PREFACE TO INDEX.

IN compiling the Index to the Ordinances of Ceylon, the laws have been grouped together according to their subject matter (which has been arranged in alphabetical order) irrespective of the headings under which they are placed in the text.

This method has made the task somewhat more difficult owing to the necessity of splitting up and sifting the Ordinances, but it is hoped that it will render the Index more useful by increasing the facility of getting at the law on any particular point.

For the benefit of practitioners legal forms and precedents are collected together under the heading "Forms and Precedents"; and it was thought advisable that an important enactment as Sale of Goods Ordinance should be dealt with more fully than is, perhaps, strictly in accordance with the requirements of an Index.
