President's Message

It is my pleasure to welcome you all to our 19th Nadeswarans Day. My service in NCOSA UK began in 1997. I must at this point pay immense tribute to all my predecessors, past and current members of this association who had given their time, effort and a substantial amount of resources to hold this association together, as well as facing daunting challenges ahead.

I wanted to have a common platform to help our school. I want to share our friendships and experiences with others. I want to see how our school, Nadeswara College, transformed and enriched our lives. As you can all see, our efforts continue even stronger than ever before because the needs for our school have changed considerably this year. Since our school displaced in 1990, we gave great helps to our school for the last 26 years. We are delighted to announce that our school is back in Kankesanthurai since June 2016. And for this, I salute you all.

This committee (2015-2016) have achieved many successes during the term. I was inspired by our executive committee and past students living in the UK and rest of the world. Our association created a bright light which shines continuously on our school. We have had a deep aspiration to build a stronger association in the UK. We have democracy and transparency in our association. We have strong networks with Nadeswarans in the UK and the rest of the world, and we have decided to open Nadeswara College development fund account, trustees in Sri Lanka and jointly working with NCOSA Canada that will help us to rebuild our school for its former glory.

I thank you all for the opportunity given to serve as president during this term. I also want thank for the hard work and dedication of our executive committee members and their families, players, volunteers and sponsors. I hope our hard work will continue to serve both our Nadeswara College and Nadeswara College old student association UK.

"Be Honest", (நேர்மை நெறி நில), is our school motto.

Cllr Kanapathipillai Naheerathan

Message from the Chief Guest:

It is with much delight that I would like to thank the organisers from NCOSA (UK) for inviting my wife and I to the 19th Nadeswaran's Day 2016, at the Bannister sports centre on Sunday, 26th June.

I have always enjoyed these events because even after so many years, the sincere fond memories are still very much afresh and I am sure that very many of you who shared Nadeswara times then, would vouch for my sentiments. Days like these lead to exuberance and make you reminisce the happy school days. The friendliness of the people including the teachers and the homeliness of the place combined, created a warm welcoming feel at Nadeswara college. It was in the early seventies when 'standardisation' was first effected in Lanka and our batches were the first to take the hit. Students from the Tamil areas were required to obtain very high grades in all subjects in order to get university places. The competition among students in Tamil schools was so high, many opted to go abroad for further education. The situation radically changed the mind set of many.

At this time, the reputation for better higher education standards at Nadeswara shot up to new heights with some fantastic teachers behind it. One of them was Mr Vaithianathan (master), chemistry teacher and author. He hailed from Ilavalai. His nephew and I were at St. Patrick's hatching our own plans to head overseas and when he heard about it, he talked us into joining Nadeswara. That was it, the past was history and we never regretted a single school day ever since. We had the best of both worlds, good education, exams and happy times too in a relatively short time. And it was a mixed school too! Also I enjoyed playing competitive football at Nadeswara and I am ever so grateful to the wonderful Mr Paramsothy (master) for that. Painful memory of losing the semi-final to Jaffna central and had we won that, we would have played next door at Jaffna's Wembley, the Thuraiappah stadium. As a consolation, we played a friendly against that year's champions J/Arunodhaya and lost by just 2-1!

We loved the boys' brigade (a small group of us on bicycles) and it's exploits under the ardent stewardship of one Mr Naveenan, a well loved character by students and teachers alike. He had his 'offices' at very many places. Everybody in those days in KKS, it seemed to us, to be leaving him in charge of any empty properties. He also had credit accounts at most eateries which we all used. He once led us through a hole in the Palaly airport fence, across the runway and we got away with just a warning over a tannoy from a distance. Amazing fond memories, too many to list. After nearly 27 years of turbulent times when the whole college was uprooted, it is now hopeful and good to hear that the school is given back it's original place and that many structural developments have been taking place.

I would also like to congratulate the dedicated members of the NCOSA (UK) who tirelessly organise these events for the benefit of the old school. I know how difficult such organisation is. To do it every year is a massive challenge to the dedicated few. Apart from the competition winners, we are all winners today for having made the effort to come here to enjoy a good summer community social. The real long term winners of these efforts are the people on the ground, left behind in our homelands.

Well done and we wish Nadeswara college well. Thank you.

TSSA(UK) Tournament 2016 and Nadeswara College (UK) Team

NCOSA (UK) is so proud to announce the achievement of our football team during the TSSA tournament - 2016. It fought through all the way to the final and became the runners up losing the match by a narrow gap to Mahajana College (UK).

Both teams played extremely well and our team narrowly missed three opportunities of scoring goals.

Playing their way through our team was neck and neck with the opposing team. With the given extra time the opposition team pushed our team to the fullest of their ability, yet we failed to score a goal. Mahajana(UK) team score a goal during this extra time.

We congratulate our dedicated players, NCOSA(UK)'s Sports committee and the important officials such as Mr K Yogamurthy, Mr M Ragu and Mr S Bala.

Let us congratulate the winning team, The Mahajana College(UK), as well.

TSSA(UK) is the abbreviation for Tamil Schools Sports Association of the UK.
