This collection brings together a number of thought-provoking essays, written by academics, critics and writers, all of whom are concerned with the multiple ways in which social, cultural and political forces intersect in contemporary Sri Lanka. Written primarily as a tribute to Professor Ashley Halpe, the essays reflect the academic rigor and imaginative depth that Halpe himself insisted on as a teacher and scholar.

7. ASPECTS OF ETHNICITY AND GENDER AMONG THE RODI OF SRI LANKA, by Nireka Weeratunge. Colombo, ICES, 2002. 142p.
C. Rs.250.00; US $ 10.00

In this book, the author focuses on the process of how a tribe may have got transformed into a cast of untouchables.

8. AUTONOMY & ETHNICITY: NEGOTIATING COMPETING CLAIMS IN MULTI - ETHNIC STATES. Edited by Yash Ghai. Cambridge, Cambridge University Press, 2000. 312p.
C. Rs.1200.00 US $20.00

This book deals with one of the most urgent problems of contemporary times: the political organisation of multi-ethnic states. Most major conflicts of our time are internal to the state and revolve around the claims of access to or the redesign of the state. Responses to ethnic cleansing to accommodations of ethnic claims through affirmative policies, special forms of representation, power sharing and the integration of minorities. One of the most sought after, and resisted, devices for conflict management is autonomy.

9. CAPACITY-BUILDING IN CONFLICT ZONES: A FEMINIST ANALYSIS OF HUMANITARIAN ASSISTANCE IN SRI LANKA, by Malathi de Alwis and Jennifer Hyndman. Colombo, ICES, 2002. 64p.
C. Rs.200.00; US $ 15.00

This report seeks to advance, both in theory and practice, the delivery of humanitarian assistance in Sri Lanka while simultaneously analyzing the links between gender, conflict and displacement. The report focuses on "capacity building" conducted by international NGOs and UN agencies to build and sustain institutional capacity among local/national organizations in Sri Lanka. It specifically assesses the existing resources and potential for institutional capacity building in three areas; the prevention of violence against women and support for those affected; the provision of facilities and information on women's health issues; and the promotion of income security options which serve to stabilize household economies.

14. CRISIS COMMENTARIES: SELECTED POLITICAL WRITINGS OF MERVYN DE SILVA. Edited by E. Vijayalakshmi. Colombo, ICES, 2001. 191p.
C. Rs.250.00; US $ 20.00

Mervyn de Silva became one of few, sober voices of sanity in a country gone mad with hatred and violence. His death, a month before Dr. Neelan Tiruchelvam's assassination and a year after Charles Abeysekere's death, left Sri Lanka bereft of a towering intellectual personality whose ideas wielded influence and whose writings could guide the political leadership in new directions. Many people will miss Mervyn de Silva in the corridors of power and in the press briefings, asking the unaskable questions and providing a coherent analysis of our turbulent political reality. This volume is an attempt to keep his voice alive so that the next generation will have the benefit of his analysis.

15. CULTURAL MINORITIES OF SRI LANKA: THEIR GROWTH, ACHIEVEMENTS AND RELEVANCE TODAY. Edited by E. Vijayalakshmi. Colombo, ICES, 2005. 107p.
C. Rs.250.00; US $ 12.00

This book profiles five minorities of Parsis, Malays, Colombo Chetties, Malayalees and Portuguese and Dutch Burghers. These smaller communities have existed and grown in stature since the time Sri Lanka was called Ceylon. They make fascinating reading as they give an insight into the numerically minor, yet vibrant communities of this country which go to make Sri Lanka truly cosmopolitan in nature.

16. CULTURE AND POLITICS OF IDENTITY IN SRI LANKA. Edited by Mithran Tiruchelvam and Dattathreya. C.S. Colombo, ICES, 1998. 187p.
C. Rs.200.00; US $ 15.00

24. FIFTEEN, by Ameena Hussein. Colombo, ICES, 1999. 152p.
C. Rs.250.00; US $ 15.00

'Fifteen' is, as the title implies, a debut collection of fifteen short stories. The stories make an impact because of the writer's skill in depicting women's responses to male chauvinism. Women suffer in these stories but hit back too, often in self-destructive ways.

25. FIRSTNESS, HISTORY, PLACE & LEGITIMATE CLAIM TO PLACE-AS-HOMELAND IN COMPARATIVE FOCUS, by Micheal Roberts. ICES, Colombo, 2005. 44p.
C. Rs.175.00; US $ 5.00

26. FOUNDATIONS OF MODERN SOCIETY, by Rajiva Wijesinha. Colombo, ICES, 2004. 75p.
C. Rs.200.00; US $10.00

This book introduces students to ideas, events and personalities that have created the present –day world. Many of these significant factors either do not find mention in school texts or are not handled with sufficient clarity.

27. FROM SOUTH TO SOUTH: REFLECTIONS ON VIOLENCE AND PEACE. Edited by Rossana Favero-Karunaratna, Colombo, ICES, 2006. 90p
C. Rs.250.00 US $ 7.50

The last ten years there have been considerable efforts to look at comparative analysis of the different peace processes and the international armed conflicts in Latin America. The effects of violence have been devastating as it has corroded every cornerstone for a possible implementation of nation-building processes based on democratic values; furthermore, the proliferation of small weapons continues to be alarming in several countries. This publication attempts to collect some materials elaborated in Latin America particularly Peru and Colombia, in order to disseminate them among researchers and students, Government officials and NGOs, in order to generate discussion and new approaches regarding the present situation in Sri Lanka.

28. GENDERING HUMANITARIANISM : AN ANNOTATED BIBLIOGRAPHY ON GENDER AND CAPACITY BUILDING IN ARMED CONFLICT. Compiled by Bhawani Loganathan, with a foreword by Malathi de Alwis and Jennifer Hyndman. Colombo, ICES, 2001. 210p.

C. Rs.; 350.00 US $ 15.00

The twin phenomena of globalisation and conflicts provide a better framework to understand the world. Since the beginning of the nineties, the foreign aid agencies have tried to respond to the conflicts prevalent in many parts of the world. This study attempts to analyse how this twin interest of promoting capitalism and managing conflicts has been played out in Sri Lanka's context. The period covered by the study begins with the inauguration of liberal capitalism in 1977, and ends with the collapse of the peace process in 2004.

56. POLITICS POWER DYNAMIC & DISASTER: A SRI LANKA STUDY ON TSUNAMI AFFECTED DISTRICTS by Sonali Moonesinghe. Colombo, ICES, 2007. 126p.
C. Rs.; 250.00 US $10.00

The study focused on three geographically separate administrative districts: Mullaitivu in the northern, Amparai in the eastern, and Galle in the southern regions of the country. This report is organized in six parts: Part I provides an overview of the study, primary objectives and areas of emphasis; Part 2 the methodology, scope and challenges, Part 3 deals with the background of each of the three districts and provides a contextual setting. Part 4 discusses local administration, institutions and community responses to disaster in each of the three districts, Part 5 raises some of the key points and major issues in the districts; Part 6 concludes and highlights prevailing conditions, socio-political dynamics specific to each district and its implication for relief, recovery and long-term development efforts.

57. THE PROTEAN LIFE OF LANGUAGE, by Regi Siriwardena. Colombo, ICES, 2001. 156p.
C. Rs.200.00; US $ 20.00

There are three other studies in this book, focussed in one way or another on language: an inquiry into a little - discussed subject, Shakespeare's language of sexuality: an essay on the Russian poet Push kin which considers how he could create great poetry virtually without metaphor; and a critique of the ideas of the dominant figure in academic linguistics today, Noam Chomsky. The whole book should be of equal interest to readers of literature and students of linguistics.

58. PROTECTION OF MINORITY RIGHTS & DIVERSITY. Edited by Nanda Wanasundera. Colombo, ICES, 2004. 421p.
C. Rs.650.00; US $ 20.00

This publication is consequent to the South Asian Conference on Diversity and Pluralism in South Asia held

59. THE PURE WATER OF POETRY: A NEWLY REWRITTEN AND EXTENDED VERSION OF THE AUTHOR'S MOST IMPORTANT CRITICAL STUDY, by Regi Siriwardena. Colombo, ICES, 1999. 42p.
C. Rs.100.00; US $ 5.00

A study first published by the author nearly ten years ago. In it, Regi Siriwardena dissents from some of the critical assumptions about poetry that have been most influential in the twentieth century. This study is the fruit of a lifetime's devotion to poetry by the author as teacher, critic, translator and poet.

60. QUESTIONS OF SRI LANKA'S MINORITY RIGHTS, by Jayadeva Uyangoda. Colombo, ICES, 2001. 142p.
C. Rs.200.00; US $ 15.00

This volume is focussed on the complexities encountered by the discourse and politics of minority rights in Sri Lanka. Its main focus is on the Tamil ethnic question, since Sinhalese-Tamil relations have constituted the kernel of Sri Lanka's minority issue.

61. RACE, IDENTITY, CASTE AND CONFLICT IN THE SOUTH ASIAN CONTEXT. Edited by Aameena Hussein. Colombo, ICES, 2004. 160p.
C. Rs.250.00; US $ 6.50

The volume is the outcome of a project of the International Centre for Ethnic Studies (ICES) which was aimed at bringing a South Asian perspective to the World Conference Against Racism (WCAR) to enrich the conceptual and policy debates and contribute to a comparative approach to issues of discrimination and racism. Contributors: Radhika Coomaraswamy, Markus Mayer, Darini Rajasingham-Senanayake, Ambika Satkunanathan.

- 62. REGIONAL POWERS AND SMALL STATE SECURITY: INDIA AND SRI LANKA, 1977-90, by K. M. de Silva. Delhi, Vikas, 1996. 388p.
K. Rs.850.00; US $ 15.00

A comprehensive and authoritative study of India's relation with Sri Lanka since the 1970s and especially of the Indian intervention in Sri Lanka in the 1980s. This book is based on a study of confidential documents relating to the Indian intervention. It is so based on interviews with all the principal figures involved in policy-making at the highest levels in India and Sri Lanka.

76. UNIVERSITY SPACE AND VALUES: THREE ESSAYS, by Nira Wickramasinghe. Colombo, ICES, 2005. 119p.
C. Rs.250.00; US $ 15.00

These three essays look at educational space with a special focus on the Sri Lankan university. They deal with architectural issues only in so far as they are grounded in the belief that architecture - like every creative endeavour - is political. Space is indeed fundamental in any form of communal life and in any exercise of power.

77. WALKING TO KATARAGAMA, by Sunil Goonasekera. Colombo, ICES, 2007. 675p.
C. Rs. 750.00; US $ 20.00

This study focuses on Kataragama as a social arena where many ethnic groups meet and well defined cultural identities co-exist. As a site of apparent cultural harmony Kataragama may have lessons for the wider community on how to foster multicultural values and a greater tolerance for diversity. It is also an anthropological study of pilgrimage

K. Rs.600.00; US $ 15.00

The essays in this volume describe women within the context of South Asian politics with special reference to the Sri Lankan situation. It focuses attention on historical perspectives, challenges, and opportunities for women in electoral politics, the role of political parties, and Sri Lankan Women's organisations. The results of a national field survey on the subject are analysed as a chapter of the book.

82. WORKING UNDERGROUND: THE LSSP IN WARTIME: A MEMOIR OF HAPPENINGS AND PERSONALITIES, by Regi Siriwardena. ICES, 1999. 75p.
C. Rs.150.00; US $ 10.00

Regi Siriwardena spent five years during the Second World War as a young student and, later, teacher, working for the Lanka Sama Samaja Party, which was then functioning illegally and underground. Regi tells the story of these years as a participant and witness who combines inside knowledge with detachment, having been withdrawn from the party for over fifty years and having no records to defend and no alignments to uphold.
