GIVE TO THE BEST AND ENJOY THE BEST!

VISIT JAFFNA'S WONDERLAND

EDUCATION is entitled to the first and foremost call on a nation's wealth. In every department of life education plays the leading role. Be it agriculture or industry, science or engineering, or any other branch of human activity, it is education that moulds the shape of men who in turn shape these. Every nation, be it big or small, is indebted to education more than anything else. It is no exaggeration to say that the life of a nation—nay, the very existence of it—is inseparably bound up with education. National wealth and prosperity goes hand in hand with education. The rise of nations, their wealth and prosperity and their importance are due not a little to those great men whose lives had been shaped in no small measure by educational institutions. And what national wealth is greater and more valuable than literary wealth?

Never was Ceylon in greater need of educational institutions than today. We of this little island are at the cross-roads of life. The time has come, and is coming, to look at things from a sane and enlightened point of view. Both men and women have to look at things dispassionately, especially so the next generation of women. Day by day, how by hour, the need for women, with enlightened and broader outlook on life, and free from the trammels of ignorance, to help and guide men, looms larger and larger. It is here that education and educational institutions must play their part.

And here are two educational institutions, The Jaffna Hindu College and Hindu Ladies' College—one with achievements which redound to its credit, and the other in its infancy, but full of promise. They have their share of the noble work to perform in the building up of the future generation. As regards the Jaffna Hindu College, I can do no better than to quote the words of Sir Andrew Caldecott: "The world has never stood in greater need than today of sane and sound education, unalloyed with political nostrums or narrow nationalism. May Jaffna Hindu College long serve this ideal." The ideal for which the Jaffna Hindu Ladies' College was founded is no less. It is the paramount duty of every son and daughter of Lanka, a Lanka which is on the threshold of a new lease of life, to help these two educational institutions to propagate this great ideal.

The Carnival

The best way you can serve this ideal is to see the Carnival that is being organised in aid of the Jaffna Hindu College and Hindu Ladies' College. By seeing the Carnival daily not only do you help to serve the cause of education but also help yourself by enjoying the things to be seen at the Carnival. You get your money's worth; you see and enjoy things that you are not likely to forget for a long time to come; and you help a deserving cause. The organisers of this Carnival were the organisers of The Hindu College Carnival of 1940 which was, and is, acclaimed as the best in Jaffna. And this Carnival will, you may rest assured, beat the former by a long chalk. Pride yourself on the fact that you have seen the best and given to the best. Here are a few things which you ought to see and enjoy.

Exhibitions

Jaffna will never have seen at any Carnival such a variety of exhibits as are to be on exhibition at this Carnival. The most unique and outstanding exhibition in this section is the exhibition in Geography, Science and History. There are to be seen by the educationist and the pupil, by the historian and the scientist, objects which will never fail to be of interest to them, especially the exhibits in the Science section. One may wonder why the scientific master-brain of the Jaffna Hindu College is wasting time, or rather rotting in Jaffna, but the answer is simple: a citizen's primary duty is towards his country and his people.

The Health and Maternity Welfare section ought to be of immense interest to the mothers-to-be of Lanka. To the lover of music, the musical instruments are a source of inspiration. There it is for the Agriculturist to see how many varieties of mangoes are grown in the Island and what the Department of Agriculture is doing. The cattle-breeders and the dairymen will see in the Livestock section many a new addition to the breeds of cattle in Ceylon. It will not be strange and surprising if many of you do not know the many uses to which the coconut and the palmyrah are put. Come and see them.

Trade Stalls

All what men and women could desire to have are there at the carnival grounds. It is up to you to come and have them. The lover of books will enjoy the sense of satisfaction when he sees Messrs. Sanmuganathan's and Higginbotham's. The sportsman will leave a sigh of satisfaction when he sees what Juno & Co., could give him. Do you want the latest in shoes? Well, they are at the carnival grounds for you to buy. Then there are two things which most women cannot resist the temptation, at least, to feast their eyes upon—Jewellery and Textiles. It is up to you to choose from a huge collection of sarees, etc., of the latest designs. Even a minute's indecision may cost you dearly. An entirely new range in jewellery is to be had at the carnival grounds—Diamond necklaces, strings of pearls and rubies, exquisitely designed and

U. N. P. LEADER LIKE PATRIARCH NOAH

Free Education in Danger

Mr. M. Balasundaram, Advocate, speaking at the annual prize-day of Tellippalai Mahajana College, said: "I find that the leader of the United National Party, like the great patriarch Noah, in his anxiety to make his party representative of every political animal in this island, has thought it fit to sacrifice Free Education in order to induce those who were opposed to him to enter his great Ark, the United National Party."

He told the people of Ceylon "to see that politicians do not destroy the first, but weak attempt to introduce Free Education into Ceylon."

He said: "From what is taking place in Ceylon one feels rather frightened of the future of education in this island."

"It should be remembered that the size of a pupil's brain does not depend on the length of the parent's purse."

"Quality is not required in this land of gold-seekers, turnflunkies and flatterers. There are other qualities which raise man to power. Therefore hide whatever intelligence you have and be stupid. We have in this country Associations of rich men who do not seem to have any regard for education. There was the attempt by the Minister of Education to introduce Free Education in this country. Whatever his faults might be, he is a man who had had difficulties in his youth and who knew how intelligent students were deprived of an opportunity to study. He is a man who knew how much wasted talent there was in the country. He therefore sought to introduce Free Education for all. Then there was a hue and cry in the land, not by the people of the country, but by vested interests, and let us be aware. A gentleman, I would not mention his name, went to the extent of saying, "We object to our money being squandered", little remembering that the majority of the people are Hindus and Buddhists. And they are now strongly supported by the Future Prime Minister and his oligarchy. They seem to think that education can be made the "curled darling" of the leisured class with a smattering knowledge of English. When men give utterances to cheap platitudes, talking glibly of Nationalism, when every act of theirs rises against Nationalism, you have every right to tell them that this sort of thing won't do. Let us recognise our educational policy, because on that will depend the future of our country where two-thirds of the revenue is to be spent on merely paying persons who are doing unproductive work, and one-third is reserved for social services. The future of our country depends not on our leaders, but on our own children.

Therefore I tell you, ladies and gentlemen, that it should be your first and foremost idea to see that these inequalities of spending money are remedied, and Education placed on such a basis that all the people of the country, whether rich or poor, have an equal chance of developing their personality to the full."

A very large gathering of parents, old boys and friends of the College was present. The function began with an Oriental dance performance by some of the girl students and a speech of welcome ably delivered by a young pupil of the College. The Principal, Mr. T. T. Jayaratnam, then presented a report of the progress and activities of the College during the past two years. He also made reference to the injustice done to the teachers by denying them Special Posts which are their due, and by offering them pitifully low remuneration. He dwelt at length on the hardships faced by Assisted Schools making special mention of the prevailing dearth of qualified teachers and the niggardly equipment grant proposed under the Free Education Scheme. "Give us the teachers and the money, in other words, give us the tools, and we shall make a good job of our responsibility," pleaded the Principal.

Mr. C. Coomaraswamy, Government Agent, Jaffna, speaking from the chair said: "I find from the Principal's report that religious education is being given a prominent place in this College. You all know what happened during the last two Great Wars which destroyed so many people. It clearly shows that religion, at any rate the Christian religion, has not been understood by the very Christians who waged those wars. It is very essential for us to take heed that special attention should be paid to the religious education of our children." Referring to the dissatisfaction amongst teachers about the low salaries paid to them, Mr. Coomaraswamy said, "Every one will admit that teachers deserve a better salary, and it is the best salary that attracts the best talent."

Mr. N. Ponniah, Editor, "Eelakesary," speaking in Tamil, referred to the noble ideals which the Founder of the College had ever before him in all his labours and requested the large gathering present to supply the needs of the institution and make it a first rate College. He appealed to the audience to give up talking in the air and get down to action.

Mr. R. Nadarajah, B. Sc., of the Staff proposed a vote of thanks.

The pupils put on boards a Tamil play entitled "Vijayam" taken from Cholian history.

A DESERVING CAUSE

A NEW ERA FOR EDUCATION in Ceylon has set in with the advent of Free Education. Equality of opportunity is now afforded to the rich and the poor alike to make their mark in all spheres of human activity. But, in spite of the fact that Government pays the fees of teachers and others employed in schools which have come under the Free Education Scheme, and allows such schools a niggardly equipment grant, it cannot be denied that these schools are facing hard times ahead. The equipment grant proposed under the Free Education Scheme is barely sufficient to meet additional expenses for which Government has made no provision at all. A good library, Science and Physics laboratories are among the many things that are required to make a school or college worthy of its name. In view of this reprehensible attitude of the Government towards schools and colleges, it is to the public that these institutions have to look for financial aid.

The burden on the public is greater when those institutions that look to it for help are national institutions. The two great national educational institutions in this Island are the Jaffna Hindu College and the Hindu Ladies' College. Jaffna Hindu College has a record of fifty years' service behind it—a service of which any educational institution could be proud. But everything is not as it ought to be. Owing to an acute lack of accommodation, hundreds of students have been refused admission; the Science and Physics laboratories are not up to the standard; the hostel can scarcely accommodate one hundred and fifty students; there is no library or playground of which the College can boast. The Jaffna Hindu Ladies' College is in a worse plight. The necessity for a girls' college in Jaffna Town has been a long-felt one and this is proved by the fact that on the very opening day, which was in 1943, it had on its role over two hundred girls, and to-day its strength has risen well over four hundred. The need for women with a more enlightened and swifter outlook on life, which has hitherto been viewed from an angle quite foreign to our national ideals, is pressing. The right type of education is necessary if we are to keep our future generation free from the dangers of half-baked Europeanisation. And what could ensure their safety better than national institutions run on the right lines?

To achieve this object institutions should be maintained in a high state of efficiency, and for this purpose money is required. The State has so far failed in its duty. It is now the duty of the people to safeguard their own interests. The old students and well-wishers of the two colleges have organised a Carnival to raise the necessary funds. It is for the people, irrespective of community or religion, to respond to this national call. It is the call of two premier national institutions of the North. The responsibility of the Tamils, especially the Hindus, is greater because these two institutions primarily cater to their needs. We trust that every true son of Lanka will rise to the occasion and respond to this great call.

THE DELIMITATION COMMISSION

The public sittings of the Delimitation Commission at Colombo are coming to a close. Several persons have given evidence before the Commission urging various demands. Among those who gave evidence were Messrs. S. W. R. D. Bandaranaike, G. G. Ponnambalam, A. R. A. Razik, T. B. Jayah, J. Tyagarajah and Sir Ratnajothi Saravanamuttu, Sir Macan Markar and Dr. A. P. de Soysa. Some gave evidence in their individual capacity; and others on behalf of certain bodies. Some have urged the necessity for carving out electoral districts in such a manner as to secure the return of minority members where there exists a justification for the representation of minority interests. Some have urged before the Commission the creation of multi-member constituencies to safeguard minority interests. Others have objected to the creation of multi-member constituencies on the ground that this would not guarantee the return of minority members, and that it would perpetuate communalism. Whether their views are correct or not, they have rightly given expression to what they have felt to be correct. They have placed their views before the Commission as a duty by the people whom they represent in the State Council or whom they intend to represent in the future Parliament.

Strangely enough two members representing the Northern Province have so far maintained an enigmatic silence on the subject of delimitation. It is difficult to conjecture what they hope to achieve by maintaining silence on such an important subject. Perhaps they propose to give evidence when the Commission holds its sittings at Jaffna, or perhaps they do not propose to give any evidence at all. It is for them to decide, but we hope that Messrs. Mahadeva and Natesan will not commit in this instance the egregious blunder of following the rule that silence is golden. As members representing in the State Council two constituencies of the Northern Province, they have a duty towards the people whom they represent. These people have a right to know what opinions their members hold regarding delimitation. They fear that this self-imposed silence is a prelude to other things which may bode ill for the minorities. Since the acceptance of the White Paper, these two members, especially Mr. Natesan, have been silent in regard to many things, except when they tried to stampede the Tamils into joining the United National Party. It is time that the public was told where these members stand in regard to delimitation.

Minister Opens Maternity Ward

"I have come here to tell you how pleasant it is to work with Mr. Mahadeva, the member for Jaffna and Minister for Home Affairs, and how much active interest he takes in your affairs", said Mr. George E. de Silva, the Minister for Health, in declaring open the new maternity ward of the Jaffna Civil Hospital on Saturday last.

Dr. C. Kandiah, requesting the Minister for Health to declare open the new buildings, referred to the chequered history of the Jaffna Civil Hospital. It was forty years since the Government had taken over the hospital from the Friend-in-need Society which founded the hospital a hundred years ago, and most of the buildings, except the Upstairs Block, the X-ray Block and the Out-Patients Dispensary—the last two being the result of public munificence—were put up by the Society. That day three hundred and thirty patients were in the hospital which had beds only for two hundred and forty two. The progress of the hospital had not kept pace with the increase in population. Jaffna's backwardness in sanitation was early acquired but never lost.

Further Dr. Kandiah added that in the near future the Jaffna Civil Hospital would be getting buildings to house another eight hundred patients. Owing to lack of space two storied wards would be put up. In addition to the 800 bed ward, there would also be a new administration block, indoor dispensary, an X-ray block, with facilities for Electro-Therapeutic treatment. There would also be a new Pathology Block and quarters for the nursing staff, clerks and stewards, and House Officers. The House Officers at the Jaffna Hospital were not really House Officers in the sense that they did not reside in the hospital, but came from outside. Owing to this want, recently there was a bit of sensational journalism about a good samaritan who was unable to secure immediately the services of a doctor to attend on an injured man the good samaritan had brought.

Referring to Mr. Mahadeva, Dr. Kandiah said that he did not depend on the reflected glory of his ancestors. In conclusion, Dr. Kandiah said that the public of Jaffna were greatly indebted for the new maternity ward to Mr. N. Chelvadurai, the live wire of the Jaffna Association, Sir Geoffrey Layton, the Minister for Health and Mr. Mahadeva for his assistance.

Mr. Geo. E. de Silva, speaking next, deplored the lack of co-operation on the part of the Jaffna Urban Council to look after its citizens. He was going to spend millions in looking after the health of the people in the North.

Referring to those who had taken an active interest in bringing into existence the new maternity ward, Mr. Silva observed that the public ought to be grateful to Sir Geoffrey Layton.

"I have come here", he said, "to tell you how pleasant it is to work with Mr. Mahadeva, the member for Jaffna and Minister for Home Affairs, and how much active interest he takes in your affairs."

Mr. A. Mahadeva, speaking next, said that during his five years of ministership Mr. de Silva had done as much for Ceylon as the British Government had done during the hundred and thirty years of occupation. During the 130 years, 120 hospitals had been built, but Mr. de Silva had in five years built as many hospitals.

"George's heart is not afflicted with the poison of communalism. He is colour blind to communities; he is colour blind to religion", added Mr. Mahadeva.

Earlier Mr. Mahadeva laid the foundation stone of the new Out-Patients Dispensary, which will cost about Rs. 340,000. The O. P. D. when completed will be the finest of its kind in the Island.

The new maternity ward has thirty four beds with a labour room in the centre. Attached to ward are a nurses' duty room, sceptic patient's room, a pantry etc. The estimated cost was Rs. 65,000, but it had cost nearly Rs. 113,000.

People Say Irrigation Engineer Unsympathetic

By The Representative of the "Hindu Organ"

I visited last Saturday the Puttur Well. The people living near by feel strongly about the unsympathetic attitude of the Irrigation Engineer Mr. D. H. Kahawita. This attitude, they said, was evident from what Mr. Kahawita had told the "Times of Ceylon". To me they appeared not at all penitent. Still they have their faith pinned to the "legendary" Well. With the characteristic tenacity of the Jaffna man they firmly believe that, whatever the results of the experiments may be, at least some use could be made of the well. There is no room, they said, for any pessimism.

Accepting the facts and figures of the Irrigation Department to be correct, the people want to know why, before considering the feasibility of a modified scheme, Mr. Kahawita entertained the idea that the scheme may have to be abandoned. In a place where there are neither any major nor minor irrigation schemes, they claim that a scheme to irrigate even two hundred acres will be welcome. It is not necessary, they exclaimed, to procure the services of the Irrigation Department to bring up the salt water.

The people think that the Minister for Agriculture and Lands has adopted a more realistic and sympathetic attitude towards this question. At a time when food is the all-important question, no stone should be left unturned to bring in every acre under cultivation. At this juncture to sabotage such a scheme by word or by deed they feel amounts to high treason. The cynical tone in the interview published in the "Times of Ceylon" recently was roundly condemned as an attempt to subvert the good intentions of the Minister for Agriculture and Lands.

THE SCHEME

Though originally the scheme was intended to irrigate a very large extent, it is now believed that a modified scheme could be formulated to bring about at least five hundred acres under highland crops. It is not too much to hope that in a few years time, after closer and more accurate observations are made, it will be possible to bring under cultivation a considerably larger extent. At present about four hundred acres are under cultivation which otherwise would have lain fallow due to lack of water. Ten acres of paddy are also being cultivated in the village of Sirupiddy.

The main channel is about three miles in length, and extends as far as the village of Neervely. About a thousand yards of the main channel have been cemented by the Irrigation Department. The rest of the main channel and the two branch channels, one extending to the village of Sirupiddy crossing the Pt. Pedro-Jaffna road to irrigate the paddy-fields there, and the other extending as far as the village of Puttur have been constructed by the Emergency Department under the guidance of Mr. M. Srikhanta, A. G. A. (E) Jaffna. The major portion of the work on the channels was finished within three weeks' time, whereas the Irrigation Department wanted five months' time to complete the same job! Though the estimated cost was Rs. 20,000, the actual cost was Rs. 15,000.

FOOD CROPS

A good portion of the hundred thousand cuttings of manioc distributed in Valigumam West has been planted in the area under the irrigation scheme. Oxid Dhal (உருதல்) Maize, Chillies, Onions and other cereals have been planted in this area on a very extensive scale. The crops, owing to a plentiful supply of water from the 'legendary' well are doing extremely well. History has been made in the Jaffna Peninsula by the cultivation of paddy during the dry season. The ten acres have been sown with the two and a half months variety of paddy specially got down from Mannar by Mr. Srikhanta. Sowing operations were started three weeks ago and the harvesting is expected to take place about the middle of September.

MORE NATURAL SOURCES

The search for more natural sources of water-supply to implement the decision of the Emergency Department to increase food production in the North goes on. It is understood that experiments at Puttur only form part of a larger programme to harness the natural sources of water supply in the Peninsula for the purposes of food production. The two natural sources, one at Urelu and the other at Idikundu, it is claimed, afford ample scope for exploitation and development. It is also learned that already hoses nearly amounting to three miles in length have arrived. The delay in starting operations is due to the non-arrival of the Trailer Pumps which are under repair at present. These experiments will be conducted by the Emergency Department, Jaffna.

Music Academy for Jaffna

The first Oriental Music Academy will be established in Jaffna this month. Saageetha Bhushanam N. Shanmugaretnam of Udumvil who returned from Annamalai University recently after graduating in Instrumental and Vocal music will be in charge of the Academy.

MANY LIES ABOUT KNAVESMIRE POLICY

Mr. Ananda Tissa de Alwis, Propaganda Officer to the Board of Ministers Post-war sub-Committee says with regard to Knavesmire: "For 2½ years now we have not had a grain of rice from India.

"This fact should be fully and completely appreciated, especially by those very high-souled Ceylonese who appear to be eating their hearts out with sympathy for the Indian labourers on Knavesmire."

"If such people had displayed an equal degree of love and affection for their own countrymen and countrywomen they would at least be patriotic. But then, patriotism is at a discount with some high-souled intellectuals who have their own versions of the Gospel of Marx.

He continues: "Many lies are being spread assiduously with some subtlety here and abroad" about the Knavesmire affair.

"One is that Knavesmire is the first step in a campaign to oust the Indian labourer from Ceylon. This is a lie, because Knavesmire is only one of a number of estates which have been bought by the Ministry of Agriculture and Lands in order that landless Ceylonese villagers should have a fair means of existence."

He explains that Knavesmire is not an isolated example of this policy. Many other estates have already been purchased for this purpose.
