its pristine glory, if the Tamils are to show the world that they are not declining but progressing, if the Tamils are possessed of any national spirit, if they are to enjoy the blessings of Religion, their language should be resuscitated. They should see that Tamil children are given a thorough training in Tamil. They should also learn to regard agriculture as an independent and noble calling on which the mechanism of Government turns, and above all should have a respect for their own nationality.

Yours etc.,

S. Pasupathy Chettiar.
