THE HINDU ORGAN.

JAFFNA, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1902

His Excellency the Governor's Permanent Memorial Fund.

We have to congratulate most heartily Mr. R. W. Allegacoon on the successful issue of the public meetings held at Point Pedro and Chavakachcherri under his auspices to collect funds for a permanent memorial to His Excellency the Governor. The thanks of the public are also due to the members of the Bar and other gentlemen who helped Mr. Allegacoon in getting up the meetings. About Rs 3000 was subscribed at Point Pedro at the close of the meeting, and a further sum is likely to be collected from the absentees. At Chavakachcherri, a less rich division than Point Pedro, a sum of Rs 2000 was subscribed at the meeting held on Friday last, so that the two Vadamaratchis, Thenmaradchi, Pachilaippalli, and Karachchi are to contribute Rs 5000 and more. At this rate, the three Valigamams must contribute not less than Rs. 12000; Jaffna, Rs 10000; and the Islands, at least Rs 3000. If the residents of these divisions contribute as liberally as those of Point Pedro and Chavakachcherri, the above amounts will be more than reached. We commend the example of Point Pedro and Chavakachcherri to the inhabitants of the other divisions.

Not only the classes, but the masses also must be induced to pay, which we are quite sure they will do, if the object of the movement is brought home to them. The natives of this country contribute largely for charitable and religious purposes, which they have been accustomed to do from time immemorial. But they are not very forward in paying for political objects, or for education imparted on Western lines. Politics which are more or less blended with the materialism of the West, are foreign to the national sentiment, which is essentially religious; and hence the failure of political movements to enlist the national sympathy. But the people must learn, living as they do under an alien Government, to fall in with the views, sentiments, and aspirations of the ruling race partly at least, so that mutual love and esteem may be engendered between the two races. In the East, though the memories of great men are cherished with gratitude, very seldom are memorials set up in their remembrance. The people will, instead, build temples, Madams, and Chatrams, and sink wells. In the West, however, the national genius is such that great soldiers and sailors, leading inventors and machine-makers, eminent benefactors and philanthropists, popular pro-consuls and politicians, are all honoured with statues, tablets, and other memorials. Therefore, when we intend to honour a leading member of the ruling race, we must do it in a form and manner acceptable to them and honourable to ourselves. The giver of the Northern Railway is one of the greatest benefactors of Ceylon, but it is the educated and mercantile classes that know this. The masses, who are agriculturists, must be made to know their benefactor and asked to hold him in undying remembrance by contributing their mite to the permanent memorial. We hope that the Tamil members of the Reception Committee will make a point of this. If each gentleman undertakes to instruct and inform the people of his own village or division, the whole of the agricultural population will become aware of the movement ere long.

LOCAL & GENERAL

The Governor's Reception—Grand preparations are being made to accord a fitting reception to His Excellency. Pandals will be put up at the main railway station, at the Kachcherri grounds, at the Jetty, at Kangesanturral, and at Chavakachcherri, and arches at various centres of business and activity. The reception is sure to surpass in grandeur and magnificence that accorded to His Excellency on his first visit to the North.

The Supreme Court—The first criminal sessions of the Supreme Court for the Northern Circuit commenced at Jaffna on the 17th Instant, Mr. J. P. Middleton, the third Puisne Justice presiding. Mr. N. E. Cooke acts as Crown Counsel. Mr. Stork as Registrar, Mr. K. C. Kadigamar as Tamil Interpreter, and Mr. Beauchamp de Saram as Private Secretary.

Educational—We understand that St. Thomas', Wesley, St. Joseph's, and Trinity Colleges will be hereafter paid lump sums of money by Government for standards V to VIII instead of payments being made according to the results of examination. The payments for lower standards will of course depend on the results of examination. Why this privilege has not been extended to the Colleges in Jaffna, we do not know.

Dr. C. S. Rutnam—This gentleman who returned from Europe recently having obtained British qualifications has been appointed medical officer at Dambulla.

Mr. R. P. Paranjpye—Mr. Paranjpye, the well-known Senior Wrangler from Bombay, has joined the staff of Fergusson College, Poona, of which he was originally a student. The College is officered and supported by Hindus, and one of its special features is that its graduates who are employed on its staff receive only subsistence allowances. Mr. Paranjpye, in spite of his high qualifications as Senior Wrangler and Fellow of St. John's College, Cambridge, receives only Rs. 75 per mensem. The Fergusson College is a standing monument of the patriotism of our countrymen of the Western Presidency.

Paddy—A large quantity of paddy was imported into Jaffna last week.

Agricultural Operations—Rain, which fell on the 12th and 13th Instant, has caused much damage to the paddy crops in some parts of the District. The crops are under water in many localities.

Mr. A. Gibson—This gentleman who spent a few months in Jaffna left for Colombo on the 11th Instant.

Small-pox at Manipay—A case of small-pox occurred at Manipay last week. The patient has been removed to the small-pox hospital at Jaffna.

The Rev. Father C. H. Lytton, O. M. I.—The Reception committee has invited Father Lytton to be present in Jaffna during the Governor's visit to take part in the reception. The Committee has done a most graceful act.

Mr. C. J. R. Lemesurier—This gentleman has been called to the bar at Lincoln's Inn.

The Mannar Assistant Agency—Mr. E. B. Denham has been appointed Assistant Government Agent, &c., at Mannar vice Mr. Constantine who goes to Puttalam in a similar capacity.

MANKULAM.

Weather—The days are extremely hot and the nights are cold and very dewy. There has been no rain for a very long time.

Personal—The Government Agent with Mrs. Ievers came here yesterday evening and heard today some irrigation cases of Tunukkay and Karunaval pattu (which belong to the Jaffna District). He also exempted some people of Karunaval Pattu, who are old and sick, from paying the Poll-tax. Mr. A. Rajakariar, sub-inspector of Village Tanks, was in attendance and acted as Interpreter to the G. A. in addition to his own duties, in the absence of the Kachcherri Mudaliyar.

The Kachcheri—Mr. Kailasapillai and Mr. Sandrasagarar, the District Mudr., are expected here in a day or two. The G. A. will go down to Tunukkay and after a few days stay there he will proceed to Vavuniya through Panankamam. Mr. E. R. McDonnell, the Chief Irrigation Inspector, will be leaving to-morrow to meet the G. A.

A man of Nainamadu, a village in Melpattu South, was attacked by an elephant and severely injured, near the bed of Sinadampan tank, in the evening of the 5th Instant. He was brought to the Dispensary at Mankulam to a distance of 12 miles, and in spite of the able treatment of Dr. Guannutta the man expired this morning. It seems that the man was on his way to Sinadampan fields for the night watch at about 5.30 P. M. and the elephant came in front of the man all of a sudden. He rolled the man to a side and went on his way. Some of the ribs of the man were broken and the legs were injured. The Government Agent has expressed his wish to give a reward of Rs. 50- to the person who kills the elephant in question.—Cor.

NEDUNKENI.

Weather—There was plenty of rain here for the last three or four days, and most of the tanks have spilled a second time. Although this unusually heavy rainfall will help the people in cultivating Iddai-p-kam also this time, on the other hand it has ruined the Kalapokam harvest to a great extent.

The Government Agent—The Government Agent and Mrs. Ievers came down to Kanakarayankulam on the morning of the 9th Instant accompanied by the Kachcherri Mudr., Mr. Chit. Kylasapillai, the D. Mudr., Mr. Sandrasagra, and the Sub-Inspector of Village Tanks Mr. Rajakariar. There Mr. MacDonnell, the Chief Irrigation Inspector, joined the party. After staying at Kanakarayankulam, the whole of that day the party proceeded to Parantan in Melpattu-South after early morning tea on the 10th Instant. The G. A. reached Nedunkeni on the 11th Instant and after a stay of three days he goes to Samalankulam en route to Vavuniya. He visited the Govt. Dispensary at Nedunkeni which is in charge of D. A. Cathirasar and was much pleased with what he saw.

The Assistant Government Agent, Mullaivatu, is expected here to-day, and after hearing some Irrigation cases of Melpattu-East and attending to Exemption duty he will proceed to Vavuniya where he is expected to meet the G. A.

Most of the officers of the Mullaitivu District are preparing to go to Jaffna to partake in the happy celebrations in connection with the opening of the Railway.—Cor.

POINT PEDRO.

HIS EXCELLENCY'S VISIT TO THE NORTH.

In response to a notice circulated by R. W. Allegecoo, Esq., Police magistrate, a very large, representative, and influential meeting was held in the Central School, Point Pedro, on the 8th Instant at three P. M.

On the motion of Mr. V. Sivasidamparam, Maniagar, seconded by Mr. Theivar Nagalingam, Merchant, Mr. R. W. Allegecoo took the chair, and explained the object of the meeting, and in doing so he dwelt at length on the great boon that has been conferred on the people of the North by the extension of the Railway through the wilds of the Wanni, which had been propounded by some of his predecessors as a "tantalising vision". Speeches were also made by Messrs. Talavasingam, Advocate, Candappa, Proctor, M. Subramaniam, Proctor, S. Subramaniam, Proctor, Ganapathipillai, Proctor, C. Chithamparapillai, Sittampalam, Velanthampillai, Ganagarayer, Vadivelu, Velantha Udaiyar, Thamotheram, Adams and others. Great enthusiasm prevailed. Never before in the history of Point Pedro was a meeting so successfully held. The amount subscribed on the spot exceeded three thousand rupees. Almost all the gentlemen present subscribed readily and liberally. Further lists are being circulated among those who were not able to attend the meeting.

A vote of thanks to the chair brought the meeting to a close, and thereupon Mr. Allegecoo thanked those present for their ready response to the notice.

It was resolved that the amount collected may be sent to the Parent Committee at Jaffna in aid of the permanent Memorial to His Excellency Sir West Ridgeway.

Great credit is due to Mr. Allegecoo for the large amount collected which has outbeaten even that of Jaffna.

Our cordial and loyal thanks are due to his Excellency Sir West Ridgeway for having made, what was once thought a vision, a realisation.

Point Pedro will be the more glad to have occasion to welcome His Excellency and adequately show her gratitude at Point Pedro itself, an honour which she enjoyed during his predecessor's reign.—Cor.

Subscriptions in aid of the Governor's Permanent Memorial Fund collected at Point Pedro on 8th Feb: 1902 at a meeting presided over by Mr. R. W. Allegecoo, Police Magistrate.

CORRESPONDENCE.

THE AGE OF TIRUGNANA SAMBANDA.

AUDI ALTERAM PARTEM.

Sir,
I fear Mr. Tamby Pillai misses the point of my 7th argument, and misrepresents me. What I said in my pamphlet was simply this—that there were 49 Pandians between Koon Pandiyan and Ukkir Pandiyan covering a period of 1950 years, and 44 Pandians covering a period of 1320 years between Ukkir Pandiyan and the last of the Pandians at the time of the Mahomedan conquest, which was about 800 years. This gives 4070 years as the period that has elapsed from the age of Sambanda to the present day. Mr. Tamby Pillai sets too much store by the law of averages and condemns the average I have struck as unwarrantably high. In the first place, he must bear in mind that we are dealing with ancient history where we cannot expect the same precision as to dates of reigns as is the case with those of comparatively modern times. Mr. Tamby Pillai ought to know that a fair allowance has to be made for inter-regnams brought about by the rise and fall of contending dynasties, and it is by making such allowance and acting in the belief that it would be readily understood by persons having any pretension to a knowledge of ancient history, that I made my calculations. I do not see that the law of averages can militate triumphantly against my calculations. Am I to understand that because Mr. Tamby Pillai finds an average of only 13 years for the Ceylonese kings, the average for other kings of other times and places cannot greatly exceed it? Does Mr. Tamby Pillai pretend to say that the rule of averages struck by him can be accepted as an infallible test? Is there to be no exception to the law of average, and does he stoutly maintain that there are no exceptions? And does he mean to say that in this matter there is no difference between a kingdom where peace and plenty reigned and one distracted by civil dissensions and internecine warfare. Is no account to be taken of the short lived career of the moderns and the long lived career of the ancients? Even to cite the modern instance of the great House of Hanover under which we live, what does the law of averages of which Mr. Tamby Pillai makes so much, tell us. It is that this House which rose in the year 1714 has continued to this day with six sovereigns who have covered a period of 187 years, giving to each an average of 31 years, which is more than my average which Mr. Tamby Pillai calls in question.

Mr. Tamby Pillai says that it can be proved that all the Pandians lived between the 6th century and 7th century A. D. It can perhaps be done according to M. Tamby Pillai's way of thinking, but till he proves it, he must excuse me if I demur to it.

How many years is Mr. Tamby Pillai prepared to allow, I wonder, for a Pandian? He may if he chooses allow 2 or 3 to suit his own argument; but he must know that such opinion would be regarded as most astounding.

My argument No 8 as to Isai Tamil (இசைத் தமிழ்), being the grammar which Sambanda followed, and which, as a matter of fact, has not been followed by any author who lived in subsequent times, remains unassailed. Mr. Tamby Pillai's remarks are simply beside the mark. He is indulging in words and not answering me. He says that many of the works of Isai Tamil would seem to have existed about the 10th century; but I am surprised that he gives no proof, and does not even make any attempt to adduce any proof, of the existence of a thing of which his mind seems to be so full. I shall thank him to furnish some of the abundant evidence in his possession to prove that Adiarkunallar's time was posterior to that of N. Chidarkinnyar.

My reference to the words "Sakyas" and "Buddhas" in Sambanda's Devarams was one out of a number of similar references to circumstances, times, and places, which taken singly may not count for much; but the cumulative force of which must, I think, beget a conviction or something akin to a conviction that Sambanda, having regard to the other facts known of his life and of his contemporaries, must have lived before Gautama Buddha, the last of a series of 21 Buddhas with whom Buddhism rose and fell as is well-known. I cannot refrain from quoting the following:

"The writings of many of these orientalists are often characterized by an imperfect knowledge of Indian literature, philosophy, &c., and a contemptuous disregard for the opinions of Hindu writers and Pandits. Very often facts and dates are taken by these writers from the writings of their predecessors or contemporaries on the assumption that they are correct without any further investigation by themselves. Even when a writer gives a date with an expression of doubt as to its accuracy his follower frequently quotes the same as if it were absolutely correct." "It is also assumed that Buddhism was brought into existence by Gautama Buddha. The previous existence of Buddhism, Jainism, and Arhat Philosophy is rejected as an absurd and ridiculous invention of the Buddhists and others, who attempted thereby to assign a very high antiquity to their own religion. In consequence of this erroneous impression every Hindu book referring to the doctrine of the Buddhists is declared to have written subsequent to the time of Gautama Buddha."

To prove that there was Buddhism before the time of Gautama Buddha, I shall ask Mr. Tamby Pillai to refer to Mahayana Sutra.

In conclusion, I must apologise for the unusual length to which my reply to Mr. Tamby Pillai has run, and did I not fear that any further trespass upon your readers' patience would be unwelcomed, if not positively distasteful, I should perhaps be inclined to say more on the subject. A word more and I have done. How is that Mr. Tamby Pillai has taken up the cudgels against me, not as one would naturally expect in sweet Tamil, his mother-tongue and mine, but in English, foreign equally to both, in which whatever his accomplishments may be, I must own I cannot express myself with that fulness and precision which I may hope to attain partially at least in Tamil.

A. Mootootamby Pillai,

Navalarkottam,
10th February 1902.

(If the question is at what time did Joshua or Isaiah live—the opinion of non-Christians, however learned they may be, will not be accepted by Christian writers. They perhaps act on the principle of law that the best evidence is that which comes from the party who seeks the relief in support of which it is given. If Christians regard their testimony to be superior to that of non-Christians on questions relating to the antiquity of their religion and Scripture, they must extend that privilege to Hindus. Hindus are much more conversant with their religion and literature than Christians, most of whom look at them with eyes askance. In a controversy between Mr. Brito and Mr. Coomaraswamy on a Hindu historical or literary subject, we remember the "Ceylon Observer" using the argument that Mr. Brito being a "Christian" his reasons must be preferred to those of Mr. Coomaraswamy who is a "Hindu". But the "Observer" would be the last Christian paper in the world to accept the opinions of Mr. Coomaraswamy in preference to those of Mr. Brito on a subject relating to Christianity, though according to the "principle" of its "reasoning", no other course would be open to it. We refer to the conduct of the "Observer" only to show the one-sidedness and inconsistency of Christians in general, without proceeding to pass any opinion on Mr. Tamby Pillai's paper, though it must be certainly said that some of his reasons are far-fetched and would not have been employed by him against Mr. Mootootamby Pillai, if he (Mr. M.) had been dealing with the age of Isaiah or Daniel. To take one of Mr. M's arguments, he has shown conclusively that the average of 30 years struck by him for the reigns of the Pandian kings is not too high, by a reference to the average of the reigns of the Hanoverian Sovereigns. In the Pandya country there was, for the most part, peace and plenty, whereas in Ceylon where the average was 13 years, Singhales and Tamils were constantly quarrelling with and overthrowing each other, not to speak of quarrels among the members of the Singhalese Royal family themselves. The Pandyan kingdom was an ancient country where the right of succession was settled, whereas Ceylon was a young state. The circumstances peculiar to each country will have to be considered before comparing one with another. Ed. H. O.)
